—The Young People's Guild of Emmanuel P. E. Church will camp at Newnam's Wharf July 5-15.

—The annual dinner of the Kent County Auto Club will be held at Betterton next Tuesday evening.

—Mr. Frank A. Hurlock, of Still Pond, is offering some exceptionally low prices in his adv. this week.

—Mr. J. Kellogg Smith, of New York, has moved his family to his recently purchased farm in Quaker Neck.

—A bronze statue of Pocahontas was unveiled at Jamestown with appropriate ceremonies last Saturday.

—Tolchester Beach has reopened for the summer and promises to be as attractive as during the past few decades.

—Soft crabbers at Rock Hall and other points along the bay and river shores have been catching soft crabs.

—Messrs. Blackway Bros. are doing a rushing business at their new plant, corner Cannon and Princess streets.

—The 100-acre farm of Charles Faulkner, in Cecil county, is reported to have been sold to Louis Miller, of Kent, for $6500.

—The advertisement of Robinson & Jackson, of Baltimore, grain commission merchants, appears in this issue of The Transcript.

—Elwood Taylor, who has served five of the eight years to which he was sentenced in the Maryland Penitentiary, has been paroled.

—Mr. P. M. Brooks has completed the installation of his mammoth engine, which runs his mill easily with plenty of power to spare.

—Mr. W. Irving Walker planted a peach tree last year which now has quite a number of peaches on it. This tree is only about four feet high.

—S. Scott Beck, Esq., attorney, sold at public sale Saturday three small houses, located on College ave., extended, to Mr. Mack Patrick for $1125.

—The wheat crop is now in a most critical state and whether or not our farmers get a good crop depends upon the weather of the next few days.

—While the few pea canneries that are operated in this section of the Eastern Shore are in full swing, the crop is, as usual, said to be unprofitable.

—Mrs. John M. Comegys has purchased of Benjamin Emory, trustee, a fine farm near Black's Station, for $14,750. Mr. Herbert Ford is tenant of the farm.

—Mr. J. Thomas Smith has one of the finest fields of wheat in this section, while Mr. Ramie Zeisal, residing near Mr. Smith, also has a fine field of wheat.

—The Cecil Star says that North East's new fire engine "is a beauty, right up to the times in every respect, of which the community can justly be proud."

—Mr. Clarence Usilton has accepted the agency for the Armour Fertilizer Co. for territory south of Middletown. Mr. Usilton is a hustler and will likely do a big business for this firm.

—Mr. William Lambert, the genial and accommodating proprietor of the Cannon Street Pool and Bowling Parlor, has joined the automobile ranks, having purchased a beautiful Durant auto.

—Mr. Walter Lusby has completed the seventh of a colony of bungalows on his farm adjoining the Tolchester summer resort, all of which are rented to the summer boarders for the entire season.

—Up in Delaware almost anything is liable to happen. A mad dog, or a supposedly mad dog, tried to get into the home of a farmer through a glass window. The farmer shot the animal, but it escaped!

—Thirty-one men were found eligible for road inspectors in examinations given in Baltimore by the State Employment Commissioner. Among the number is Mr. L. Wilbur Strong, of Chestertown.

—Mr. John H. Barnes, real estate broker, last week sold the following properties: The Trew or Cole farm at Lynch to Harry Kennedy and wife, for $3000; the Toulson or Hartman Farm, in Quaker Neck, to Joseph S. Trew for $4000.

—Mr. Belt Townshend recently paid the Washington College Athletic Association $100 rain insurance because the Gettysburg-Washington College baseball game was prevented by rain. Mr. Townshend adjusted the insurance in five days.

—The bonus for soldiers of the United States will cost about $3,845,659,481, spread over a period of 43 years from next January.

—Mrs. Harry C. Coleman, Mrs. T. D. Bowers and Mrs. W. H. Elliott are among the many in Chestertown who have most attractive flower gardens.

—Kibler Bros. have recently had a grain elevator erected at their yard on Cannon street, and have also made other big improvements to their growing business there. A track has been laid into the yard, which allows the local train to enter the same with coal and to receive grain, etc.

—The coldest spot in Chestertown is in the ice cream storage room of Gill Bros., where the temperature goes to ten below zero. This would make a mighty nice place to loaf in these days when the temperature is soaring close to 85 degrees and threatening at any time to climb higher.

—The Town Commissioners met in regular session on Monday night and in addition to routine business made the following appointments: Attorney to Board, Wm. Frazier Russell, Jr., Esq., bailiff, Mr. S. E. Cooper; night officer, R. E. Collins; construction engineer, G. B. Taylor.

—S. and N. Katz, Baltimore jewelers, have an adv. in this issue, introducing Mr. George Titter, of Chestertown, who will handle their line of jewelry in this section. Mr. Titter is well and favorably known, being a veteran of the recent war, and should make this firm a most efficient representative.

—The woods around Chestertown and throughout Kent county are filled with raspberries, dewberries and blackberries; also a liberal sprinkling of horse flies and mosquitoes. The former are not yet quite ripe, but the latter are on the job in sufficient numbers to make it interesting for berry-seekers when they do ripen.

—Chairman H. W. Vickers, of the State Conservation Commission, has directed deputy wardens to report whether pound nets in Cecil and Harford waters are placed and operated contrary to the laws' provisions. Regulations require that the nets shall not extend more than 800 yards from the shores.

—Holland's Island, once a show island in the Chesapeake, off the shores of Dorchester, can now be seen only at low tide. The dead are all that remain on the island, the inhabitants having all gone. The trees have all washed away. Twenty years ago the island contained 250 people, who made their livelihood by fishing, etc. Soon after that period the wash of the Chesapeake began its work of destruction.

—George O. Calloway, of Stevensville, Kent Island, who pleaded guilty to embezzling more than $70,000 as cashier of the Stevensville Bank, on Thursday was recommended by the Advisory Board for a parole, effective after eight months of his sentence have been served. If the recommendation is approved, Calloway will have about five weeks to wait. He was sent to the Penitentiary for a year and was sentenced at the fall term of the Circuit Court of Queen Annes Co. last year.

—Mr. C. Frank Wheatley has been appointed postmaster at Tolchester.

—The Town Commissioners of this town have passed an ordinance prohibiting chickens, ducks and other poultry from being allowed the use of the Chestertown streets as a free range. Numerous complaints have been made to the Commissioners regarding this.

—The following new books have been added to the Chestertown Public Library: Then Came Molly, by Harriett Ogden; Spotted Deer, by Elmer Gregor; Mr. Pim, by A. A. Milne; A Little Leaven, by Katharine Grey; She Blows! and Sparm at That, by William Hopkins; Ted and the Telephone, by Sara Bassett; The Odds, by Ethel Dell; Gentle Julia, by Booth Tarkington; The Prairie Child, by Arthur Stringer; Conflict, by Clarence Kelland.

—Mr. Albaugh, who resides on Princess street, being one of our city brethren who decided to make Chestertown his home a few years back, has the most advanced tomatoes we have seen recently, and unless some "dark horse" is keeping his work under cover, with the object of staging a most sensational last-minute show-down, we believe Mr. Albaugh will receive the top honors in the tomato-growing contest, which is, yearly, staged in the vegetable gardens of local truckers.

—The Ringgold Point Fishing Club made its first visit to their well-known "summer resort" this week. The party consisted of Messrs. W. R. Strong, Mr. William G. Smyth, Mr. George French, Mr. H. C. Brown and Mr. Edgar R. Pennington. While we have received only unofficial news from the fishing grounds, we suppose they measured from about ten inches up, and weighed from a pound or so up. Later: Official report says, "Weather hot, water wet, fishing fine." About 200 pounds of fine perch and hard heads were caught by these expert anglers.

—Five hundred or more Kent Co. young men who served in various branches of the military service of the nation during the world war, who would be directly affected by failure or passage of the Bonus Bill, passed by the recent session of the Maryland Legislature, to be submitted to the voters of Maryland as a referendum, will be glad to learn that the legal objections raised are gradually being wiped out, and that there is now every indication of the measure being submitted to the state electorate next November.

—The Board of Trustees St. Mary's Seminary, St. Mary's City, Md., the faculty and students, with the alumni, cordially invite the sons, grandsons and daughters of Senator James B. Ricaud, Delegate William S. Constable, Delegate Daniel Jones, Delegate Ebenezer Welch, of the General Assembly of Maryland, Session 1839, from Kent Co., Md., to be present June 13, 1922, 10.30 a. m., for the unveling of a memorial to Judge Joseph Harris Key, where honor is paid to each member individually of the Legislature of 1839, which created St. Mary's Seminary, the monument to the birth of the state.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN FILM TEEMS WITH HISTORICAL INTEREST

Nowhere in the annals of American history do we find such picturesque and swiftly moving events as took place in the days when the slaves were being freed. There are touches of color, snatches of love stories and daring deeds that make us realize how strenuous were the colonial days and how firmly has been implanted the spirit of America's freedom. Its carrying forward is a matter of record, but there is no more inspiring example no greater enjoyment than to turn back to yesterday and see in swift moving procession the lives of our forefathers.

Seventy years ago Harriet Beecher Stowe gave to the waiting world her "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Today it is greater than ever. Through the ever-reaching marvels of this decade the motion picture arm has come, and now the famous American novel is ready in screen form. It not only adds to the story, but gives it an impetus that is as great as this wonderful story itself. Nothing in the screening of this novel has been overlooked. Two years' time and $100,000 were spent, but the success that it is meeting with wherever shown is proof positive of the taste of the great American movie fan. Everywhere "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been the subject for discussion; staid and conservative critics have given it their unstinted praise.

It tells a beautiful story in a way that you will not soon forget. No matter how old or how young, there is enjoyment in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" film that you did not dream could be found. There are plenty of laughs, thrills and a wonderful love story. Everybody nearly has seen Uncle Tom's Cabin on the stage, but to see it on the screen is like a trip through the Sunny Southland, with all its joys and wonders.

The great production—"Uncle Tom's Cabin"—will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, next, June 12th and 13. Don't forget the dates. Don't miss seeing the picture.

In Memoriam

In memory of my beloved wife, Mrs. Elise Coxe, who left suddenly June 1, 1921.

It is lonely without you,
And I miss you every day;
My life is not the same to me
Since you were called away.

But peaceful may you rest, Dear Wife,
I love to breathe your name;
In life I loved you dearly,
In death I do the same.

Just a thought of affection,
And a heartache still for you,
In my heart your memory lingers,
Sweetly, tender, fond and true.
Sadly Missed By Her Husband.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Of the twenty-one contestants in the preliminary declamation contest only nine survived for the finals. The following were judged to be worthy of entering the contest during commencement: Howes, Wingate, Ruark, Byron, Griffith, Hicks, Knight, Ermine Jewell and Rebecca Brown.

At a recent meeting of the Dramatic Association the following officers were elected for next term: C. M. Wingate, Pres.; Mary Simpers, Treas.; W. J. Stenger, Bus. Mgh.; D. McMenamin, Stage Manager and C. Bankard, Prop. Mgr.

On June 13 the Adelphia Literary Society elected the following officials for next term: C. Wingate, Pres.; W. J. Stenger, V. P.; A. E. Goodrich, Rec. Sec.; Griffith, Cor. Sec.; E. Lewis, Treas.; L. Sasse, Chaplain; R. J. Bounds, Critic; and Enoch Nuttle, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Examinations began on Wednesday, June 7. For a time activities have ceased and every student is diligently digging away at his exams.
