SPORTS

Washington College's football squad has arrived in town and the prospects for big times on the gridiron are certainly bright. The only regret we have, however, is that there are only two games to be played home.

The following football candidates have begun practice at Washington College: Crowe, Carrington, Fiore, Kelley, Galvin, Dumschott, Carroll, Jarman, Adkins and White from last year's squad and the following new men: McGan, Negri, Beaulac, McAuliffe, Smoot and Story. Capt. Duffy will be back next week. Coach Kibler put the squad through their first exercises Wednesday. All of the men are in good shape. Jack Carroll, the basketball star, who has been suffering with water on the knee, shows a great improvement and is expected to round into form shortly.

Eastern Shore Society To Come Here

The Eastern Shore Society of Baltimore will tour the Eastern Shore of Maryland by boat this year and will spend Friday night, Sept. 21, at Chestertown. The Society, composed of former Eastern Shoremen, who are now residing in Baltimore, makes an annual tour of the Shore and this year they will make the tour by water. It is understood that the party will be composed of about one hundred and fifty members, and will be accompaniedby Governor Albert C. Ritchie and Mayor Howard W. Jackson, of Baltimore City.

The boat is due at Chestertown at 8 p. m. Friday evening and the society will be met and entertained by the Business Men's Association of Chestertown.

Closer relationship between the towns of the Eastern Shore of Maryland is necessary in order to further development of the Shore and any move that will tend to bring the business men of these towns together will help develop that relationship. For example, the tour of the Eastern Shore by the Chestertown Business Men's Association last spring and the annual tour of the Eastern Shore Society.
