WASHINGTON COLLEGE IN VICTORIOUS STREAK, DEFEATS STRONG WEST VA. AND OTHER GOOD BASE-BALL TEAMS

Washington College won from the strong University of West Virginia Baseball team Friday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1.

West Virginia broke into the score column in the third inning when Harrick scored on Mowrey's single to left field. Washington College followed it up in the fourth when Johnson scored on Flowers' long fly to left field for a sacrifice. From this time on until the ninth inning goose eggs were hung on the scoreboard.

The second half of ninth inning opened with a flash as Gordy singled to right field and McGinnis followed it up with a hit to the same spot, placing Gordy on third base. Carrington now came to the bat and Kibler ordered a squeeze play to be carried out, which was attempted, but a close ball was called foul by the umpire. Carrington then returned to the plate and again attempted a squeeze, but flied to Tallman who threw wild to Devaugh in his attempt to make a double play. Gordy then scored.

Gordy was on the mound for Washington College, and he was master of the occasion at all times, allowing but seven scattered hits and striking out eight batters. He also scored the winning run. Johnston, the crack third baseman for the Maroon and Blacks, had an excellent day both on the field and at the bat. He made two hits out of as many trips to the plate, handled four hard chances without an error and stole four bases.

West Virginia was not without its stars also. Krosnoff, at second base, made some nice stops. As a matter of fact, the entire visiting team played excellent ball. Both Harricks and Fleger wielded a wicked stick. Each team had but one miscue chalked up against it. Such ball games as this was are seldom seen on the Eastern Shore.

Washington College had little trouble winning from Ursinus College baseball team on Washington Field Saturday afternoon the score being 3 to 2. This wasW. C.'s fifth straight victory. Bradford began the game for Washington, but was wild and was relieved by Hickman in the sixth inning, who pitched air-tight baseball. Ursinus tallied for two runs in the third, but W. C. soon tiedthe score and added the winning run in the sixth. Armstrong, of Chestertown, led with the bat, getting two hits out of three times at bat.

Washington College baseball team began its northern tour on Tuesday by defeating St. Joseph's College, of Philadelphia, 10 to 2. Scarborough was on the mound for W. C. and pitched good ball, holding the Philaedlphia team safe at all times, while his team-mates hammered the ball almost at will at times.

Lafayette College defeated Washington College Wednesday by the score of 5 to 1. Gordy was on the mound for Washington.

Historic St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church this year will celebrate the two-hundred and tenth anniversary of its founding. Completed in 1713 and in continuous use ever since as an Episcopal place of worship, the ancient Kent county sanctuary is probably the oldest house of worship in Maryland. It is believed that there may be older parishes than St. Paul's in the Diocese of Easton, but in none of them is the church building of such antiquity. The contract for the erection of the present church building was made in 1711 between the vestrymen and Capt. James Harris. It provided for the erection of a building 40 feet long, 30 feet wide and "16 feet from the ground." The contractor was to receive 70,000 pounds of tobacco for his work, which represented a large sum in what was at the time the circulating medium of the province, and at the prevailing price today for a medium grade of tobacco it would amount to about $21,000.

A Defense Of Vaccination

It was reported last week in Chestertown that one of the Rock Hall school children was lying at the point of death due to vaccination against small-pox about twelve days previously. The Deputy State Health Officer promptly visited the home of the child when the case was reported to him and found only a normal result of the vaccination. The child was fully clad, lying downstairs on a couch with only a little fever and his arm on which he had been vaccinated did not show any signs whatever of infection.

It is most unfortunate that such an unfounded report should be circulated regarding the normal outcome of vaccination, one of the most important factors in use to protect the health of the school children and the people at large. There is not the slightest danger from vaccination against smallpox when proper precaution is taken.

The County Board of Education is offering through the State and County Health officers free vaccination to those who desire it. These doctors are using every care in doing their work and they do not vaccinate any child until assured by the child that his parents wish to take advantage of the free vaccination.

It is hoped that no one will give credence to an adverse report regarding the work that is being done for the health of school children until they learn the true conditions from those in charge of the work.

Supt. of Schools.

NEGRO HAD 51 CHILDREN AND SUPPORTED THEM ALL

Decendants of Isaac Nathan, of Middletown, Del., who claim that their forbearer, a slave, in his married life with three wives was the father of 51 children, dispute claims in the West by other families purporting to hold the record.

Nathan, who was born a slave to John Cochran, Sr., of Middletown, when he edid in 1860, aged 70 years, had the whole family with the exception of two wives alive. Here is the record:—

Fourteen children by his first wife, 4 boys and 10 girls, twins twice; 14 children by his second wife, all girls, twins twice; 23 children by his third wife, 6 boys and 17 girls, twins 5 times

According to old residents, Nathan was not only the father of the largest group of children born to one man in that town, but also in the State, and so far as records go in the United States. He was 17 years old when he was married

Nathan provided the necessities of life for the whole family until they were able to take care of themselves.

ST. MICHAELS IN UPROAR

Last Wednesday night the people of St. Michaels thought the day of doom had arrived when they saw balls of fire gushing out of the curb first on one side of the street and then on the other, followed by explosions, and at the same time the town engulfed with a smoke screen. People ran hither and thither in every direction, and soon the town was darkened by the smoke.

The fire department turned out in full force, for the lot at the mouth of the sewer in the rear of the Episcopal Church was ablaze and the adjoining houses were threatened. Had the wind been blowing the town would no doubt have been seriously threatened. A call for the county engine at Easton brought the Easton fire department to the scene after the blaze had been extinguished.

But the cause for all the trouble was soon found. It is stated that Arthur Farmer had a gas tank partly filled with gasoline and water. This being useless,he emptied the several hundred gallons in the gutter, and it soon ran in the storm sewer. By the time the mixture reached the mouth of the sewer some boys, it is said, were playing on the lot and had a tin can with fire in it. This was thrown in the water.

Sufficient gasoline was there to ignite, and as the blaze burned in the sewer toward the center of the town.
