THE COMING ELECTION

The election for a U. S. Senator, a Congressman and the privilege of voting on the Constitutional Amendments will take place Tuesday, Nov. 7, 1922. Have you posted yourself on the amendments? Are you prepared to cast an intelligent vote on the provisions embodied in these amendments? You have less than three weeks to determine which way you vote. There are important measures embodied in these amendments and you should consider them well before voting on them. There are two candidates for the U. S. Senate—Hon. Cabel Bruce, the Democratic candidate, and Senator Joseph I. France, the Republican candidate. There are also two candidates for Congress—Hon. T. Allan Goldsborough, the Democratic candidate, and Mr. Chas. J. Butler, the Republican candidate. Mr. Goldsborough is the present Congressman; he has made an exceptional representative and deserves to be returned. Hon. Cabel Bruce is a man so well qualified for the duties of a U. S Senator that there can be no logical reason that we know of why he should not be elected by an overwhelming majority as his opponent, Senator France, who is one of the Senators from this state, has displeased many of his party constituents by the course he pursued and has been looked upon by the voters of the state as entirely unsatisfactory as a Maryland Senator. Vote for Bruce and Goldsborough and we believe you will make no mistake.

A BIG WEEK FOR CHESTERTOWN

The Business Men's Association of Chestertown have arranged for a big week in Chestertown from Oct. 23-28. The merchants are going to decorate their show windows and will make special inducements for people to visit here during that week. Every business concern in town should give every assistance possible to make the efforts of the Business Men's Association a grand success. The Business Men's Association is a body of the business men of Chestertown who have banded together to improve Chestertown and every other town in the county. Their motives are unselfish. They realize that the business conditions in the county and in the towns throughout the county are not as good as they should be, therefore they are endeavoring to improve them. Just what program will be outlined for the general improvement throughout the county has not been made as far as we know, but we are quite sure it will be on general lines of advancement and benefit for the entire county. Don't let little personalities get the better of you. Overlook them and act on broader lines. Make up your mind to be a helper and not a destroyer. Let's work together and not apart. Much can be accomplished by co-operation. Very little can be done by pulling apart. Make prices interesting and attractive and in time you will see better towns and a better county. Don't get impatient because you do not see immediate results, but if the work is kept up results are bound to follow. Large things are accomplished by small beginnings. Mr. F. D. Amburgh, a million dolar speakr, will be here Thursday next, Oct. 26, and will deliver his famous lecture, "How to Fail." Every citizen in the county who can should hear Mr. Amburgh.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES HERE

A large and representative audience, composed of both men and women, assembled at the Lyecum Theatre, Chestertown, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 17, and heard the Democratic candidates of the United States Senate and Congress, Messrs. W. Cabell Bruce and T. Allan Goldsborough, deliver interesting and highly instructive speeches on the issues of the campaign, which will culminate in the election on Nov. 10. Republican inefficiency, the tariff and many other issues were dealt with by the speakers.

Mr. Robert Moffett introduced Senator W. F. Russell, who acted as chairman of the meeting and introduced the speakers in his usual happy style.

Mr. Robert E. Lee was the first speaker to be introduced. He spoke of the integrity and efficiency of the two candidates and urged the people to send these men, whom they could be proud of, to Washington.

Mr. Lee was followed by Mr. Goldsborough, the candidate for re-election to Congress from the First District. He always impresses his hearers because of his diligent and conscientious work in the House of Representatives. He dwelt on the hardships which the new tariff will bring upon the country by having to pay so much more for all manufactured articles, but more especially for the farmer because the tariff builds such a high wall around the country that they have no foreign market for their produce and also that in spite of the high tariff our revenue will be smaller than under the Underwood tariff on account of the imports being so small in a high tariff country.

Mr. Bruce made a forcible address, telling of the duties of a Senator and criticizing his opponent for leaving this country during the session of Congress and spending a long time in Russia, sympathizing with the Soviet government. He urged all Democrats to vote on election day and not to be indifferent as to the result as good statesmen are badly needed at this time.

The meeting was a decided success and has caused many favorable comments regarding the Democratic candidates.

COME TO CHESTERTOWN DURING PRE-HALLOWEEN WEEK, OCT. 23-28

The merchants of Chestertown are going to all kinds of efforts to give to the public something new in the way of a Pre-Halloween Celebration.

Everybody should come to town and see the wonderful window and store decorations that are being worked out in detail for your special benefit. Everything is in Halloween Regalia—black cats are stalking about, ghosts galore will be present, not to say anything of witches and scarecrows—displays of corn, pumpkins, apples, etc., will be interesting to look upon.

All stores are offering goods at special reduced prices—now is your opportunity of getting real bargains. Bring in the children—they will have the time of their lives—long to be remembered.

This Halloween celebration will even better last year's Christmas celebration and all who took part in that can remember the great enjoyment to young and old.

The festivities will be under the direction of The Chestertown Business Men's Association, who have offered cash prizes for the three best window and store displays.

THE MILLION-DOLLAR SPEAKER

F. D. VAN AMBURGH

The Association has secured Mr. F. D .VanAmburgh, of New York City, nation-wide speaker—possibly the best in America. He will give his address, "How To Fail," in the auditorium of Washington College on Thursday evening, Oct. 26, at 8 o'clock. It is a pleasure for the Business Men's Association to invite men and women—young and old—from all parts of the Eastern Shore to come and hear Mr. VanAmburgh.

Mr. VanAmburgh has the reputation of being a pleasing and forceful speaker, a man with a message, a message that is not soon forgotten. His addresses are full of humor, useful information, facts worth knowing, and on serious subjects, but presented in a way that permits of his audience enjoying many hearty laughs. He leaves his audience good natured as well as inspired. Every address he delivers is based largely on personal experiences. There is nothing of fiction or theory in what he has to say.

Mr. Van Amburgh is not a preacher nor a teacher, but just a man who has come up from the ranks, who has had a most interesting and varied experience in a way that makes his work of unique and exceptional service to men who are seeking success in any activity.

His address, "How To Fail," has been delivered continuously over a period of five years and has been dclared to be the equal of Dr. Conwell's famous lecture, "Acres Of Diamonds"—save that it is not a story—but actual experience in life that can be applied by others and used in every-day life and business.

It is hoped that our people—farmers, bankers, business men, merchants—everyone—will come to hear Mr. Van Amburgh, then and only then will the Business Men's Association feel that their efforts and large expenditure of money spent to get Mr. Van Amburgh will have been successful.

An idea of the value of the speaker can best be obtained from the fact that you can hardly secure his services. He has spoken from Maine to California, from Oregon to Florida, and comes to Chestertown after giving three addresses in Newport News, Norfolk and Richmond.

Come out and hear "How To Fail"—it is an inverted presentation of the all-important DETERMINATION necessary to SUCCEED.
