JUSTICE
By Grace E. Hall

A keen blade makes an open wound,
And crimson stains are bright,
And laws are made for blade and blood,
To keep man's conduct right;
But what of those who stab and slay
A human heart—and go away?

An open wound is red and raw,
And everyone may see,
And those who use a knife, the law
Will punish lawfully;
But those who only stab the heart
May strike in safety and depart.

A keen blade makes an open wound,
A cruel wound and red,
And every man will cry that law
Upon its course be sped;
But souls are murdered everywhere,
And men but smile and call it fair.

Sports

Washington College has great promise of the best football of years this fall. Practically the entire team of last year will be back, and, besides, other players of size and experience, who will help greatly to bolster up the weak spots. The approaching cooler weather will cause the local interest, as usual, to wax keen, and, with an even break of luck, Coach Kibler will put over a winner this year.

Dover won the championship in the Eastern Shore League, reaching the line only a few paces ahead of Cambridge, who made a gallant fight for the flag. Flowers and Johnston, former W. C. boys, aided Cambridge materially in their fight as runners-up.

On next Friday night, Sept. 14, Jack Dempsey, the greatest prize fighter of all time, will defend his title in a 15-round contest in New York City against Luis Firpo, of Argentine, S. A. Dempsey has gone right down the line winning easily from all opponents. In recent years, he has stood in a class by himself to the extent that no contenders have been available to give him a battle for the crown. Firpo, while having been in the ring but a few years, has come to the top at a bound, winning from several who have been known as former fighters of real ability. The fight has been styled the battle of the century, but we can't see where it earns its name. The great two-handed Dempsey against the one-fisted Firpo looks to us far from being the battle of the century. In fact, no sports writer of real standing gives Firpo a chance to last the limit. We look for the aggressive, shifting champion to bewilder his opponent from the outset, hammer him with both fists for several rounds, receive some punishment himself and end the fight by a knockout between the fifth and the seventh rounds.

Maryland Business Good

Reports coming in to H. W. Carty, Potomac Telephone Company, from other Managers throughout the State, indicate that business generally in the state of Maryland is sound and healthy.

Manufacturing concerns are looking forward to a continuance of good times and say that no difficulty is being experienced in obtaining sufficient raw materials. Collections are good and the general conditions of the transportation facilities has improved. Crops are in excellent condition and the movement of agricultural products to the various markets is heavier than at this time last year.

Labor continues to be well employed at high wages and the shortage which seriously handicapped industry earlier in the year has disappeared.

The Eastern Shore section, which depends almost entirely for its prosperity on agricultural products, is enjoying a greatly improved production over 1922. The factories are operating at full capacity and the outlook is good.

The northeastern section, adjacent to Westminster and Bel Air, is principally engaged in diversified farming and canning, and report general business good.

In the section adjacent to Cumberland conditions in all lines are about normal. The agricultural and fruit outlook, however, is exceptionally good.

The Frederick section, which is almost exclusively devoted to agriculture and fruit, reports good crops and that business generally is good. New residential building in Frederick and its suburbs, also at Brunswick and Thuront, is active.

In the Hagerstown district, which comprises a manufacturing and agricultural and fruit center, the outlook is good. Business is firm and prices are good, with factories operating at capacity and a normal amount of expansion in progress. It is believed, however, that in view of the diversity of its activities, a steady growth and normal prosperity may be anticipated throughout this section during the next five years.

Gunning Season Opens

Saturday, Sept. 1, marked the opening of the fall gunning season for rail and reed birds, doves and squirrels for which Clerk of the Court Rodert R. Ayers is issuing hunters' licenses. The daily bag limit is 50 rail, 50 reed birds, 25 boves and 25 squirrels. The plover season which opened on August 16 will close on November 30. The squirrel season will close on October 15 and re-open on November 10. All gunners must obtain license. Residents must pay $1.10 for county and $5.10 for state-wide license. Non-residents pay $10.50. Non-residents, owning land in a county assessed at $500 or more, pay $1.50. Landowners, their tenants or children, hunting on their own or leased land, are exempt from license, but their guests are not. Tags bearing the numbers of the licenses must be worn on the backs of gunners' outer garments midway between the shoulders, while hunting, and they must have their licenses with them. Trespassing on posted property is subject to a fine of $15. The season for ducks, geese, brant, jacksnipe and crowbills opens on Nov. 1, and for partridge, quail, pheasant and rabbits on Nov. 10.

Kent Center Of Great Oyster Center

Kent County is situated in hands reach of one of the greatest oyster centers in the world. The Chesapeake Bay and its brackish tributaries furnish oysters, in one way or another, to the whole United States. From the earliest times the Chester river has been the scene of much oyster business. Here the boats from below Chestertown, from the great shoals of the bay and other oyster beds have drawn big hauls of oysters and sold them right on the grounds. As a consequence the shells, which used to help largely in the building of our roads, are being used elsewhere.

Oysters are found in Great Britain, France, Holland, Italy and Germany and to a lesser extent in other foreign countries. America has by far the largest industry, but if it were not for the present government protection, the natural beds would have been destroyed so recklessly that the country's supply would be alarmingly decreased.

Assessed Value Of Shore Counties

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Centreville, Maryland.

August 3, 1923.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF THE SECOND JUDICIAL CIRCUIT OF MARYLAND:

By the Constitution of Maryland, provision is made for the election, by the people, of Judges for the several Judicial Circuits into which the state is divided and, among other things, the qualifications therein mentioned for Judges are as follows:

"They shall be selected from those who have been admitted to practice law in this state, and who are most distinguished for integrity, wisdom and sound legal knowledge."

If my reputation, after having engaged in the practice of law for practically thirty years, and my record, after having served as Associate Judge of your Judicial Circuit for nearly one year, leads you to believe that I possess the above mentioned necessary qualification, I will be very grateful should you determine to support me at the approaching Democratic Primary Election.

The duties incident to my present position preclude me from making the usual personal and political campaign.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS J. KEATING,
