KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Chestertown People Know How To Save It

Many Chestertown people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Ask your neighbor. Here is a Chestertown citizen's recommendation.

Mrs. S. E. Kirby, 101 N. Queen St., says: "Some time ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills with very good results when I was troubled with a slight disorder of my kidneys and backache." (Statement given August 17, 1916.)

On January 26, 1921, Mrs. Kirby said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney complaint and the cure has been a lasting one. I always recommend Doan's."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Kirby had. Foster-Milburn Co.,

movement, as has been shown in many ways, notably by the building of two miles of good road near Betterton by the colored preacher and his congregation.

The articles already written in the "Sun" have stated in great detail the urgent need for connecting all parts of the county with the main system of the State. The County Engineer has also shown many times how practical the proposition is. It is perfectly clear that roads can not be built without money. The only question left is whether the citizens want to borrow the necessary money or want to have many of their most beautiful and productive sections remain fastnesses of mud, shut off from the rest of the world for a considerable part of the year.

I have been for many years an advocate of good roads in Maryland, but the subject was never so forcibly brought home to me as during a visit to my home place in the Second District last February. I then injured my car to the extent of $50 during a short run through Turner's Creek Lane, near Still Pond Cross roads.

I have visited many sections of the county a number of times in the last month or so. Everybody wants roads, but there seems to be on the part of a few people some doubt as to the method of getting them. For the benefit of such people I should like to explain the provisions of the Enabling Act as well as the provisions of the Road Law of Kent County.

The Enabling Act of the last Legislature authorizing this loan was carefully drawn, with all the usual safeguards surrounding such loans. It provides among other things for the payment of the entire proceeds of the sale of the bonds, after the cost of printing and other outlays connected with their issue, to the County Commissioners who shall deposit the same in such bank or banks as the Commissioners may designate. It is further provided that the money derived from the sale of the bonds "shall be expended only for the purpose of constructing and permanently improving the public roads and highways of Kent County, and for no other purpose."

The local road law of Kent County is equally definite and clear as to the way in which roads shall be built or repaired. Such building and repairs are to be done under the direction of the Roads Engineer, who is appointed by the County Commisioners after proof of his competency and experience in road engineering work. The engineer shall also be approved as a competent road engineer by the State Roads Commission of Maryland and by the Chief Engineer thereof. H may be removed from office for "incompetency, neglect of duty or misconduct in office." In addition to these safeguards, it is especially provided that the County Engineer "shall not be interested, directly or indirectly, in any firm or corporation from which anything shall be purchased for the use of said roads and bridges, nor receive any commissions on such purchases."

I have especially consulted the road authorities in the state regarding Mr. Gault Applegarth, the present Road Engineer for Kent County. They still commend him as a man competent for his important work and speak highly of his personal integrity about which I have never had any doubt. In addition to these investigations I have taken the liberty of asking Mr. Applegarth what kind of work the Kent Construction Co., in which he has admittedly a stock interest, does, and where such work is done. He informs me that the work of the Kent Construction Co. is done in Delaware and in other places outside of Kent Co., and of course neither he nor his company would attempt to break the law of Maryland by being interested in any contract for the building of roads in Kent Co.

It seems from the above statement so clear that the Enabling Act passed by the last Legislature of Maryland ought to be ratified and confirmed by all citzens of Kent Co. interested in the expansion of the road system of the county that I content myself with this simple statement made above. Criticism and public discussion are, however, always to be desired, and if the citizens of Kent County have views against the improvement of the roads in the manner now proposed the present is the time to state such views openly and in public, so that they may be examined as fully as the arguments of those in favor of the building of the roads through the proposed loan may be scrutinized and criticised.

PORTLAND ATLAS CEMENT

ATLAS PORTLAND CEMENT

THE last quarter century has seen a big change in things built—a change largely caused by building materials—a change from temporary to permanent structures.

The skyscraper, the efficient factory, the modern home and farm would be impossible as we find them today—without concrete.

The concrete structure safeguards money invested, safeguards life, and safeguards the property or stock it contains. Through the last quarter century, used on all types of building, Atlas Portland Cement has come to be generally known as "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."

An AEROLUX Haven of Comfort

A sizzling, blistering summer's day—pedestrians passing with wilted collars and torrid dispositions—the folks next door chasing the elusive, shady portion of their open porch—and you as cool as the proverbial cucumber behind your AEROLUX Shades.

Are you missing it! Is your porch too hot for rest—too public for comfort? AEROLUX will convert it into the coolest, airiest, most comfortable room in the home.

On such a porch mother can relax from the cares of a summer household. Baby is always ready for the refreshing daily nap—no need to coax, for the porch is airy and secluded. It's an ideal place for sister to entertain. And dad—it's his favorite location! He claims the most comfortable corner the very first day—and is secluded enough so that he can slip off his shoes without being arrested.
