Wheat is quoted at 60 @ 62 cents in Chestertown for good to prime. In Baltimore the quotations are 62, 65½ and 69 cents for fair, and last figures for No. 2.

* *

Some valuable real estate, including several valuable farms, well located and finely improved, will be sold next Tuesday by Richard D. Hynson, Esq., trustee, etc. Also some valuable town property on Tuesday week, by Hope H. Barroll, Esq.

* *

During the absence of officer Kelley our town will be under the guardianship of Officers Copper and Walter Carsner, alias "Kit Carson." Walter is a plucky young man and will enforce the law against all offenders.

* *

Miss Martha Conner, a young lady visiting town from Annapolis, was violently thrown from her bicycle a few days ago and injured about the neck. She was run down by a team and narrowly escaped a very serious accident.

* *

The following newly elected officers were installed at Chester League Monday night: President, Vernon M. Barnett; vice-president, Geo. H. Burke; secretary, J. Randolph Rollison; treasurer, Wm. S. McDonnell; warden, W. W. Needles.

* *

Prof. Horton Corbett, organist in St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Baltimore, gave an organ recital in the Chestertown M. E. Church Tuesday evening. Among those present were Rev. W. P. Compton and wife, Mrs. James Brice, Mrs. Hines Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pippin, Mrs. Healey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Twilley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Bordley, Mrs. Jacob Thompson, Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Hiram Brown, Mrs. Joel R. Clements, Mrs. Marion Twilley, Mrs. Edw. Jones, Misses Belle Pippin, Minnie Peregoy, Anna and Sue Lambert, Clara B. Usilton, Lizzie Fowler, Fannie Baker, Annie Russell, Ida Atkinson, Cora Hynson, Mollie Parks, Emma Davis, Cora Reed, Clare Vannort, Claudia Thompson, Rose Frazier, Misses Wilkins, Anna Smith, Bessie Stuart, Marion Lusby, Mae Hill, Pearl and Katie Shuster and others.

A pair of shoes were accidentally run through the thresher while at work on the Carvill farm, near town, a few days ago, but only a slight hurt was done the machine. The shoes were of course rendered useless, and the owner was very angry with Harrison Redding, the groom, who fed them in the machine.

* *

The Emma A. Ford proved her right to the title of "Queen of the Bay" last Sunday evening by making the run from Baltimore to Chestertown in less than four hours, the actual time being three hours and forty minutes! She left Chestertown Saturday night, had her bottom scraped and returned Sunday. The difference in time on the two trips was nearly an hour, thus proving her need of the cleaning.

* *

Master Hubert Massey, son of Mr. Josiah Massey, found a balloon while at work in the corn field a few days ago. A tag was attached to the balloon but the writing could not be deciphered. Hubert secured some alcohol and sent the balloon up and it sailed off out of sight.

* *

Prof. L. J. Smyth, of Kennedyville, has been appointed teacher of Townsend public school at a special meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening. Mr. Smyth has been teaching at Kennedyville and has given entire satisfaction. The trustees regret very much to lose him while the people hold him in the highest regard. There were twelve applicants for the position. Mr. Smith will have two assistants.

* *

Worton Manor Bench was alive Wednesday with the Sunday school scholars of Chestertown and Union M. E. Churches. A pleasant time was enjoyed and no occident occurred to mar the pleasure of the day.

* *

A telegram was received Monday by Mr. Jas. Groves from R. W. Baker, of Cincinatti, Ohio, announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. Eugenie Diehl. Mrs. Diehl left Kent county about nineteen years ago and has been living in the West ever since. She was about forty-five years of age.

One of the meanest swindlers yet heard of is at large in the first district. How many persons he has taken in we have no means of knowing, but certainly quite a number if we may judge from his success in one instance reported. Commissioner Morgan, who is farming near Galena, was applied to for help by a white man who had every appearance of poverty and distress. The man said he had lost his child, and Undertaker Britton required the cash for a coffin; he said he had succeeded in getting all but one dollar and a quarter. Mr. Morgan was instantly touched and his generous nature responded. He not only gave the man all his spare change but extended the privilege of contributing to a young gentleman—Mr. Willie Knight—who was visiting him; further still, the poor supplicant was taken into the dwelling and given a good meal. Then the man left; shortly after some suspicious circumstances led Mr. Morgan to investigate. Mr. Britton, the Millington undertaker, hadn't heard of the fellow. He was a downright swindler!

* *

Mr. Max Schreiber, a deck hand on the schooner Ella E. Lawson, Capt. Jefferson, was drowned Monday night off the mouth of Still Pond Creek. The man fell overboard while hauling upon the anchor chain.

* *

Dogs raided the sheep folds of several farmers about Melitota Saturday and Sunday nights. Mr. Frank Crow lost eighteen, Mr. James Bennett fourteen and others in the neighborhood two or three each.

* *

Messrs. Eben F. and Thomas W. Perkins will launch their new boat about July 25th. The boat will be christened the "Maskan." This is an Indian word meaning strong and swift, sympolic of the new vessel.

* *

One of our merchants has placed a sign on his back gate, "Beware of the dog," which works like a charm in keeping the tramps from the house.

* *

Miss Gertie Steffie, of Baltimore, a guest at Radcliffe Manor, appeared on our streets Monday dressed in bloomers and gracefully riding her bicycle. Her costume was modest and becoming and many people hitherto prejudiced against the new dress became converts. Miss Steffie has visited various points in Kent this week making most excellent time. She has ridden over seventy-five miles in one day and in many cases has compelled her escort to acknowledge her superiority.

* *

Mr. Edw. Ringgold, of Chestertown, received the sad intelligence Sunday morning of the death of his sister on Kent Island. He immediately went to the bereaved home.

* *

The A. M. E. Church will hold a camp in Klinefelter's woods near town commencing Saturday night. The Bethelites have erected a canvas on the side of their church up town and have been holding meetings every night this week.

* *

The firm of Smith & Clements dealers in agricultural implements, etc., has been dissolved by mutual consent and Mr. Geo. W. Smith will continue the business alone. This partnership was formed in 1889. Mr. Joel R. Clements withdrew so as to give his whole attention to the interests of the Chester River Steamboat Co., whose representative he is at Chestertown.

* *

Sixty wheelmen started from Philadelphia Tuesday for Baltimore via Tolchester. They were caught in a storm at night and all but ten took the train and went straight to Baltimore. These ten wheelmen passed through Galena and Kennedyville Wednesday morning. They were delegates to the Baptist convention.

One of the most interesting boat races of the season is being arranged to take place early in August between the Sparkling Sea, of Rock Hall, and the Mayflower of Grey's Inn. These boats are very fast, made by the same builder and the race will be very exciting. Capt. Crouch has great confidence in the Mayflower and will fit her up in racing trim.

* *

Worton Presbyterian Sunday school will hold their annual picnic at Worton Manor Beach on Thursday the first day of August. Christ M. P. Church will hold their picnic on Wednesday, July 31st. Sacred Heart Church, Chestertown, went to the woods near Baker's school house and gave the children their annual picnic last Thursday.

* *

Mr. John Bell has raised about 20,000 cabbages on his fine farm near town and supplied the stores here regularly. He says his crop of canteloupes will be very large.

* *

Mr. B. F. Beck, Jr., raised more wheat to the acre on his farm near Lankford than any farmer yet heard from. His yield is estimated at thirty bushels to the acre. Mr. H. Clay Lusby, on the Wickes farm, near town, got a good yield, the estimated average being 27 bushels to the acre. Mr. Edw. Lusby, it is thought, will get over 28 bushels to the acre. A number of farmers near town got twenty-one bushels to the acre which is considered a fair crop. Mr. Charles Brown, near St. Paul's Church, shipped his wheat to Baltimore last week and received 67 cents per bushel, a cargo shipped a few days previous only brought about 62, thus showing the fluctuating price of this cereal.

* *

Prof. Rudolf Falb, the German weather prophet and prognosticator of critical days, about the middle of last month issued in Berlin another series of his "weather prognostications for 1895" comprising the last six months in the year. In this he predicts a rainy July, the wet temperature to increase in the second half of this month. August, almost up to its very close, the aerelogist expects to be likewise distinguished by rainy and cool weather. The predictions having been verified for a part of this year, both on the continent of Europe and the eastern part of the United States, it will be curious if the parallel continues for both hemispheres.

BOAT AND RIVER SPORTS.

Chestertown harbor presented quite a busy view Wednesday evening. Father Scott's yacht, of Queenstown, was anchored off Corsica's wharf, the "Eva" with flags flying was cruising about the river, Capt. Jos. Downey's pretty schooner, with Capt. Dowling in charge, lay at anchor awaiting a cargo of wheat, the Marie Westcott came up at 2 P. M., and dropped anchor alongside Capt. Downey; Capt. Apsley's schooner lay at Thompson's wharf unloading coal, the Emma A. Ford lay at her wharf while the many pretty skiffs and row boats flitted about everywhere.

* *

The Marie Westcott arrived in harbor Wednesday at 2 P. M., with Mr. Charles T. Westcott and party on board, having been gone eleven days. They visited Old Point, Norfolk, Virginia Beach, Portsmouth, Newport News and report a delightful trip. They left Old Point at 8 A. M., Monday and reported passing the Scott off Eastern bay at 11 A. M. Tuesday. The Colonel was standing on deck with a lady on either side, and when Dr. Dodd invited him to join his party, the Colonel replied "you've got nothing like this on board," and the doctor answered "that's a fact; I wish we had," and Arthur said "me too." The ladies returned fat and sunburned, while the gentlemen are well tanned by the Virginia suns.

* *

A party of business men left Chestertown at 2 P. M., Monday on the "Edith W. Scott" for Old Point Comfort, Virginia Beach and other points. Before leaving the whole party were photographed. The company included Messrs. J. K. Aldridge, James W. Lambert, D. A. Bacchus, Dr. H. L. Dodd, Amos B. Kelley, Wm. R. Aldridge, John H. Aldridge, Prof. T. D. Bowers, James Shuster. Capt. Darius Coleman is in command of the Scott; G. Hines Thomas, mate; Robert Cohee, Albert Taylor, seamen; Walter Bordley, colored, steward. The party is well provided with bread, ham, chickens, etc., and expect to return about the 28th.

* *

One of the most enjoyable sailing parties of the season was that of Monday evening on board the "Eva." Those on board were Misses Lizzie Watts, Carrie Bryan, Hattie Reed, Bessie Miller, Susie Reiche, Katie Smith, Gertie Copper, Rose Frazier, Claudia Thompson, Miss Conner, of Annapolis, Mrs. India Wortz, of Baltimore, Miss Annie Armstrong, of Smyrna, Captain Dickerson, Mate V. Barnett, Wm. S. McDonnell, Horace Reed, Wm. B. Usilton, Jr., Allie Russell, Harry T. Hoyle, Meeteer Wallace, George H. Burke, Foster Cannan, Mr. Richards, Mr. Wortz, C. Blackiston.

* *

Perch fishing on Chester bridge commenced this week, but the first catch are very small. Messrs. S. Q. Moody, Dr. C. W. Whaland, Edw. Lambert, J. W. Duyer and a host of others have been trying their luck this week.

Big Grass.—Mr. Alday Clements is the monarch grass grower of the county. He has sixteen large ricks besides a barn full, the whole crop being estimated at 275 tons.

Mr. H. C. Stevens, of Crumpton, grew some immense grass, some stalks measuring seven feet, nine inches.

Mr. J. W. Boggs, of the same neighborhood also raised some big clover.

A correspondent of the KENT NEWS thinks that Centreville visitors who come to Chestertown to witness baseball games exhibit an unneighborly spirit in "rooting" for the opposing club, and we are disposed to think, from all we have heard about the matter, that the correspondent is about right in his strictures. We know no reason why the baseball enthusiasts should not root for the Chestertown club as often as any other, it certainly would be more neighborly.—Centreville Observer.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Dr. S. G. Fisher is visiting his son at Port Deposit.

Mr. Henry Deaver, book-keeper in the Second National Bank, is enjoying a vacation in Western Maryland and other places.

Misses Annie Deal and Mollie Byron, are guests of Mrs. Wilson Smith.

Dr. John L. Wethered arrived in town Monday after a fifteen months' stay in Germany. He is improved in health and gives evidence of it. Dr. Wethered says the thermometer did not reach above twelve degrees during the winter, but skating was enjoyed from November to February. He has not seen a baseball game since leaving America, the Berlin people taking no interest in the game. Their houses are uniform in height and appearance. The height is regulated by the width of the street, most of the houses being five stories. Beer is as plentiful as water and is served on all occasions. Dr. Wethered is of the opinion that foreign singers surpass those of America. He returned home on the handsome new steamship Saint Louis which made the run in 6 days and 12 hours. This steamer pays her chief engineer $250 per month, first assistant $125, second $100 and third $84. The Captain receives $5,000 per year, the 1st officer $1,500 and the 2nd $1,000. There are 200 men all told in the engineer's department and whole ship's crew numbers 410 men. Dr. Wethered has not determined where he will locate.
