BRUCE ELECTION SEEMS ASSURED

ENTHUSIASM FOR CANDIDATE ON TRIP—FRANCE WORKERS ARE DISCOURAGED.

With the campaign of William Cabell Bruce, Democratic nominee for the United States Senate, practically at a close, a sum-up of the situation would indicate his election by a sweeping majority if the voters carry out their promise to go to the polls on Tuesday, November 7, and vote to "restore Maryland's prestige in the Senate." One of the strongest auguries for Democratic success is the discouragement apparent on every side among the workers for Joseph I. France, Republican, the present incumbent.

The tour of the State of Mr. Bruce and the similar trip of Senator France have been in sharp contrast. Mr. Bruce has been received on every hand by gatherings of the most representative citizens of the communities he visited, and the promises of support have been so spontaneous that there can be no doubt that, not only will the Democratic registered vote come out in force for him on election day, but that a record vote of Independent and Republican men and women will be cast for Mr. Bruce. Probably nowhere were conditions more strongly presented than on the Eastern Shore. There Mr. Bruce received splendid receptions at every stopping point, and the France party on the other hand were constantly disappointed because local leaders of their party failed to greet Mr. France, or were announced as openly antagonistic. On only two occasions did conditions warrant Mr. France attempting to make an address. In fact similar conditions exist all over the State, and at no time in the history of Maryland has the nominee of a party been given such a cold shoulder by the leaders of his own party as has Senator France in his present campaign.

One of the most striking facts of the campaign has been that Mr. Bruce, no matter what section of the State in which he stood at the time, has been entirely consistent with his past record of constructive accomplishments, with the declarations of his party platform, and with his own "creed" as laid down in his address of acceptance. Mr. Bruce is a high standard candidate who is not afraid to announce his convictions in any part of Maryland.

In sharp contrast is the course of Senator France. In one section of the state he blows one way, and in another section of the state he blows another. While true of practically all his policies, there could be no better illustration than his various stands on Bolshevism, and those theories of red-Socialism which threaten the very foundations of the Republic. Only a few weeks ago an extremely radical foreign element was shouting the praises of Senator France, who had mounted the platform, along with other speakers of the most virulent Socialistic type. Some of these men advocated the most extreme theories, and yet Senator France saluted the gathering as "you splendid young liberals." Last week Senator France was busy in parts of Maryland, where true Americanism runs practically one hundred per cent., explaining that he was not friendly to Bolshevism, and that his course both in and out of the Senate, which led to his being called the "unofficial ambassador of Russia," was only a move to bring about a resumption of trade relations. Senator France now stands exposed by his own words as the true friend of neither side of thought, and his actions will undoubtedly receive a sweeping repudiation on election day.

Another remarkable condition of the present campaign is the practically unanimous view of the press of Maryland, and it may be said of the press of the nation, that Senator France is not fit to longer hold the post of United States Senator. He has been denounced on every side as an obstructionist, as a blatant demagogue, as a man who has cost his state dear in both reputation and in federal appropriations, and whose advocacy of Bolshevic thought on the floor of the United States Senate has given encouragement to that group of extreme foreign radicals who live upon our shores, but who have never assimulated American ideals, and who are constantly plotting against the government.

Reports from every section of Maryland would indicate that the voters are thoroughly aroused to the true issues of the campaign and that the better thought of the community will urge an outpouring at the polls on election day that will forever still the cry that a man of Senator France's caliber is "good enough for Maryland."

Seaford Man Digs His Own Grave

William J. Morris, octogenarian, of near Seaford, has made all preparations for departing this world. He has dug his own grave in the Concord cemetery and placed a concrete vault therein for the casket containing his body, in addition to selecting his pallbearers, officiating minister, etc., for his burial. While he has made all arrangement for burial, Morris looks good for many years to come. During a home-coming of the "Sons of Concord," held in the village in August, he and James Cannon, another octogenarian, of the hamlet, danced several jigs and otherwise entertained the visitors.

Farmers, List Your Repair Needs

It would be hard to find a farmer who at some time or another had not lost valuable time waiting for necessary repair parts. Take this territory and total up the time lost in this way and it will astonish you. And all because repairs are not odered as early as they should be.

There is no better time than right now—just before the busiest season on the farm—to go over your machines carefully, make a list of repairs you are likely to need and send it to us. With this list in our hands, we can order our stock so as to be prepared to meet every call promptly.

Repair part service is a necessary part of our business. We realize what it means to you in time and money to get what you need at once. Help us to help you by making up your list now and sending it in to us.
