THE TRANSCRIPT

Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md., as Second Class Matter.

FROM all reports, it would seem that the Turks rather than the Allies are trying to dominate the Lusanne Conference.

THERE is to be a public meeting Tuesday night in the Court House, Chestertown, for the purpose of forming a Boy Scout organization in Kent County. A Boy Scout Council has been appointed, made up of business men of this county, who have consented to give part of their time to the organizing and maintenance of this organization. At a recent meeting of the Council it was decided to call a public meeting to get the opinion of the public as to whether they want a Boy Scout organization in Kent County and we hope the people of the county will attend this meeting and show the Council that they are back of them in this worthy movement.

THAT the farmers are loosing money on the food they produce; that they are utterly unable to meet the increased taxes; that the sons of farmers, seeing the impossible conditions, are leaving the farms—are the serious conditions facing the present Congress. The November election has been an eye opener to the "majority" of the fact that the fostering care they have shown to corporations and the rich by reducing the income tax and other legislation favorable to them—is meeting with great disfavor with the masses. The "Progressive Farmers' Bloc" bids fair to be a powerful factor. The grangers from all over the country are urging larger agricultural representation on the Federal Reserve Board, so that in case of necessity a favorable loan may be secured in planting the crops. They are also asking that the government organize a system of co-operative marketing, which will enable the farmer rather than the speculator to reap the profit of the crops. If Congress fails to offer some relief we cannot but feel calamitous results will follow, for surely the backbone of the country is the farmer.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Mrs. James Dunbracco has returned from the hospital in Baltimore much improved in health, we are glad to say.

Miss Maude Duyer was the guest of friends in Baltimore this week for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Coleman spent Wednesday in Wilmington, Del.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Bowers entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of Christ M. P. Church Monday evening.

Mr. William B. Stafford was called this week to the bedside of his brother, Carroll Stafford, of Wilmington, who suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Henry Rigby Walls, son of Mrs. Fannie D. Walls, of Church Hill, and the late Medford Walls, and Miss Rachel Darby, of Steelton, Pa., were married on Monday of last week at noon at the First Prebysterian Church at Steelton.

Mr. Philip Wilmer, of Baltimore, was home several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Loud have moved into town for the winter, occupying their home on High street.

Messrs. Merritt Brown and Cloyd Benn, of Altoona, Pa., are guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Wm. H. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Davis, of New York City, are the guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Samuel Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Toulson and daughters, spent Sunday the guests of their son, Dr. John M. Toulson, at Salisbury.

Mr. Irving Sparks, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sparks, was home for the week-end.

Mr. Henry Kratzer, wife and daughter, left their beautiful home on the Chester river, Quaker Neck, for the city of Washington, D. C., where they will spend the winter. Mr. Philip Kratzer will manage the farm.

Mr. Graham Nelson, of Chester, is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Thomas Holdson.

Miss Beaston, of Middletown, Del., has been the guest of Miss Estalena Derringer.

WEDDINGS

Miss Helen Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams, of Rock Hall, and Mr. Rufus Atkins were married in Chestertown by the Rev. O. E. Jones Dec. 5. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Myrtle Collyer and Mr. Carroll Willson, Jr. The young people will reside near Rock Hall.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beck in Baltimore when Miss Florence Beck, of St. Louis, became the bride of Mr. M. J. Mandelbaum, of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Abbott, rector of Grace and St. Peter's Church, performed the ceremony.

DEATHS

On Friday evening, Nov. 4, in Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, Del., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Mamie A. Turner, beloved wife of A. S. Turner, of Chestertown, fell asleep in Jesus.

Everything that a loving husband, devoted boys and kind friends could do to alleviate her suffering and to cheer and comfort her in her affliction was done.

Throughout her illness, Mrs. Turner displayed the same beautiful example of Christian fortitude, gentleness and thoughtfulness for the welfare of others that characterized her whole life. With a simple, child-like faith she awaited her Master's summons, and when in the silent watches of the night the death angel came, she responded to the call with unfaltering faith and readiness.

In her girlhood days Mrs. Turner accepted Christ as her Saviour, and her whole life was spent in advancing her Master's cause and in doing his work. Being of a gentle and affectionate disposition, she was ever ready to help others who were less favored than herself. The troubled and distressed always found in her a true friend.

Her Christian life will always prove an inspiration of loyal and unselfish service.

In her home Mrs. Turner was all that a faithful wife and kind mother could be.

The perplexing cares and troubles that confronted her loved ones all banished in the genial light of home—troubled brows were smoothed and burdens lightened by words of comfort and encouragement.

The hearts of all her friends go out in sympathy to her husband, sons, and brothers in their distress. The home is desolate—one loved form is not there—one loved voice is forever stilled in death. Mother is gone. They have lain her low in the ground. Though their hearts by the strongest ties were connected, yet those ties are broken, and she has passed from this vain world and has taken up her abode with the tenants of the tomb.

But what a blessed heritage she has left to her loved ones—a name beyond reproach; a life spent in the service of the King!

Life is but a preparatory school to the Great Beyond, and when the Master Teacher shall call us up higher, may we be as well prepared to give an account of our stewardship as was this Christian woman,

"We shall meet her some bright morning,
By the Tree of Life so fair,
Many loved ones wait our coming
In the upper Garden there."

A FRIEND.

Mrs. Turner is survived by her husband, Mr. A. S. Turner, and two sons, Frank C. and A. Sidney Turner, of Chestertown; also three brothers, Jos. F. Crew, of St. Mary's Co.; Clarence W. Crew, of Wilmington and Charles H. Crew, of Kent. Funeral services were held from her late home on Water street Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. N. O. Gibson, assisted by Rev. W. E. Habbert, of Wilmington, and Rev. Jester, of Baltimore. The bearers were her three brothers, Joseph F., Clarence W. and Charles H. Crew, M. M. Carr, T. D. Bowers and Samuel C. Loller. Interment in Chester cemetery. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Samuel R. Tucker died at his home near Rock Hall on Monday, Dec. 11, after a long illness, of complication of diseases, aged 64 years.

He leaves three sons, Thomas A., at home, and Samuel R, Jr., and Hyland Tucker, of Baltimore, also three brothers, James, Hicks and Harry Tucker, and two sisters, Mrs. Albert Story and Miss Laura Tucker.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from his late home at 10 a. m., conducted by Rev. Mr. Raum. The bearers were Charles M. Wood, Elwood Burgess, Lawrence Stevens, Ernest Wilson, Ringgold Jones and Roy Strong. Interment at Church Hill. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mrs. Alice L. Newcomb, widow of the late William W. Newcomb, died suddenly of heart trouble Tuesday afternoon at the home of her son, Mr. Clarence Newcomb, in Chestertown, aged 60 years. She leaves two children, a daughter, Mrs. Agnes Fowler, and one son, Mr. Clarence Newcomb, also two sisters, Mrs. William E. Reed, of Chester, Pa., and Miss Virgie Matthews, of Chestertown, and two brothers, John E. Matthews, of Chestertown, and Stewart R. Matthews, of Wilmington.

Mrs. Newcomb was a lady of most endearing charms. She was well known to a wide circle of acquaintance, who loved to be with her and talk to her. Her death has removed one of the most beloved people in our neighborhood.

The bearers were as follows: Frank Truitt, Herbert Council, Harold Matthews, Wm. Faulkner, D. B. Ford, Howard Strong.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Omar E. Jones, interment in Chester cemetery. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mrs. Sarah M. Hurtt, wife of Alfred C. Hurtt, died at the home of her son, Austin G. Hurtt, of near Church Hill, Thursday. She was 76 years old.

Mrs. Hurtt was a native of Kent county and resided near Galena until a few years ago, when with husband she went to Queen Anne's county and has since made her home with her son.

She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. James R. Jefferson, of Cheseapeake City, and Mrs. John T. Lusby, of Trenton, N. J., and one son, Austin G. Hurtt, of Church Hill.

Dr. David A. Sparks died at the home of his niece, Mrs. James M. Archibald, Kennedyville, Friday morning, Dc. 15, 1922, aged 76 years. He is survived by one brother, Wm. R. Sparks, of Church Hill. Funeral services will be held tomorrow, Sunday, at Kennedyville at 1 p. m., conducted by Revs. B. B. Staats and J. F. Wooden. The bearers will be his nephews. Interment in Crumpton cemetery. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

SECOND NUMBER of the COLLEGE LYCEUM COURSE

The Caveny Company

J. FRANKLIN CAVENY, Cartoonist and Clay Modeler.
MARIE M. CAVENY, Soprano Soloist.
PAULINE WOODS, Piano Soloist and Accompanist.

Washington College, Monday, Dec. 18, 1922, 8 P. M.

The Caveny program is a blending of the arts of painting, sculpture and music, presented so as to inspire and entertain.

Mr. Caveny, besides being a talented artist, is also an expert clay modeler. He accompanies his work with humorous monolog readings and impersonations.

Miss Caveny has won a high place in theLyceum through her sweet singing and charm of personality. Both she and Miss Woods, her accompanist, have the happy faculty of choosing selections that are appreciated not only by the critics, but by everyone who loves music.

The Caveny Company entertained the American soldiers in France, Belgium and Germany, and as a mark of especial esteem, they were chosen to give the last entertainment in Paris in 1919. Besides having entertained in the United States, they have appeared with signal success in Canada, Mexico, Central America and Europe.

Jane Addams says of them: "They have several times entertained at Hull House and always to the delight of our people."

Other numbers in the Lyceum Course will be as follows:

JANUARY 26—Robert Bowman in character portrayals.
FEBRUARY 14—The Electa Hunt Concert Company—violin, cello, piano and voice.
MARCH 3—Anne Theresa Davault, Reader.
