—The coming of Paul M. Pearson to Chestertown on Monday evening, Oct. 16, to give a recital in the auditorium of the High School for the benefit of the Chestertown Public Library will be of interest. Mr. Pearson will present an evening of rare enjoyment. He is already a play writer of distinction and a student of dramatics at Harvard. His subject, "Rhymes of Many Races," is attractive in itself. Then the fact that the money is being made for a worthy cause is enough to warrant attendance. Tickets will be on sale each library day, Tuesday, 2-5 p. m.; Saturdays, 2-5 and 6-8 p. m.

State Sunday School Convention

The Maryland S. S. Association will celebrate the 80th anniversary of its organization in the old historic First M. E. Church of Baltimore Oct. 18-20. In addition to the conferences, a wonderful program has been nearly completed. Dr. G. A. Hulbert, pastor of Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church, gives one of the greatest Adult Bible Class addresses in the U. S., and he will give this address as the opening and keynote of the Convention.

Wm. H. Ridgely, the iron manufacturer of Coatesville, Pa., will open the eyes of the whole state as to the relation of business to religion.

The wizard speaker of Washington, D. C., Dr. C. C. Chappell, of the great Representative Church, which is not large enough to hold the audience, will also speak upon an adult topic.

Mrs. Maud Junkin Baldwin, International Elementary Superintendent, will lead the elementary work of the convention.

Mayor Albert W. Roper, of Norfolk, has also accepted an invitation to be present.

John L. Alexander, the greatest young people's worker in the world, and the head of the International S. S. Association staff of young people's work, will speak. Also Dr. Hugh S. Magill, Field Secretary of the National Education Association.

A pageant, "The Lamp," will be put on the first night of the convention.

DEATHS

Mr. Dave Anderson, of Millington, died on Thursday in that town from a complication of diseases, after an illness of two weeks. The funeral will be held today, Saturday, at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Wilson, pastor of Trinity Church, interment at Sudlersville cemetery. J. A. Tobin, undertaker. The pall bearers will be Leonard Wilson, Liston Pennington, Paul Comegys, Charles Legg, Harry Stevens and Frank Miller.

Mrs. Lillian Hynson Carpenter died Wedensday, Oct. 4, at South Norwalk, Conn. The funeral will be held today, Saturday, at 11 a. m., at Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chestertown, conducted by Rev. Mr. Sheen, of St. Paul's P. E. Church. The pall bearers will be: W. B. Copper, Allan A. Harris, Thomas W. Perkins, James G. Beck, Eben F. Perkins and Jacob Thompson. Interment in Chester cemetery. C. L. Dodd, undertaker. Mrs. Carpenter was formerly Miss Lillian Hynson, of this town, the niece of Mrs. Cahall and Mrs. Moody. She is survived by a daughter, Katherine. Many friends here remember her with much pleasure and regret her early death. Being a woman of remarkable talent and ability, she became prominent in club life in New York, where she has resided for many years.

Mrs. Araminta Josephine Judefind, nee Harper, widow of the late Wm. K. Judefind, died at the home of her son Prof. A. L. Judefind, Baltimore, Sept. 24, aged 83 years. She leaves also another son, Rev. W. B. Judefind. Her sons are members of the firm, Judefind Bros., music publishers. Death was due to pneumonia. Funeral was held the following Wednesday, interment in Lorraine cemetery.

An Interesting Will Case

The will case of Wm. M. Paca was tried at Elkton last week. The object was to break the will of the late W. B. Paca, a well-known resident of Queen Anne's county. By his will Mr. Paca made several bequests to personal friends, gave the family portraits to the Peabody Institute of Baltimore, his family silver to the vestry of Emmanuel P. E. Church, of Baltimore, and directed the rest of his estate sold, the proceeds to be paid over to the Johns Hopkins University building fund.

More than twenty witnesses from Centreville and other parts of that county testified in the case. During the progress of the trial the entire family silver, consisting of a hundred pieces, left by Mr. Paca, was brought into the court.

The executors were represented by C. M. Howard and Mr. All, of Baltimore, W. P. Constable and Henry Constable, of Elkton, and Madison Brown, of Centreville. On the other side were Messrs. H. H. and L. W. and Morris K. Barroll, of Chestertown, James Evans, Henry Warburton and Joshua Clayton, of Elkton.

The Rasin heirs, who formerly lived in this county near Pomona, were interested in the breaking of the will. The jury's verdict sustained the will.

NEW FALL SUITS
For Men and Young Men.

No jazz effects, no exaggeration in clothes or color; no extremes except the extreme of good taste, but there's life in the patterns, originality in the designs and the most becoming models the American designers have presented for years.

Sport Models

A sport model simply means a particularly easy-fitting coat, with and without pleated back with belt and patch pockets.
Price $18.00 to $25.00.

"Overcoats"

We framed up our clothing proposition this fall so as to Suit and Overcoat every man. Here are three overcoats that will lead in popularity. The plain straight loose single breasted coat. The double breasted, all around belted model. And the regular conservative model. Price $22.50 to $35.00.
