THERE have been no new developments in the Senatorial situation in this state this week. The candidates now in the field are making an active campaign for the nomination.

LABOR troubles seem to be the order of the day throughout the country. With coal strikes and railway strikes in force at the present time the labor situation is attracting much attention. Various means of settlement of the difficulties have been suggested and it is hoped that some agreement will be reached at an early date.

DUE to the great amount of rain in the county during the past six weeks, the wheat crop has been damaged from ten to twenty per cent. On account of the long delay in threshing many farmers have been compelled to thresh the wheat while the straw is wet. During the past few years the farmers of the county have had unusual misfortune with their wheat crops. Two years ago much wheat sprouted in the shock before threshing on account of wet weather. Last year a hail storm swept through one of the wheat sections of the county and practically destroyed all crops. This year we have had another wet season. Wheat holds the most important position in the crops raised by the farmers in this section. As this is a section of large farms it is quite a problem to find another crop to take the place of wheat. One of the representatives from the agriculture college advised the farmer to stop planting wheat and to plant other crops in its place. The question is to find something to take its place.

Straw is almost a necessity on the farm and it is necessary that enough wheat be raised for straw. From experiences of the past few years it has hardly paid to raise wheat on a large scale. With our large farms no one has as yet been able to find a successful substitute. Some have suggested smaller farms, but smaller farms mean more buildings and dividing of large farms.
