How much does it cost you to keep $500 team and a $100 wagon standing fifteen minutes?

It takes time to pump and carry water for the horses and the live stock. All the while you are doing that, the team and wagon are earning nothing for you. If you had it would supply fresh, clean, running water anywhere you want it. Then you could turn the faucet, water the horses in a jiffy and get on your job a whole lot sooner.

It doesn't cost much to install an outfit like this and it soon saves enough time to pay for itself.

Aside from the pumping, it does the milking, the separating, the churning, the grinding and other barn chores, besides doing housework such as washing, ironing, sweeping, dishwashing, and sewing.

And first and last of all it furnishes electric light everywhere. The brightest, cleanest, safest light in all the world.

Let us tell you more about the outfit and the things it does!

There's no obligation!

POULTRY

The most common of all the chicken lice, according to authorities, is the large body louse, which lives and feeds entirely upon the skin of the body of the host and without doubt, when badly infested, the skin becomes somewhat irritated. If oftentimes becomes inflamed and sores appear on the surface, but whether this condition is in all cases caused by biting of the lice or by the picking and scratching of the fowls is a question. The color of the body louse is yellow or straw color. Keep clean quarters and you will have few of these lice. When you find a flock lousy, clean up and dust your hens in a good louse-killing powder.

With hens in full moult and pullets not yet laying, except in a few exceptional cases, the price of eggs have begun to soar and will continue to do so for several months. Those having early hatched pullets will soon begin to reap their reward.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture is encouraging the use of a powder that is known as fluorid, which, in comparative tests with other powders, has been shown to be most effective as a louse exterminator. The tests in the laboratory demonstrated the lasting qualities of the flourid, which remains on the fowls, long enough to kill all the lice as thy are hatched from the eggs.

The raising of chickens in Kent has increased to such an extent in the past few years that the farmers are now confronted with a new danger and a most paramount one. While many of them are contemplating the increasing in the size of their flocks, there are very few who are erecting suitable and substantial buildings to care for their flocks of increased size. Increased numbers means that you must have increased housing facilities or you will, almost certain, meet with failure.
