SPORTING COMMENT VIEWED FROM MANY ANGLES

Considerable interest is being taken by Kent County fans in the recently organized Chestertown baseball team, which will be composed of all home players. This team should receive the same support as was accorded the Chestertown baseball teams of the past two years, which were liberally supported by donations and by attendance at the games. The Chestertown team of this year does not ask contributions, but rather offers season tickets for $5 each, the receipts from which will form a nucleus, around which the finances of the club will be mustered. Let's all get together and buy season tickets—and keep Chestertown on the baseball map. The season will begin the last part of June, with big games here on July 4th.

Pheasant eggs to the number of 8325 will be brought into this State this season from Pennsylvania and hatched out, and distributed in the covers of the counties. The State Game Department has arranged for the eggs to be sent direct to the people, who have declared their willingness to hatch them, and raise the birds until they are six weeks old and then turned loose.

The Massey Athletic Association has started their ball rolling. They played Crumpton at Crumpton and won by the score of 9 to 7. They played the same team at Massey on April 29 and won, the score being 15 to 2. On Saturday, May 6, they journeyed to Cecilton and shut the Cecil boys out to the tune of 18 to 0. On Saturday, May 13, they played Middletown at that place and lost by the score of 7 to 2. Robinson was on the mound for Massey and pitched the best game for seven innings that has been pitched on Middletown diamond for some time, holding the fast Middletown team to three runs in seven innings. The boys from Massey did not find it very hard to locate the invincible Joe Clay's wonderful drop and hit him hard and often. The score at the end of the seventh stood 3 to 2 in favor of Middletown, when Robbie's pitching gears slipped and he walked two. Middletown tallied four times in the eighth inning. Nevertheless it was a fast game, only requirng one hour and twenty-five minutes to play it. Today Massey goes to Crumpton.

Washington College lost all five of the games on the southern trip last week. The southern teams have been playing for nearly a couple of months, and, consequently, are in about their top shape. On the other hand, Coach Kibler's boys had only played a few games, and had hardly "warmed up". Then, too, when you consider that the Washington College team is picked from a student body of about a hundred, while their opponents' teams had the choice of student bodies that ranged from six hundred to a thousand, what more could you expect?

Fourteen clubs in two major leagues are expending every effort to prevent the two New York teams from pulling down pennants again this year. The two clubs, however, strengthened as they have been by a liberal sprinkling of gold, should reach the wire first.

Morvich again proved the wonder horse by winning the $50,000 Kentucky Derby at Louisville Saturday last.

Rain prevented the Washington College-University of Delaware College baseball game at Newark on Thursday.

Mt. St. Mary's College and Washington College were playing perhaps the most important baseball game on the Washington College schedule when we went to press yesterday afternoon.

Chestertown High has two hard games on their schedule next week. On Friday, May 26, Cambridge High plays C. H. S. and the following day Beacom Business College plays C. H. S. at 10.30 a. m. This is the last game for Beacom's, it being the final game of a trip in Delaware and Maryland.

Washington College will hold its first annual Eastern Shore interscholastic championship track and field meet at Washington Field on May 27. It will be the first event of its kind ever attempted on the Shore. The games are to be given with the approval of the Public Athletic League and entries will be limited to athletes of the Eastern Shore. The entry list is open to the winners of the various county meets and to any and all bonafide students who can meet age and weight requirements. Suitable medals will be awarded to the winners. These medals will be distinctively emblematic of the championship of the Eastern Shore. Athletes from the three lower counties—Worcester, Wicomico and Somerset—will be furnished entertainment and quarters over Friday and Saturday nights. The events, which will be governed by Public Athletic League rules, follow:

80-pound Class—50-yard dash, standing broad jump and 440-yard relay (4 boys).

95-pound Class—60-yard dash, standing hop, step and jump and 440-yard relay race (4 boys).

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

The Adelphia Literary Society held a very interesting and entertaining open meeting in William Smith Hall on Friday, May 12. The first number on the program was a decalmation by Mr. C. M. Wingate. Miss Helen Rouse rendered a very beautiful vocal solo. The principal speaker of the night was Mr. Albert D. Mackey, of Elkton. Mr. Mackey is a member of the Maryland Legislature, in which capacity he had done a great deal of work for the college. He informed his audience as to the character of that work and of the men who were engaged in it. Then another vocal solo was rendered by Mr. E. H. Lewis. A short, but very entertaining speech was given by Dr. Gould. Mr. Graves rendered an excellent violin solo. Then followed a little vaudeville sketch entitled "The Bowery Night School," by J. T. McIntyre, which was presented by members of the Adelphia. As may be inferred from the title, the cast included most of those characters that may be found in that great American melting pot, the Bowery of New York. The scene was characteristic of most Americanization scenes enacted time after time in New York night schools. The school director, Herr Muller, the German representative in the cast, was played by E. H. Lewis. France contributed the teacher of the name of Monsieur Martine in the person of C. M. Wingate. The Irish element was presentd by Alderman Hogan, played by J. Messick. Of the students D. McMenamin played the part of the city tough called Mickey DeBite. Issy Letzosky, played by L. Sasse, brought with him the atmosphere of the Yiddish quarter. E. Kaiser did his bit for Holland by playing the part of the Dutchman, Hans Swartzhaimer. Out of little Italy came Guido Caparro in the guise of M. Levy. Chinatown sent its representative, G. Werner, and endowed him with the name, Gong Sing. The play was successful in every way. The Adelphia quartet, consisting of Messrs. J. Stenger, C. S. Purnell, A. P. Wheeler and J. F. Blake, rendered some selections. The meeting closed with the reading of the "Moonbeam" by August R. Wesner. After the meeting a dance was held in the gymnasium.

A dance, for the benefit of the Athletic Association, was held in the gymnasium on Saturday, May 13. Quite a number of people attended and made the affair comparatively successful.

A picture of the entire student body and faculty was taken by Mr. Waller on the campus, in front of William Smith Hall, on Wednesday, May 17.
