THE FARM LOAN LAW

One of the last measures passed by Congress, just before adjournment, was the Farm Loan Bill. This bill is designed to extend greater credits to farmers. It is not more credits that the farmer needs, but it is better market conditions for what he grows that he should have. If Congress would pass a law assuring the farmer a fair profit for his products it would be much more in line with his needs than a law to give him more credit. He could never pay back these loans unless he could realize a profit on what he raises, and it looks to us that it is impossible for him to make expenses, much less a profit, as things are now. Most every thing he buys is advancing in price, while what he sells he is getting less for. The farmer is in sore need of legislation to assist him in bettetr market conditions and better prices for his products. Farmers have told us that they have too much credit now, and that they would have been better off with less credit. If the farmer could be assured of a stipulated price for his wheat, corn and tomatoes he would then be in a much better condition than he is, not knowing whether he will lose money on these crops or whether he will make a little profit.

SHORE LIVE WIRES DISCUSS PROGRESS.

Speakers At Salisbury Sound Note Of Closer Union Between Towns.

A closer unity between the several towns of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia peninsula was the keynote sounded at the annual banquet of the Salisbury-Wicomico Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening at Salisbury. Invitations were broadcasted over the peninsula and resulted in the attendance of the most representative body of men , it is believed, that ever assembled on the shore for a meeting of this character.

The meeting is believed to have resulted in the installation of a better understanding between all sections. Through the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, which was organized 18 months ago, it was pointed out, much work had been accomplished which had directly been of inestimable benefit to all communities on the peninsula, which are bound together topographically by natural boundries, and from this body a large additional service may be expected.

Charles M. Freeman, general secretary of the Salisbury chamber, and who holds a similar post in the peninsula chamber, delivered an address describing the work of the two bodies. Hs spoke of the great multitudes of problems which daily came before such an organization and illustrated some of the work done since their inauguration. The State Normal School, which will be constructed this year was designated as one of the things that has been brought about by the chamber, with the cooperation of the members of the Legislature and State Senator Charles R. Disharoon.

Mr. Freeman mentioned freight rate reductions and the installation of a traffic department by the local chamber, with a salaried director as one move which had benefited the entire peninsula. Every business man has been benefited by this department, regardless of the section of the peninsula in which he lives.

Comparison of the peninsula with other sections of the country was made by Harvy H. Hill, president of the Hotel Finance Corporation, and who was the national head of the Red Cross during the late period of the late war. Mr. Hill, with a corps of assistants, has made a survey of the section of the shore within a radius of 60-miles of Salisbury and he discussed a number of the results of his findings.

The value of the trucking lands of the peninsula situated as it is within a few hours' ride of the largest produce markets of the country, was spoken of and the possibility of its development through unity of purpose. The keynote of his address was cooperation between the communities, which should work together for the common cause, benefiting all towns and rural sections alike.

Messrs W. B. Copper and P. M. Brooks represented the Chestertown, Business men's Association at this meeting. They were very much pleased with what was said and by the gathering.

TO THE CITIZENS AND TAXPAYERS

The names mentioned herein having been appointed on ways and means for the purchase of additional fire fighting equipment for Chestertown held their first meeting Monday night. It was decided to adopt the personal canvas plan to procure the necessary funds. This failing a series of entertainments, suppers, etc., will be considered. By the personal contribution plan every property owner and resident will have a share in the enterprise and no one will give more than once either directly or indirectly.

The town has been divided into five sections and each section and each of the five members of the committee will take the portion assigned him. We designate these sections here so that those in that particular part may do the solicitor a favor by seeking him and signing the agreement without his having to call. Here are the various boundaries:

J. Hydie Thompson—From Thompson's Corner to the Brooks' mill, inclusive.

John C. Davis—From Hudson and Hadaway's Corner to the Voshell House, inclusive

Wm. P. Newnam—From Voshell House to Queen street.

William G. Smyth—From Queen street to the river.

Fred G. Usilton—Washington ave., Spring avenue and Kent Circle.

Chestertown has done nothing toward improving its fire equipment since the erection of the Volunteer Fire Co.'s building and the great necessity for a truck is apparent at every fire. It is realized that the town cannot afford a La France engine, but it certainly can furnish our boys with something to carry the hose and ladders to a fire. Such a motor driven vehicle is proposed.

The petition that is to be circulated reads as follows:

Realizing the great need in Chestertown of some sort of a truck with which to transport hose and ladders to a fire, and in our endeavor to cooperate with the effort now being made to purchase something suitable, we herewith subscribe our names and amount of money which we promise to pay on or before June 1, 1923; to W. P. Newnam, treasurer. This truck will cost about $3,000 and will consist of two chemical tanks, a pump with which the river may be utilized in case of fire on the water front, and will carry hose and ladders. They have already in hand about $1000 so that this effort is made for the purpose of raising $2,000 additional.

There is no more loyal body of men in the State than the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company. They stand ready to protect the property of the citizens of Chestertown and have proven their ability on all occasions. It is, to say the least, an imposition on them to ask that they pull the hose carriage all over town, besides get the ladders there the best way they can. A united effort now will enable the company to get a much needed equipment, and at a price commensurate with the ability of Chestertown citizens.

The committee ask that each one give something, so that all may have a part in this enterprise and thus evince their interest and commendation of the grand work done by our fire fighters.

Kilied Man With Stone

Lloyd Frisby, colored, aged 23, was killed last Saturday night at Coleman's Corner, near Betterton, by John Wilson, also colored, aged 14. The man had been tormenting the boy and had thrown him to the ground twice in front of Ireland's store. The second time, when the boy arose, he picked up a large stone and let fly, hitting his victim on the side of the head and killing him instantly.

Dr. Dodd held a coroner's inquest and a verdict of death at the hands of Wilson was rendered. The boy gave himself up and is now in jail.

Easton Methodists Want Conference Next Year.

Easton Methodists are much interested in the proposition to ask the Wilmington conference to meet there next year. It has been nearly twenty years since this honor has been Easton's, and as this is one of the most important charges in the Conference, it is thought that the body meeting three would be a deserved recognition of its work. The matter has not been officially acted upon by the authorities of Ebenezer Church, but it is understood that it would be brought up at the next meeting of the board. It is no easy matter to entertain a body so large as the Wilmington Conference, but Easton has done it before with credit to herself and can do so again.

Near East Relief Gives Review Of Activities

A review of American relief activities in the Near East, showing expenditures during the past year of more than $12,000,000, was given to Congress recently by Charles V. Vickrey, in his annual report as general secretary of the Near East Relief.

Shipments of foodstuffs, equipment, machinery, medical supplies and clothing and textiles made from this country by the Near East Relief during the year totaled 53,000,000 pounds, and in addition large purchases were made in Anatolia and other areas. The number of orphans now under the care of the organization is 115,000, and Mr. Vickrey predicted that this total would increase, as additional victims of persecution and war are applying daily for aid.

The year's expenditures exceeded receipts by more than $1,500,000, but the balance carried over from the year previous made up for the deficit and left a surplus of $328,000.

Over 400 Per Cent Jump From Farmer To User

Mrs. W. J. Crowder, of Lynchburg, Va., while peeling a potato recently, found a note in it reading:

"I got 24 cents a bushel. What did you give "

It was signed "G. F. Beardsley, Stanton, Mich.," and was dated January 19.

Mrs. Crowder said she paid 30 cents a peck for the potatoes.

Washington's Championship Quintet Ended Season Last Night

Washington College quintet, basketball champions of the state, ended its victorious season at Salisbury last night before what was perhaps a record-breaking crowd. Their opponents were a team composed of a pick of the Maryland-Delaware Peninsula. W. C. no doubt won a sweeping victory.

Price

Some folks judge price by the figures on the tag, and complain because things they buy don't give satisfaction.

The price ticket with the lowest figures may be on the most expensive piece of goods.

It is what you get for what you pay that counts.
