LOCAL NEWS.

Operations Begun.—Mr. Jos. Downey commenced operations Tuesday at his cannery on the river.

Ladies' Building.—The Visitors of Washington College are seriously considering the building of a ladies' dormitory at the college. Plans have been submitted and contractors will present bids at an early day. Such a building is needed at the college as there is expected a number of lady students this year.

Peaches Sold at $1.15 a Basket!—Monday was a big day at Millington railroad station. Eight car loads of fine peaches were shipped from there, all of which were bought by buyers on the spot. One farmer drove to the station with 86 baskets of peaches and returned home with $86. Another grower received $1.15 per basket for some extra fine fruit. Buyers are present from Boston, Wilmington, New York, Scranton, New Haven, Providence, Chicago and other points and the competition is at times quite exciting.

In Close Quarters.—A gentleman of Chestertown, desirous of a mess of peaches, visited an orchard near town a few days ago but returned home minus the peaches. When in the midst of the orchard he was suddenly overtaken by the overseer who fired a load of beans or shot at the marauder causing him to drop all his peaches and run his fastest.

Another Big Day.—Next Tuesday will be a big day at Tolchester. Three boats will bring thousands of Protestants and noted speakers will discuss the "New Issue." A flag will be given every visitor. A big display of fireworks will be given in the evening, also a grand ball.

Big Sale of Stock.—On Thursday next Marion deKalb Smith, Esq., as trustee for Mr. L. C. Justis, Jr., will sell 50 Holstein-Freisian cattle, 25 horses, colts and mules, 100 hogs, and a large lot of agricultural implements. This is one of the largest public sales ever made in the county and ought to attract general interest among those desiring first class blooded stock. See advertisement in another column.

An Ugly Act.—Some one has cut the three pretty trees in front of Christ Church, Chestertown. These trees are three years old and the injury to them may be serious. Mr. Baker has doctored them, and it is hoped that they will live. Parents should impress upon their children the result of cutting trees, as in this case the damage was likely done by some child. The offence is punishable with a term in prison.

Horses at Three Dollars a Head.—A band of about 7000 horses was bought on a range in Umatilla county, Wash., last week by the Portland Horse Meat Canning Company at $3 a head. This was the price on the range. The horses will be taken to Portland as required. Three hundred were sent as soon as the sale was concluded. The agent of the company, who is travelling through the range country, says that the hide, mane and tail alone of each horse will bring $2.50, leaving the entire carcas a clear profit. There is a singular reticence about the actual purposes for which the carcasses are to be used, and various people connected with the concern talk variously about fertilizers, grease, canned steaks and many other products.

Visiting the Jail and Almshouse.—Dr. William Lee, secretary of the State lunacy commission, on Saturday made his annual inspection of the Kent county jail and almshouse, and was evidently gratified at the result of his official visit. He said: "I find no insane persons in Kent jail, and the inmates are in as satisfactory condition as those in any jail so far visited in the State. At the county almshouse there are nine cases which come within the provisions of the State lunacy act. One of them, a woman, should be removed to some asylum in the State for care and treatment. Dr. J. A. Perkins, the attending physician, has promised to have the case removed as soon as a vacancy for such a case can be found in any of the State institutions.

"The rooms and general comfort of the inmates are satisfactory and no complaint was made by any of them. Could an additional attendant, however, be provided for the sick and afflicted the value of the institution would be greatly increased. In saying this, however, I do not wish to be understood as censuring or criticising those in control."

In referring to the proposed State asylum, Dr. Lee expressed himself as having been most favorably impressed with a site near Millington, Kent county, near the spot where Dr. J. H. Hill was killed. He stated, however, that, in his opinion, the advantages possessed by locations on the Western Shore of the bay would more than neutralize the claims of the Eastern Shore.

A Miraculous Escape.

Mr. Wm. Wilkins, of near Rock Hall, has been in bed this week suffering with a dislocated knee, as the result of an accident on Saturday. He was sitting in his road cart at Mr. Robert Wickes', when his sister came from the house and approached him. The horse was a very quiet animal, but the rustle of the lady's skirts scared the animal and he bounded away in great fright. The sudden start threw Mr. W., who became entangled in the shafts and was dragged quite a distance. Mrs. Wickes was knocked down by the horse, but fortunately only the light cart passed over her body. She was helped to the house and soon recovered from her fright. The reins caught around the axle and finally became so tight that the horse was stopped and Mr. Wilkins was extricated. Dr. Wilson was summoned and treated the dislocated knee, etc.

RELIGIOUS NEWS.

Local Pulpits Filled by Visiting Preachers—Change at Galena.

Rev. Mr. Chambers, who has been serving the people at the Galena P. E. Church, for the past year, has received a call to a charge in the State of Washington whither he will move at an early day. He has given entire satisfaction at Galena and the people there are sorry to part with him.

Rev. Dr. S. R. Murray and family are guests of friends near Centreville. Christ Church pulpit will be occupied both morning and evening Sunday by Rev. J. H. S. Ewell, of Georgetown, Del., and on Sunday, 25th, by Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham.

Rev. C. S. York preached at Union M. E. Church Sunday morning and at Double Creek woods meeting at night. There was a big meeting and ten conversions.

Rev. E. H. Nelson acceptably filled the M. E. Church pulpit Sunday morning and Presiding Elder Smith at night. The pastor, Rev. W. P. Compton, was in attendance at Whiteside camp.

Rev. Dr. Macnichol preached in Still Pond M. E. Church Sunday morning.

A convention of the Sunday schools of this district will be held at Clayton, Del., next Wednesday and Thursday. Christ M. P. Church has elected Mrs. Frank Leary and Miss Bertha Miller delegates.

Rev. W. H. Stone is off on his vacation and regular services of Westminster and Grace Presbyterian churches will be discontinued until first Sunday in Sept.

Arrangements are being made to build a new church in the vicinity of Templeville at a place known as Schenk's corner, in the upper part of the county. Some years ago a congregation of 100 or more built a church at this place and it was called the "Free Gospel Church." It flourished for a number of years but not having a regular pastor or constituted head of the congregation it gradually waned and the church building was neglected and finally utilized for other purposes. The earnest and leading members of the "Free Gospel" congregation a short time ago invited Rev. B. F. Jester, pastor of Clayton M. P. Church, to come preach for them and explain the doctrine of Methodism as held by his congregation. Last week Rev. Mr. Jester preached to a large congregation and the members thereof decided to join the M. P. Church and a large number joined on the spot. At the same time about 100 persons were baptised in order to prepare them to become members. Mr. Wm. Perkins a leading Methodist and wealthy merchant of Templeville subscribed $200 to build a new church-building, which, with the determination of the new congregation, makes the undertaking a success.—Record.

Rev. Fred. E. McKinsey, formerly pastor of the Sassafras and Massey circuit, put now of Elmore, Va., occupied the bulpit of Bethany M. E. Church, Cape Charles City, Va., Sunday, the 11th.

Straw-rides.—A grand and enjoyable "straw-ride" left the residence of Mr. William B. Wilmer last Thursday evening. A merry crowd of ladies, gentlemen and children were on board. They attended the ball at Worton Manor Beach.

A company of young people went on a delightful straw-ride last Saturday eve, leaving the pretty residence of Mr. John Clendaniel, near Kennedyville, for the sandy shore of the Chester river, where they liberally patronized a festival held near Crumpton. They then journeyed homeward where a repast of ice-cream, cake, etc., was awaiting to refresh them ere they returned to their respective abodes. It was declared one of the most enjoyable events of the season. Among those in the company were Misses Emma Clendaniel, Maggie Nickerson, Mary Clendaniel, Caddie Nickerson, Sadie Nickerson, Hallie Lecates, Maude Carson, of Trenton, N. J., and Cecelia Harvey, of Baltimore. Messrs. Howard Clendaniel, S. V. Nickerson, J. F. Clarke, Thomas Clarke, J. Frank Harris, John Nickerson, H. C. Copper and Elwood Wood.

Racing at Worton Manor.—Messrs. Pennington and Stephens gave their friends a good exhibition of trotting at Worton Manor Beach last Saturday. Every one had a good time. The record of trials was as follows:

First race, 3.10.—Proctor, E. F. Crowding, 3, 4; Billy S., W. B. Stephens, 1, 1; Roan, George Walbeat, 2, 3; Bay, S. Fox, 4, 2. Time, 2.57, 2.53.
Three min. class.—Kate R., Ottie Schofield, 2; Romulus, Bedford Roe, 1. Time, 2.57½.
Colt Race.—Grover L., C. Long, 1, 1; Pat Maloy, H. Smith, 3, 3; Sunday, H. Geary, 2, 2. Time, 3.10, 3.11.
Free for all.—Grover S., W. B. Stephens, 1, 2; Bob, Elwood Morris, 2, 1. Time, 2.41, 2.40½, 3.30.—Grover C., A. Crawford; Nellie, Geo. Hudson; Sunday, W. Ashley.
Judges, Thomas Gale, E. P. Beck, J. S. Constable.

Accidentally Hurt at Tolchester.—Mr. W. H. Benedict, who lives in Philadelphia, and who is visiting his brother, was carried to Baltimore on Monday on the steamer Louise from Tolchester suffering from injuries to his head, back and right arm, caused by falling from a car while he was taking a ride at Tolchester. Mrs. Benedict said her husband took a back seat in one of the cars with two ladies. "As the car passed the place where I was standing," she continued, "my husband waved his hand to me. As he did this the car entered the tunnel. When it reached the stopping place I saw that Mr. Benedict was missing. I was alarmed, and when a second car reached the same place a search was made. Mr. Benedict was found lying inside of the tunnel. He was picked up and removed to the boat."

Big Storm.—Chestertown's inhabitants saw the big cloud which hung in the West Sunday evening and anxiously watched it, hoping that rain would fall therefrom and cool the atmosphere. They were disappointed however, for it passed them by and gave Baltimore not only rain, but also hail and wind, and we should feel thankful it was not here. Houses were unroofed, a new church's walls blown down, fences and chimneys blown down and havoc was played along the course of the storm, but its geographical limits were fortunately very much restricted. In the midst of the storm lightning struck the fertilizer factory of Joshua Horner, Jr., & Co., and the whole plant was destroyed, the loss being nearly $100,000 with $45,000 insurance.

Death of the First Born.—James Harrison, the 15 months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Harrison Collins, died last Saturday of cholera infantum. Funeral was held Sunday afternoon from Mrs. Spencer's boarding house, interment in Chester cemetery. We sorrow with Bro. Collins, and extend him our tenderest sympathies in his loss.

The Circus Coming.—Hunting's Show will give an exhibition in Chestertown on Thursday, August 29th. This show was here in October, 1893, and exhibited on the lot adjoining the Misses Blackiston's home. They will show on Mr. Gale Usilton's lot on Cannon street.

A Change Probable.—Mrs. M. E. Watts, who has so successfully conducted a boarding house on Chester river, will likely have to move next year as Mr. Charles T. Westcott is contemplating the removal of his family to that desirable mansion.
