THE THIRD NATIONAL BANK

OF CHESTERTOWN MD.

The Only National Bank in Kent County

"THE BANK WHERE YOU FEEL AT HOME."

This Bank offers a prize of $25.00 to the Girl or Boy between the ages of 10 and 18 years who will deposit systematically and build up the largest balance in the Savings Department of this bank between January 1, 1923, and December 31, 1923. It will be necessary to call the attention of the bank officials at the time the initial deposit is made, that you are entering the contest. Now, do not delay in opening the account and just see how much you can save (by making some small sacrifice) during the incoming year. You will be rewarded for your efforts two-fold. We wish you a PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.

Respectfully,

"The Star Boarder"

Also Movie Chats, Sports Review and Hurricane Hutch.

Friday and Saturday, Jan. 5 and 6—The first American Historical Production,

"CARDIGAN"

"Cardigan" was written by Robert W. Chambers, America's foremost author. It tells the romantic love story that threaded its way through the outbreak of the Revolutionary War. It is the first big American historical film ever made, is 100 per cent American, and is historically accurate. It visualizes the high spots in the American Revolution. Shows Patrick Henry makhis famous oration, John Hancock delivering his fiery speech, the midnight ride of Paul Revere, and all incidents leading up to it; the meeting of the Minute Men, the Battles of Lexington and Concord and the retreat of the Red Coats from Concord. This picture is of the utmost educational value. It visualizes the early history of our country, should be seen by every school child and is the one picture to date which has an universal appeal. The picture has been endorsed by the National Committee for Better Films, leading educators, ministers, public spirited citizens and hundreds of others. It is the one picture which is 100 per cent clean, is highly entertaining and is the first earnest effort to do something worth while. It is such importance that the school principals should declare a half holiday to allow every child, from the first to the high grades, to see this most interesting subject. In one sweep it will teach them more about American history than 100 text books could teach them in ten years.
N. B.—No advance in prices.

WEDDINGS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kelley, at Locust Grove, was the scene of a pretty wedding on December 20 at noon, when Miss Emma Joiner, niece of Mrs. Kelley, became the bride of Louis Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Sr., of Worton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. E. Sterling, of Galena. The bride wore a gown of gray santon hrepe and rarried white carnations. The bride's only attendant, Miss Elizabeth Beaston, wore a gown of rose crepe and carried white carnations. tions. Ralph E. Miller, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Chas. Miller, Jr.

Those present were the immediate family and a few friends. After a reception Mr. and Mrs. Miller motored to Elkton and took the train for a short trip north. They will reside on a farm near Locust Grove upon their return.

The Season's Greetings!

Wishing all of our patrons and friends a very happy and prosperous year in 1923.

JAS. G. BECK.

DEATHS

Miss S. Sophronia McIntyre died of heart trouble at Vineland, N. J., Dec. 26, aged 63 years old. Her remains were brought to Chestertown and rested at the home of her brother, Mr. J. B. McIntire, where funeral was held. Interment in Chester cemetery. C. L. Dodd, undertaker. Funeral to-day (Staurday) at one o'clock.

Mr. Marion Crew, son of Mrs. Laura R. Crew, of Collingdale, Pa., died in the hospital Thursday, Dec. 21, from the effects of being gassed in the war. Aged 28 years. The funeral which was military was held from his late home on Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m., with interment in Monroe cemetery. The deceased was the nephew of Mr. Joseph Dwyer, of Chestertown.

Mrs. Mary Emory Hines, widow of the late Dr. Frank W. Hines, died at her apartments in the home of Mr. Eben F. Perkins, Water Street, Chestertown, Tuesday evening, Dec. 26, 1922, aged 64 years. Mrs. Hines was the daughter of Mr. William Emory, of Queen Anne's County; her mother was Miss Comegys, of this county. She is survived by three sons and two daughters, Dr. Frank B. Hines, Chestertown; Mrs. B. F. Houston, Wilmington, Del.; Charles G. Hines, of St. Louis, and E. Massey Hines, of Chicago; and Mrs. Harold D. Curry, of New York. Messrs. Wm. C. Emory, of Queen Anne, and Samuel Emory, of Broad Neck, this county, and Mrs. Bruce Massey and Miss Alice Emory, of Queen Anne's county, are brothers and sisters of the deceased.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon in Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chestertown, conducted by Rev. C. L. Atwater. The bearers were William C. and Samuel Emory, Allen A. Harris, Eben F. Perkins, James G. Beck and B. F. Houston. Interment in Chester cemetery. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mrs. Hines was prominent in church work and in the social life of Chestertown. She was a member of the board of directors of the Home for Friendless Children at Easton, in which she took an active interest. We have known her practically all her life; she was a good woman, a good wife, a good mother, and this community has lost a good citizen.

Mr. Ralph Shallcross, a young farmer formerly residing near Betterton, died early Christmas morning at Elkton hospital, aged 28 years. He leaves a widow and one small daughter; also a widowed mother, Mrs. Susan Shallcross. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon from the home of his father-in-law, Mr. J. Leonard Price, Betterton. Interment in Still Pond cemetery.

Mr. Shallcross was one of Still Pond's highly and most respected citizens. He was a loving husband and a kind father.

He was a member of the M.E. Church of Still Pond, the Epworth League, the Odd Fellows and granges.

The funeral services were in charge of Rev. Tilghman Smith, assisted by Rev. E. H. Collins, of Wilmington, Rev. R. P. Nichols, Smyrna, Rev. B. Staats, Kennedyville and Rev. S. S. Hepburn. The Odd Fellows held services at the grave. Interment at Still Pond cemetery.

The pall bearers were Bayard Harper, Wallace Ford, Clarence Ford, Howard Tolston, Howard Raisin, and Dr. Atwell.

B. R Fellows, undertaker.

Heavy Fog Hinders Traffic in Kent

Kent county was hampered by the worst fog in many years this week. Beginning on Christmas day, the fog literally enveloped the county in a flimsy mantel for three days and as many nights, disappearing on Wednesday night during the heavy rain.

The fog came in great waves from the direction of the bay, while the river was so densely covered by it that no boats, with the possible exception of the "B. S. Ford," ventured out.

Automobiles were compelled for once to seek the safer method of slow travel, but now and then some reckless driver, careless alike of himself or others, came tearing through the semi-twilight, with lights on, looking for all the world like a great, bleary-eyed, snorting demon.

Traffic of all kinds had a bad time of it. Boats on the bay forgot all about making headway in their concentration on keeping horns and the whistles noisy. Railroads slipped behind their schedules, and other lines of business were compelled to slow up. And there were few accidents because of it.

According to officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the fog extended well toward Harrisburg, Pa. Engineers reported having much difficulty in distinguishing signals.

It is reported that the fog was probably due to the teriffic storms that were raging in the Mid-Atlantic at the same time.

The Weather Bureau said that December had brought twice as many fogs this year as it usually does. The average number of dense fogs for the month is three; already there have been six. The bureau calls a dense fog one which renders invisible objects at 1000 feet.
