THE TRANSCRIPT

Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md., as Second Class Matter.

THE County Commissioners on Tuesday declared a county tax rate of $1.54. This rate of $1.54 compares very favorably with the rate of $1.48 last year and is still way below the rate of $2.51, declared two years ago. There are many things responsible for this small increase of six cents in the tax rate. The assessment books of the county have been checked during the past few months and due to many removals from the county since the last revision, much personal property has been taken off the books. This has caused a decrease in the taxable basis of the county. The State Tax Commission has ordered a reassessment in Kent County and the Commissioners have provided $7000.00 for this purpose. Due to legislation passed at Annapolis last fall it was necessary to provide an increase of $6000.00 for the schools of the county this year. Kent County's share of the State Road fund is $21,000.00. These are a few of the items requiring additional expenditures.

There was quite a decrease in the certificate levy for the year ending June 15, 1922, over last year. The certificate elvy for the year ending June 15, 1921, was $57,000.00, while the certificate levy for the year ending June June 15, 1922, is $44,000.00, making a decrease of $13,000.00 in the certificate levy.

The State tax rate is 35 cents, making the total rate for county and state $1.89.

IN another column of this paper is a strong appeal made about a week ago to the Washington College alumni of Kent County.

In analyzing the list of contributors from this county issued by Chairman Coulbourn we find that of the sixty-seven contributions, thirty-three are women and that less than thirty per cent of the county alumni have subscribed. We fail to find in the list the names of many prominent business and professional men of this town and county who are former students of the college.

Washington College is certainly an important factor in the educational, social and business interests of the town, county and state. A contribution at this time means much more than one five years hence. If the alumni subscribe by Commencement Day, Monday, June 19, enough to pay off the indebtedness, an Endowment Campaign for $200,000 will be launched in the near future among the general public.

Under the new charter twelve members of the Board of Visitors and Governors are elected by the alumni and twelve are appointed by the Governor of the state. The balloting was large in the election held several weeks ago and the results of this election will be announced at the alumni dinner Saturday evening. Contributions at this time are vital to the college and will do much to make Washington College a college worth while. The strength of any college is in its alumni and if the alumni of Washington College are at all grateful for the advantages received at this venerable institution and wish it to continue and grow, it is necessary that they contribute money at this time.

FARMING NOTES

Items That Will Be Of Interest To Our Agriculturists And Others

The wheat crop, which is being cut in this section, promises to be the best for several years. While, in many cases, the straw is not big, the heads are well filled with big, plump grains.

The price of wheat yesterday was $1.13. There is some hope that the price will be a little better than this by harvest.

Mr. J. Thomas Smith is busy cutting one hundred and fifty acres of wheat, with better prospects than he has had for several years. Mr. Julian Jones is also cutting a big acreage.

When the Cunard liner, Carmania, pulled out of New York harbor on June 15 it had on board Warren Rice, George Worilow and Joseph Glackin, of Cecil county, the three Maryland boys who last October won the trip to the English Royal Stock Show at Cambridge, England, by defeating thirteen other state teams at the Southeastern Fair at Atlanta, Ga. They will stay six weeks in Europe.

At the annual meeting of the Maryland State Bankers' Association at Atlantic City in May, $500 was subscribed toward the support of the work of the boys' agricultural clubs of the state. The sum was all raised in a few minutes on the floor of the convention following the report of Judge Frank I. Duncan, of Towson, on the accomplishments of club members during the year 1921.

Enthusiastic response has greeted the announcement of the $200 premium offered by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company through O. K. Quivey, of the Industrial Development Department, for the most worthy club boy and club girl in any of the counties through which the B. & O. runs.

During the rush of farm work in hot weather much depends upon the efficiency of the farm horse. Lack of adequate horsepower has often hindered the progress of field operations and caused severe loss of time and money. There is a vast difference in the amount of work that different men can get from their teams. Moral: Do not neglect your farm horses; give them every attention possible. It will pay you big.

How much does it cost you to keep a $500 team and a $100 wagon standing fifteen minutes?

It takes time to pump and carry water for the horses and the live stock. All the while you are doing that, the team and wagon are earning nothing for you. If you had it would supply fresh, clean, running water anywhere you want it. Then you could turn the faucet, water the horses in a jiffy and get on your job a whole lot sooner.

It doesn't cost much to install an outfit like this and it soon saves enough time to pay for itself.

Aside from the pumping, it does the milking, the separating, the churning, the grinding and other barn chores, besides doing housework such as washing, ironing, sweeping, dishwashing, and sewing.

And first and last of all it furnishes electric light everywhere. The brightest, cleanest, safest light in all the world.

Let us tell you more about the outfit and the things it does!
