—The suit of Joseph Walbert's children against Benjamin H. Coburn for $25,000 damages will be tried in the Cecil County Court at Elkton. Mr. Walbert was struck and killed on the state road near Rock Hall by Mr. Coburn's auto.

—At the annual meeting of the Inter-State Dairymen's Association held last week at Hotel Adelphia, Philadelphia, Mr. Edward Pennington, of Kent County, was re-elected a director of the organization to represent Kent and Queen Anne's counties for another term.

—Mr. H. Stockton Startt was paying 53 cents a pound for turkeys Thursday. He has purchased over $1000 worth to date at about this figure. Mr. Startt and Mr. Claude Truslow will be buying Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week. The price promises to keep up next week.

—A delegation favoring a state road to Tolchester appeared before the Co. Commissioners Tuesday asking that the money to be appropriated next year be spent on this road. Supt. Frank Wheatley, in urging the improvement, stated that they employed 72 people, Mr. Stine 30 and Mr. Noland 4; that $16,000 is spent yearly for labor, paint, etc. The distance to be covered is 2.8 miles with an estimated cost of from $40,000 to $60,000.

—The schools in Kent County will be closed for the Christmas holidays from the afternoon of Thursday, Dec. 21, 1922, to the morning of Wednesday, January 3, 1923.

—It is rumored generally that there is a federal prohibition agent on the Shore and will remain here indefinitely. There have been many suspected places on the Shore under surveillance for some time, it is said, and the persons suspected have been aware of this and have been watchful themselves.

—The general agricultural situation in the United States has improved slightly, as indicated in the monthly agricultural review of the Department of Agriculture. Cotton, grain and livestock products' prices, as well as prices of things farmers have to buy, have risen slowly.

—There is no county in Maryland that has as much waste land as Dorchester; with 368,000 acres in all, but 201,000 acres are under cultivation. This is caused by a large percentage of marsh land that probably never will be made suitable for production purposes.

—In order that the patrons of R. R. one, from the Chestertown postoffice, may receive the Centreville weekly papers, which arrive at the postoffice at 11 a. m. on Saturdays, the postmaster has been directed to hold the carrier until after the arrival of the above mail on Saturdays only.

Capt. Clark was born in St. Mary's county Oct. 26, 1847. He entered the employ of the Chester River Company in 1882 as captain of the steamer "Corsica." He later opened the route to Centreville Landing with the steamer "B. S. Ford."

—This is the season of the year when Kent property owners, especially along the highways, should exercise the utmost vigilance in protecting their winter greens. The gathering of Christmas greens became such a serious matter, because of vandalism practiced, that the Legislature of 1918 enacted a special law covering the subject. This law makes it a misdemeanor, with a fine of $25 or 90 days imprisonment, or both, to remove, injure, or destroy any trees or shrubs without the written consent of the owner. The State Board of Forestry is co-operating with landowners of Kent County in the enforcement of this law.

We are sure that all who avail themselves of the privilege of hearing them will have a rare treat ahead of them. Their advertisement will be found on page 4 of this issue.

—Mrs. Evelyn Harris has returned home for the Christmas holidays after an extended trip out west. She is glad to get back to the state of good roads, though she is impressed with the wonderful organization of the Missouri farmers and how far ahead they are in making the most out of their crops. While out there she visited twenty-nine towns and she found them all interested and enthusiastic about farm improvement. After Christmas Mrs. Harris will be sent to Pennsylvania.

—A force of Chestertown men were erecting the big Christmas tree in the Park when we went to press.

—Mr. E. Holt Eliason, by advertisement on page four, makes an investment proposition to those holding Victory Bonds. Read Mr. Eliason's adv. and see what he offers.

"OVER THE HILL" IS COMING TO TOWN

The theme which evoked from King Lear his immortal plaint, "How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child!" and which caused Absalom to break the heart of his aged father, David, King of Israel, has been used by William Fox for his greatest photoplay, "Over the Hill," which will be seen at the Lyceum Theatre, Friday, Saturday and Monday, December 22nd, 23rd and 25th.

There has been so much said in magazines and newspapers all over the country about the sensational run of "Over the Hill" in New York for a full year, prior to its general release that it seems almost superfluous to dwell at length on its merits. Suffice to say that the superb film drama was made by Fox from two of Will Careton's celebrated "Farm Ballads," and has for its theme the divine love of a mother. Harry Millarde directed the picture and Paul H. Sloane made the scenario.

While the story is one calculated to reach, by its strength of sentiment, the heart of the most calloused playgoer, it has nevertheless many lighter moments when the risibilities are tickled by some of the most delightful comedy ever flashed upon the screen.

Mr. Newcomb Wins At Baltimore

Mr. Purnell Newcomb, of Lynch, was a big winner at the Baltimore Poultry Show last week with his S. C. Rhode Island Reds. He also sold some fine birds there at big prices. His winnings were as follows: First Hen, First Shape Special Hen, Second Pullet, Fourth Cock. He sold a hen for $50, a cockerel for $25 and a pullet for $25. Mr. Newcomb says there was the largest entry there in the history of the show in Baltimore. Mr. Newcomb has a fine lot of Reds and he knows how to handle them.

Lyceum and Chautauqua Movement

World-wide interest was renewed in the Lyceum and Chautauqua Movement this week by the Lecturers' Conference on the Public Opinion and World's Peace, called by the International Chautauqua Association at Washington, D. C.

On the first day M. Georges Clemenceau, war premier of France, was the principal speaker, it being the only time he appeared formally in public while in America. The President was present and spoke of the good Chautauqua was doing for the country, saying that he counted himself fortunate to have been one of the lecturers for it. There were many notables on the program and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed during the conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hubbard, of this town, were delegates from Kent County.

WULLIN'S HOME STORE
WILMINGTON

Engines ! Shellers ! Grinders !

Three very necessary things at this season of the year. Most farmers have found out long ago that it does not pay to feed whole grain to stock. Ground feed is worth about 25 per cent more than the whole grain.

We have a complete line of Engines, Shellers and Grinders and we will be pleased to have you come in and talk the matter over with us. A few hours work on a rainy day now and then gives a supply of nutritious stock food that adds many dollars to the farmer's yearly profits. Prices are right.
