Nervous Prostration

Could Not Sleep — Had No Appetite

Cured in Body and Mind by Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I suffered very much for a long time with nervous prostration. I had about given up all hopes of ever getting better when Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me and I believe it my duty to let other sufferers know the benefit I derived from it. I Could Not Sleep at night, was without appetite, and what little I did eat I was unable to keep on my stomach. After taking the first bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which seemed to do me some good, I tried a second and continued to feel better. I got up feeling

Piles.

Piles is so common that every other person you meet is troubled with it more or less. It seems to be a little thing and usually gets little attention. It may not be serious at first, but it makes a man sick—makes him nervous, cross, irritable—unfit for business. It robs him of sleep, takes his appetite—cuts down his flesh—and yet he is careless about it.

Foster's German Army and Navy Cure will cure Piles. It will cure other things, too, but it is particularly good for Piles. It stops the itch and the ache at once. It may take several days to wholly allay the inflammation and reduce the swelling, but it will do it—sure. Has done it in innumerable cases. Never has failed.

Good for Eczema, Ring Worm, Tetter, Itch, Salt Rheum, Dandruff, Pimples, and all Skin Diseases.

ROCK HALL M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. Edw. Davis' Letter as to Its Condition —His Surprise, Etc.

At our last Annual Conference our name was read out for this place. We arrived here on April 5th, were received very kindly by the good people of Rock Hall. I found the church in a very dilapidated condition with dingy walls and broken down pews, which presented a very unsightly appearance. We found the Parsonage well furnished, but no water on the premises. Therefore one of the greatest needs was water. The Ladies Aid society went to work and had a drive well put in the yard, which has been a great help to us.

During the summer our Epworth League went to work and had our church walls refrescoed and the wood work on inside repainted. Our Trustees had the pews mended and repainted, and the outside front fixed up and repainted, and later on the King's Daughters furnished our church with a very nice new carpet. And the church organ was all out of tune, full of filth and dirt, but Prof. J. G. Robinson came along and fixed it all right. So now we have a very nice church to worship in.

We have a large congregation and a very good Sunday School, numbering of Officers, Teachers, and Scholars over 200.

We commenced our extra meeting at the beginning of the present year. We labored under very discouraging circumstances for some two or three weeks surrounded by Lodges, Clubs, dancing parties, etc. But there were a few of the members of the church that were firm and true, and we stood our ground and worked for God and his cause. And as a result of our meeting, God was pleased to crown the labors of his people with some success. We have had many conversions, and 24 have joined our church at this place on probation. To God be all the glory. Saturday night, while pastor and wife were quietly seated in their home reading, our silence was broken by the ringing of our door bell, which was quickly responded to by the wife of the pastor, and to our surprise, in filed quite an army made up of the young ladies and gentlemen of Rock Hall, with their sparkling eyes and smiling countenances, each one bearing a bundle of the good things of this life, to cheer and gladden the hearts of pastor and family. This was a complete surprise, and each one of them will please accept the hearty thanks of pastor and family for their kindness bestowed. Last Sunday was our missionary day. We tried to procure help, but could not find any available. So we labored hard morning, afternoon, and night for the cause of missions. I do not think now that we shall be able to reach the full amount asked for. For this reason, our people are nearly all oystermen, we have had an extremely hard winter, and they have been thrown out of their business nearly the whole of January and February, but we are looking for the last man.

E. DAVIS.

A National Law Maker.

"I was a member of Congress for five terms," remarked an ex-member to a group of listeners, "and I am free to confess that I was proud of my position and thought I stood well in the estimation of my fellow-citizens because of this place I occupied. Even a Congressman can learn some things, however, and on one occasion I was given a lesson that rather surprised me. I was on a train and near me sat an elderly woman, evidently from the remoter section of the country, with whom I got into conversation. She was ignorant, but of considerable native ability, and decidedly sharp of speech. She felt a strong aversion to politics and politicians, and was so vigorous in her attacks that I was forced to come to the rescue.

"'My dear madam,' I said in protest. 'I'm a politician.'

'No, you don't say?' she exclaimed, looking at me with curiosity.

"'Yes, I do say it; and what is more I am a member of Congress.',

"She actually threw up her hands in astonishment at this statement.

"'Well,' she said, 'I never would have thought it. And do you get paid for it?'

"'I certainly do. The salary is $5,000 a year.'

"'Do tell,' she exclaimed. "Well, some men will do anything for money."

It is now confidently asserted that the plating of the new cup defender will be of aluminium bronze. This alloy has hitherto been used only in the shape of minor castings, and and has these instances exhibited a certain liability to breakage under sudden strains. But if the rumor shall prove to be true that the Herreshoffs have adopted the aluminium bronze as a sheating for their new racer it will tend to corroborate the report that by an altered alloy and drop forging the tensile strength of the new metal has been increased from 70,000 to nearly 125,000 pounds per square inch. Such a high tensile quality would justify the thinning of the plates one-sixteenth of an inch from the thickness designed in the Tobin bronze plates of the Vigilant. The triumphant use of aluminium bronze in this manner would thus in itself endow America's new cup defender with several minutes advantage over even the swift Vigilant.

"EGGS A LA CREW."

How Kent's Gallant Citizen Reached Fame at a Single Bound.

Captain T. E. W. Crew has reached the pinnacle of greatness at last. If there was any doubt about it after the encounter during the trying times of the Hill murder, or as leader of the noble fifth during the Cleveland parade, it has been dispelled, and no tidal wave of jealousy can harm him now, no contracting supervisors annoy him in the least. And this is how he won his fame:

He has had a toothsome dish named after him! The dish referred to and to which Mr. Crew owes his fame, is styled "Eggs a la Crew." James Bradshaw conceived the dish. It was this way: Mr. Crew was in Baltimore last week and came down to his breakfast at the hotel with one of those lacks of appetite that sometimes come to everyone. This morning he had an oppressive lack of appetite and confided his lack to Bradshaw. "I've no appetite, Jim, and I want you to get me up something new!" "How would a fresh-laid egg, do?" said Bradshaw. Mr. Crew was not in for a joke, and with that peculiar twinkle in his eye, said "Now James, no joking!"

Bradshaw waved the supervisor to as seat and left the room. It was a little early and the hens were only in their second nap, but when the fifth district supervisor is to be served everything goes and so the hens got off the roost and Bradshaw soon had four fresh eggs. While waiting for the eggs an inspiration seized him and taking off his coat he went to work. He broke the eggs and poured a gill of cream over them. He beat the eggs and set them aside. Then he took two sweet Spanish peppers, chopped them fine and made a puree. Next he sliced an eighth of a pound of cold boiled salt pork into the shape of nails and fried them as Towney's mother used to fry doughnuts down on the farm. Then he cooked the eggs as eggs are cooked when scrambled. Placing them in the centre of a bit of rare china, he surrounded them with the puree, and on the outside edge of the dish arranged a wreath of the golden brown slices or nails of pork. Then, with the stride of a conqueror, he held the dish aloft and a moment later laid it before Towney. The latter looked up and a sweet smile lighted his face. He devoured the appetizing dish first with his eyes and then in the usual way, and then, overcome with rapture he handed Bradshaw a tip and "Eggs a la Crew," became a feature of the hotel's "maynoo."

The statements were published in the NEWS last week, but owing to some errors that crept in, we publish the corrected table so that justice may be done all concerned, and our readers get the truth, which we aim to give at all times.

THE hotel known as Congress Hall, at Ocean City, Md., was sold Saturday to W. B. R. Selby for $5,000. The hotel was erected about fifteen years ago and contained 145 rooms. The property has passed through the hands of several owners. It was mortgaged several years ago, and the sale Saturday is said to have been under foreclosure proceedings. The purchaser, Mr. W. B. R. Selby, was the holder of the mortgage. The construction of the hotel is said to have cost $7,000.

RECENTLY a court in New York decided that money dropped upon the floor of a street car, although by falling between the slats of the wooden mat it had become entirely hidden, was a lawful tender of fare, which the conductor must not only accept, but supply the required change.

THE water of the Dead Sea yields about two pounds to the gallon of saline substances.
