THE THIRD NATIONAL BANK

OF CHESTERTOWN MD.

The Only National Bank in Kent County

"THE BANK WHERE YOU FEEL AT HOME."

Many persons persist in regarding all banks as cold and impersonal. We try especially to dispel that feeling. We aim to reflect the genuinely friendly spirit of this institution through courteous servic

A good part of our new business comes to us because of the good words of our customers, who praise our efforts to give them the best service. They know that this is a dependable, friendly bank—and the word is passed along.

The primary thing expected of a bank is that little things as well as big shall be done well. Here at the Third National we watch details, we do our business carefully, accurately and promptly; because we have had over thirty-two years experience. The whole effort of the institution has been to become thoroughly identified with the financial, industrial, agricultural and individual prosperity of the community, and to be an ever-increasing factor therein. Call and see us.

We pay FOUR per cent. to all our Savings Depositors.

Respectfully,

THE THIRD NATIONAL BANK

CROSSES FOR THREE

By Charles Daniel Brodhead, in The Christian Advocate (M. E. Church)

Crosses for three stand on Calvary's brow,
A King and two robbers of old;
One is a Saviour, one scoffs at that Face,
One turns in faith and is saved by His grace,
Sees the rich wonders of glory unfold:
Sinless, and sinful, and sin-pardoned now.

Crosses for three face Jerusalem-town;
To each hastens death's doleful toll;
One is a Conqu'ror at close of His strife,
One spurns his chance of a heavenly life,
One wins at last the peace of his soul,
Gains through the Christ the reward of a crown.

Crosses for three rise again into view,
On Calvary's mountain of love;
Onee died for sin,—with His heart toward His God,—
One died in sin,—with his face toward the clod,—
One died to sin, with his hope from above:—
Crosses for three have their message for you.

An Eastern Shore Industry

A special correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, writing from Berlin, one of the Eastern Shore towns, gives some interesting statistics concerning the mine prop industry on the Eastern Shore.

The writer says that in the closing of the 1922 year the return to lumbermen of this section alongside the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad was more than $600,000. More than 5000 cars went to the anthracite coal regions in Pennsylvania lying between Tamaqua and Scranton. Unlike other forest products, "props" are sold by the ton, bringing between $3.50 and $4.00 a ton. From 500 to 600 people and as many horses are engaged in cutting and hauling the props.

The best of the timber on the Peninsula today is going into piles. More than 1000 carloads have gone into Philadelphia alone. This branch of the industry adds about $200,000 a year to the wealth of the Shore. From Georgetown, south in Delaware, and Salisbury, south in Maryland, the bulk of the props are shipped. Georgetown and Selbyville, Del., Salisbury, Snow Hill, Stockton and Pocomoke City, Md., are principal shipping points, but wherever one goes down in this country he sees a side track with a toy derrick beside it, most often hard at work loading props or piles.
