HOLDS BUSINESS MEETING

Chestertown Business Men's Association, and Many Invited Guests, Hear Good Speeches and Enjoy Fine Repast--Directors Elected.

The Chestertown Business Men's Association, composed of representatives of a great majority of the business interests of Chestertown, with many invited guests, held a rousing meeting Thursday evening at their rooms in The Eastern Shore Inn. The meeting was a most decided success, and the business interests of the community received a considerable stimulant as a result. Not only that but the meeting brought together many people other than those actively associated with the organization, the result being a closer co-operation and a more genial understanding.

This meeting was called primarily for the purpose of electing fifteen directors, who will help shape the course of the organization during the year 1923. The following representative citizens and business men were elected for the year: Carl N. Bordley, P. M. Brooks, L. G. Brown, Dr. H. P. Copeland, W. B. Copper, C. A. Goodwin, M. Wilbur Thomas, H. T. Hartman, H. F. Jefferson, C. N. Satterfield, C. W. Kibler, Jr., J. S. Kreeger, W. P. Newnam, J. H. Sides, R. H. Collins, Jr. A meeting of these directors will be held Monday night for the purpose of electing officers for the year.

Major R. R. Moffett, organizer for Pennsylvania of Chambers of Commerce, was the principal speakers of the evening and delighted those who attended with the many interesting and practical points he made.

Capt. C. M. Dillon, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington, also delivered a most interesting and instructive address. He stated that he would be glad to give any information regarding the marketing of produce, eggs, etc., to anyone who may want it. The Business Men's Association want to thank these men for coming here and the interest they displayed in our community.

After the speaking and business all present enjoyed a well-prepared menu served by "the gold dust twins," the Messrs. Gill Brothers, consisting of country ham sandwiches, pretzels, coffee, sweet pickles, and block ice cream.
