WASHINGTON COLLEGE

The Cotillion Club held its first dance of this scholastic year, the Thanksgiving Hop, in the college gymnasium, Friday, Dec. 8. With a beautifully decorated hall, a very large attendance and excellent music, the dance was most successful. The windows were draped with white, crepe paper curtains, each of which alternated with one maroon and black "W" on it. Vari-colored streamers were suspended from the ceiling. The Cotillion Committee, that had charge of the dance, was composed of Ernest J. Langham, '23, chairman; Wilbur J. Stenger, '23; Alwood C. Gordy, '23; Anthony Bischopf, '23; Prof. C. B. Shaughnessy, faculty; D'Arcy R. Flowers, '24; William C. Johnson, '24; Preston P. Heck, '25; and A. Meredith Nichols, '26. The decoration committee included Preston P. Heck, chairman; Roger Bounds, Luther Cooper and Robert White. The music was furnished by the Como Marimbo Orchestra, Cambridge, Md.

Recently the special students held a meeting and organized themselves into a class. The following officers were elected. Cahill, pres.; Elias Nuttle, vice pres.; Stewart, sec.; Johnson, treasurer.

The second issue of the Washington Collegian will be out before the Christmas holidays. It will be better than the first issue even. There will be an increase in fiction, jokes, and in the other departments as well.

The students' basketball league has been reorganized this year. Instead of having the competition between the halls, as in the past, it will now be between the classes. For that special reason the preps and specials have organized themselves into classes. The first game of the tournament was played by the Seniors and Juniors. The Juniors won by the score of 17-7. The line-up was as follows: Seniors, Howes and Byron, forwards; Stenger, center; Wingate and J. Messick, guards. Juniors, Griffith and Bankard, forwards; R. Bounds, center; Levy and Duffy, guards. Substitutes, Ruary for Byron. Field goals, Bankard 4, Wingate 2, Howes, Bounds, Duffy, Levy. Fouls, Bankard 3, Howes.

On Dec. 12, the Freshmen defeated the Sophomores by the score of 17-15. The line-up was as follows: Sophomores: Blake and E. Russell, forwards; Bankert, cen; Flowers and Jarman, guards. Freshmen: Yates and Holland, forwards; Soifer, center; Kelly and Fiore, guards. Substitutes: S. Heck for Jarman; Jarman for S. Heck; Hildebrand for Yates. Field goals: Fiore 4, Holland 3, E. Russell 3, Bankert 3, Kelly. Fouls, Bankert 3, Fiore.

On Dec. 13 the specials defeated the preps by the score of 20-12. The line-up was as follows: Specials, Tyson and Dobson, forwards; Carrington, center; Reiger and Galvin, guards. Preps: M. Nichols and Vineyard, forwards; F. Nichols, center; Cavanaugh and White, guards. Substitutes, Pratt for M. Nichols. Field goals, Carrington 5, Vineyard 3, Dobson 2, Reiger, Cavanaugh, F. Nichols. Fouls, Carrington 2.

Hand Poisoned By Skinning Rabbit

Mr. Argus Robinson, book-keeper in the Kent County Savings Bank, has been incapacitated from work and in a most helpless condition for nearly two weeks from being poisoned in both hands so that he has been unable to use either of them. It seems that Mr.Robinson was skinning a rabbit and received the infection, it is believed from the rabbit's fur, which probably came in contact with poison oak or some other poison vine. He has been under the care of Dr. Simpers and is now convalescing from the same.

ONCE IN A WHILE
By Edgar A. Guest

Once in a while there comes a joy
Which makes the tired old man a boy,
And brings to the patient mother eyes
The light of a school girl's glad surprise;
Some little pleasure, too sweet for words,
Like the June-day song of the summer birds;
Then the bitterness of the life we know,
The cares, the trials, the sting of woe,
Are all forgotten, and glad we smile
Once in a while.

Once in a while life lifts its mask
And laughs us out of the dreary task,
And shows us a world, for a little time,
That is fairer far than a poet's rhyme;
For the sun shines out and the skies are blue
And joy drips down like the morning dew,
And never an old man grumbles low
Of the aches and pains that are his to know,
For the hours are dressed in their richest style
Once in a while.

Once in a while the cares depart
And peace comes into the aching heart,
And the old roof rings with a song of glee,
And life is glad as it ought to be;
Then we, who have struggled and grieved and wept,
Rejoice to think that the faith we've kept;
Our friends are near and this life seems good,
And much we have doubted is understood,
For we glimpse the goal of the rugged mile
Once in a while.

Christmas About A Week Off

With Christmas but nine days off, Kent county is all ready for the big holiday event. Chestertown's business establishments are all decorated for the occasion with fine displays of their various wares, the home folks are getting ready to entertain the city visitors. Christmas greens are being located and the old turkey is preparing for the supreme sacrifice to the oyous occasion. It will be well, while we are making all these elaborate preparations for the big event, to find some one less fortunate than ourselves and make him happy for Christmas. The old proverb, "It is far better to give than to receive," is just as true today as way back there when these noble words were spoken. Bear this in mind for Christmas.

Those who have friends at a distance and are going to send their presents through the mails can rest assured that Uncle Sam is making ample preparations for taking care of this business. Extra forces will be put on all over the country in order to provide for it. But, remember, in sending packages through the mail that care should be taken to securely wrap up the package and address it plainly. Most of the losses of Christmas packages is due either to faulty wrapping or careless addressing.
