THE THIRD NATIONAL BANK

OF CHESTERTOWN, MD.

The Only National Bank in Kent County

"THE BANK WHERE YOU FEEL AT HOME."

SERVICE

Service is perhaps the most wonderful word in the English language. Before we can explain that fact however, we want to mention a few other remarkable words —words which with Service are in our opinion the most powerful words in the world. The first of these is OBEDIENCE—obedience to law, custom, to authority, to conscience. Obedience maintains order where other wise there would be chaos.

Then there is FAITH—faith in ourselves, in our future, in our country, the men and women with whom we are associated. Faith is essential to our every day happiness and to the practical operation of our social and business organizations. Third comes HOPE—hope for our future, our prosperity, our happiness, and also for the happiness and prosperity of others. Then comes LOVE—"to love thy neighbor as thyself" is the first principal of success in personal relationships, in society or in business. And now, in this great twentieth century,there has been added a new idea—the idea of SERVICE which embodies the practical application of these four ancient principles —OBEDIENCE, FAITH, HOPE AND LOVE. We have Social Service, we have Transportation Service, we have Electric Light Service, Gas Service, Telephone Service and we might go on mentioning a hundred other actual Services which are performed by some one for somebody else. But beneath this practical consideration,we believe that there is coming to be more and more a desire to perform SERVICE for others, in the true, unselfish sense of the term. This Bank wishes and desires to render SERVICE to the Public, it has been our motto. SERVICE—it is a wonderful word. Call and see us.

Respectfully,

DIRECTORS.

KILLED IN QUAKER NECK

Pitchfork Battle Results In Death of Colored Man Tuesday

As a result of a duel with pitchforks in Quaker Neck,Kent County, Tuesday, between a white man and a colored man, with a battle with clubs and fists and what not between two white men going on the same time as a side issue, James Jones, the colored man who participated in the fray, is now dead,while James Norman Lane, formerly of Baltimore, later of Kent Island, and for the past few years residing in Quaker Neck, is in Chestertown jail charged with the death of the colored man. During the pitchfork play, which was of short duration, Jones was pierced through the eye, the blade penetrating his brain. He was taken to Easton Hospital by the order of Dr. H.P. Copeland and died shortly after arriving there. The other two white men who carried on the affray while the sterner issue of the forks was being settled, were Burton Lane, brother of James Norman Lane, and Herbert Fazenbaker, who sided with the colored man in the fight. These two did each other little damage. James N. Lane claims to have been injured in the arm by the weapon of the negro.

It seems that, sometime ago, the sheriff had levied upon some implements ,etc., on the farm on J. B. Dunn, which is on the road from the public highway further than where the homicide occurred. Tuesday the Lane brothers, it is stated, were engaged in hauling away some materials from the Dunn farm, passing through the farm where Jones met his death. Fazenbaker and Janes were at work in the field Tuesday afternoon when the Lane brothers drove through with the load of goods. An argument ensued between the four regarding the removal of the same and some hot verbal exchange no doubt, ensued. Fazenbaker and Burton Lane were the first to get into action, according to a statement from State's Attorney S. Scott Beck. Jones, it seems, also got into the fracas. James N. Lane was the last to become engaged, which he did armed with a pitchfork. Jones, it seems, and Lane immediately clashed, both armed with these dangerous weapons. The duel waxed furious as the men parred and jabbed with their forks. Suddenly Lane, being stronger and more skillful, found an opening, or else beat down his opponent's guard, sending his blade into the negro's head. The man fell to the ground in a state of como and was rushed to the hospital,dying shortly after.

The reports of the affair are so conflicting that it is impossible for us to state with accuracy just what caused the fight, who started it, or who was to blame. Both sides claim they were on the defensive.

S. Scott Beck, Esq., state's attorney, will act as prosecuting attorney, while Wm. Frazier Russell, Esq., will defend Lane, when the case comes up for trial at the April term of the Circuit Court.

A Boy Scout Troup in Galena

Under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Sterling, pastor of Galena M.E.Church, a Boy Scout Troop was organized last Wednesday evening, Nov. 28, at eight o'clock. A large number of boys and adults were present. W. Goldsborough Bradford, Scout Executive of the Eastern Shore Council,Boy Scouts of America, was present and gave an illustrated lecture on the Boy Scout movement This is the fifth Boy Scout Troop to be organized in Kent County.

The Chestertown Troop of Boy Scouts took an all-day hike last Saturday and learned some of the outside work of a scout.

Mr. John W. Barroll left this week for Baltimore, where he will be associated in the practice of law with his brother, L. Wethered Barroll, Esq. Mr. Barroll will, however, still retain an office in Chestertown.

Mrs. John H. Clendaniel is visiting her daughter in Newark, Del.
