THE MASTER IS COMING

They said: "The Master is coming
To honor the town today,
And none could tell at whose house or home
The Master will choose to stay
And I thought, while my heart beat wildly
What if he should come to mine
How would I strive to entertain
And honor the Guest divine!

And straight I turned to toiling
To make my home more neat;
I swept, and polished and garnished
And decked it with blossoms sweet.
I was troubled for fear the Master
Might come ere my task was done,
And I hasted and worked the faster,
And watched the hurrying sun.

But right in the midst of my duties,
A woman came to my door:
She had come to tell me her sorrows,
And my comfort and aid to implore;
And I said: "I cannot listen
Nor help you any today,
I have greater things to attend to,"
And the pleader turned away.

But soon there came another—
A cripple, thin, pale and gray—
And said: "O, let me stop and rest
Awhile in your home, I pray!
I have traveled far since morning,
I am hungry and faint and weak;
My heart is full of misery,
And comfort and help I seek."

And I said: "I am grieved and sorry,
But I cannot help you today;
I look for a great and noble Guest,"
And the cripple went away.
And the day wore onward swiftly,
And a prayer was ever in my heart
And a prayer was ever i nmy heart
That the Master to me might come.

And I thought I would spring to meet Him,
And serve Him with utmost care,
When a little child stood by me,
With a look of deep despair;
His face bore marks of tear-drops,
And his clothes were tattered and old;
A finger was bruised and bleeding,
And his little bare feet were cold.

And I said: "I am sorry for you;
You are sorely in need of care,
But I cannot stop to give it,
You must hasten on elsewhere."
And at the words a shadow
Swept over his blue-veined brow;
"Some one will feed and clothe you, dear,
But I am too busy now."

At last the day was ended,
And my toil was over and done;
My house was swept and garnished,
And I watched in the dusk alone;
Watched, but no footfall sounded,
No one paused at my gate,
No one entered my cottage door,
I could only pray and wait.

I waited till night had deepened,
And the Master had not come;
"He has entered some other door, I cried,
And gladdened some other home!"
My labor had been for nothing,
And I bowed my head and wept,
My heart was sore and longing,
Yet, spite of it all, I slept.

Then the Master stood before me,
And His face was grave and fair:—
"Three times today I came to your door,
And craved your pity and care;
Three times you sent Me onward,
Unhelped and uncomforted,
And the blessing you might have had was lost,
And your chance to serve has fled.
O, Lord, dear Lord, forgive me!
How could I know it was Thee?
My very soul was shamed and bowed
In the depths of humility.
And he said the sin is pardoned,
But the belssing is lost to thee;
For comforting not the least of Mine,
Ye have failed to comfort Me."
