In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of Lillian Watson, of Skinner's Neck, Md., "Dear Pal of Mine."

I see your face in the sunshine,
I think of you as the flowers,
I hear your voice in the whispering leaves,
And your laughter in summer showers,
And because I think of these things,
They all remind me of you,
How like all the beautiful things God made
You ever were true blue.
I wonder if you know we miss you,
At church, at work and at play,
For the many little things you did
Will keep you near always.
When others have long forgotten
Your tender, loving smile,
I will ever pray we might meet again,
In God's Great Afterwhile.

Tuberculosis Clinic

On Friday, June 23, at 2.30 p. m., Dr. Bridges, superintendent of Eudowood Sanitorium, and Dr. Barnes, of the Md. Tuberculosis Association, will hold a clinic at Dr. Franklin's office, Chestertown, where anyone desiring a chest examination may have it free. The Kent County Branch of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association is giving the people this opportunity. Any patient needing treatment will be referred to their family physician.

In the evening of the same day there will be a popular Health Talk and moving pictures at Turner's Gallery, Betterton. Free to all.

Season Opens Here Next Wednesday

The baseball season for Chestertown's baseball team will be opened on next Wednesday, June 21, on Washington Field. The strong St. Michaels aggregation will be the opponents of the Chestertown team, and a good game is looked for.

The schedule will be made up so as to have two games a week home, on Wednesdays and Saturdays, whenever possible. A number of games have been booked and it is hoped to play not only nearby towns, but some strong teams from Baltimore, Wilmington and Chester.

This team will need the support of the home fans, if it is to be successful. It is composed of some of the very best players on the Eastern Shore and our people should turn out when possible to do so. The admission price is but 25 cents.

The team will be composed of such players as: Usilton, Blackway, Lee Robinson, Barber Bartley, and others equally good, who will show the fans some good ball.

Chestertown has always been able to support a baseball team. Let's give the Chestertown team a good crowd on next Wednesday and encourage them in their effort to keep Chestertown on the baseball map.

TO MAKE CAMPAIGN A SUCCESS

Senator W. F. Russell Makes A Strong Appeal To The W. C. Alumni of Kent County—Co-operation Necessary To Put The Campaign Across—Willingness, Rather Than Ability To Give, Characterizes To A Great Extent the List of Contributors So Far.

Senator W. F. Russell, a member of the class of '89, of Washington College, and chairman of the Kent County alumni, in the campaign for funds to pay off the indebtedness of the college, sent out about a week ago the following letter:

Chestertown, Md., June 9, 1922.
To The Alumni of Washington College, Kent County, Maryland.
Ladies and Gentlemen:

Washington College has helped us in the days that have passed. Now we have the opportunity to help her, and we should not fail to do so.

We are continuing our effort to pay the debt that is still standing; and the splendid Chairman of our Finance Committee, John I. Coulbourn, recently promised Governor Ritchie that the alumni would have the college out of debt by this commencement.

It is necessary that we raise about $50,000 to do this, and to hand the college over to the new Board free of all financial embarrassment.

This looks like a large amount, but if we all pull together and subscribe in harmony with our abilty the task will be promptly accomplished.

If you are unable to give anything kindly let us know; but do not condemn us for asking. It is your college, and each and every alumnus should have the opportunity to contribute.

It would be cowardly for us to stop now. It would mean the loss of all we have gained. We must either surrender or push on to victory.

We can win this fight with your cooperation; and certainly you are not going to turn your Alma Mater down in this hour of need. We are counting on you. Come and help us. The time is short. Send in your subscription without longer delay. You will never regret it.

Once more let me appeal to you for the great cause of education in the name of Washington College. Let us strike again, like our forefathers, and reach the goal.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE

The last informal dance of the season was held for the benefit of the Athletic Asociation in the College gymnasium on June 10. The largest crowd in attendance at any any informal dance at the college was present. The music was furnished by the Chestertown Five.

The Glee Club elected the following officers for next term: W. J. Stenger, President; E. H. Lewis, Secretary and Treasurer; C. Wingate, Business Manager; Professor Howell, Director of Music; W. D. Straughn, Dramatic Director; and W. Bankard and D. McMenamin, propetry man.

Just as soon as a man's collar starts to wilt away and he finds himself fighting that "all-fagged-out" feeling at the end of each day, it's time to learn what it means to be cool in a light, trim, airy

TROPICAL SUIT.

Men are wearing these suits more and more every year. The light flimsy suits are tailored just as nicely as the heavy woolen suits. They look just as well and wear well and are mighty sensible for men to get into when days begin to swelter.

The Tropical Suits are Ready at Vansant & Newsome's.

Palm Beaches in many colors, dark and light, many models, smart and youthful or staidly conservative. From $13.50 to $15.00.

Mohairs in silky effects and stripes; youthful as well as conservative models. From $13.50 to $16.50.
