CHESTERTOWN, MD., - - APRIL 13, 1895.

EX-SENATOR CLINTON MCCULLOUGH died suddenly of heart disease at his home in Elkton last Thursday night, aged 52 years.

THAT the greatest harmony prevailed at the meeting of the State Central Committee should be the subject of congratulation, by every Democrat. The Republicans and "mugwumps" are greatly troubled over it, as was to be expected.

MARSHAL E. PRICE, a young white man, has been indicted by the Caroline grand jury and will be tried April 30, for the murder of Miss Dean. His "confession" implicating young U. G. Corkran—is not believed by anyone. Price is yet in Baltimore jail but will have to go to Denton for trial.

MR. PEARCE'S CANDIDACY.

Many of our exchanges refer to the candidacy of J. A. Pearce, Esq., for the State Senate; he is commended for his willingness to sacrifice himself for his party, while the Democracy of Kent are congratulated in having such a sure winner for the head of the ticket and the State at large in the prospect of distinguished ability in her legislative body.

In Kent among the members of our own party there is but one sentiment—that of pleasure. As stated in our last issue, it prevents any contest in the primaries for this position and simplifies the whole situation.

The Republicans are on the alert. They are not at all happy over Mr. Pearce's candidacy. They hope to carry Kent next fall—especially for the Legislature—and they know that with his strength at the head and harmony in the making of the balance of the ticket, there is no show for them. The Democracy are sure of success.

It is, therefore, the plain duty of every Democrat to discourage factional animosities. He is no friend of Mr. Pearce or of the Democracy who attempts to interpose personalisms or issues altogether at variance with the party's interests in the campaign. The times are not auspicious for buncomb, nor will the people be patient under its infliction.

Mr. James A. Pearce, of Kent, has yielded to the urgent solicitations of his friends and decided to become a candidate for the State Senate. There is no better man in Maryland than Mr. Pearce, and the Democrats of his county will doubtless support him enthusiastically.—Centreville Record.

Death's Hand in Delaware Politics.

Governor Joshua H. Marvil, of Delaware, died at his home in Laurel on Monday night in the 70th year of his age. From a poor country boy, unable to attend school, this man by personal effort rose to be the richest manufacturer in Sussex county, and Governor of the State! We have been in his box factory at Laurel and noted his personal industry and attention to every detail of that work, and at the same time marked his gentlemanly demeanor and accommodating disposition. His plant is now making annually about two million fruit baskets and crates. He leaves a widow and six children.

The death of the Governor causes a revolution in the political patronage of the State, and has been discussed far and wide. The Democrats will come into control, and over four hundred appointments will go to them. Besides, if the Republicans fail to elect a United States Senator before the adjournment of the legislature, the speaker of the Senate, Wm. T. Watson, who succeeds Governor Marvil as the State executive, may appoint a Democrat. By Speaker Watson becoming governor a new State Senator will have to be chosen from Kent county. With Mr. Watson governor, the Senate will stand four Democrats and four Republicans. Speaker Watson will serve as governor until his successor is elected in the fall of next year. The new Governor was educated at Washington College, Chestertown, and is about 47 years of age.

A LARGE CROP of peaches is expected in Delaware this year, judging from the present outlook.

THE Easton Ledger thinks that Col. John Walter Smith, "will be re-elected President of the Senate if he is not nominated for Governor."

I. S. WILSON ESQ.. of the Malboro' Gazette, advocates a dog tax for that county. The number of worthless dogs in the county has become an unmitigated nuisance and many farmers have abandoned the sheep industry as a consequence.

THE United States Supreme Court Monday decided that the income tax is unconstitutional so far as it is related to incomes from rent, State, county or municipal bonds. It was next ruled that the fact that the law was pronounced unconstitutional in these two particulars did not invalidate the law as a whole. It was announced that in this latter conclusion the court was equally divided and therefore rendered no decision. The lower court having ruled in favor of the law by a divded court the law would stand except as to rent, and State, county and municipal bonds, and on these two points it was directed that the judgment below be reversed.

TOWN ORDINANCES.

ORDINANCE No. 26.

No Hog or Shoat shall be kept within the limits of Chestertown within three hundred yards of any dwelling-house, under the penalty of a fine of one dollar for every day a violation of this provision continues. ORDINANCE No. 59.

There shall be erected on Market House Square, corner of High and Cross streets, a building for the housing of the fire apparatus and other public implements, with rooms for the meeting of the commissioners, head-quarters of town bailiffs, and such other purposes as the commissioners may find necessary; said building to cost not exceeding five thousand dollars.

ORDINANCE No. 60.

Ordered that Spring Avenue be widened by purchase or condemnation of sufficient ground off the Voshell House yard and the removal of the trees and porch in front of Hall's Hotel, and moving Hall's Hotel building back about 18 feet, so as to widen the street on a line with the Voshell House, and make said Spring Avenue 45 feet wide from High street to Calvert street.

Resolved, That ordinances 59 and 60 shall not go into effect until adopted by a majority of qualified voters of Chestertown, and that the question of adoption be submitted to the voters at the next annual election for commissioner, on Monday, April 22, 1895.

FLOUR! FLOUR! FLOUR!

"THAT YELLOW FLOUR."

AS a rule whiteness is an emblem of purity. Purity is the handmaid of cleanliness. Flour is one exception to this rule. Pure Flour is not white. White Flour is neither clean nor pure. Some color other than white must prevail to insure purity. A new process of our own enables us to produce a bright "yellow color" in

"SMITH'S FAMILY,"

Making it the standard of Purity in Flour.
