MILLS are starting up and wages are being increased, and this is the sort of news we like to print.

A COLORED Republican politician insisted upon "interviewing" one of his white brethren in the Carrollton Hotel last Wednesday when a fight ensued. Knives were drawn, and it required one or two knock downs to settle the matter.

THE Republican primaries in Baltimore and the city convention caucussings were attended with scenes of disorder and wrangling exceeding anything charged against the Democracy in recent years. The factional spirit was very bitter.

CAMBRIDGE has been honored with three political conventions this week—the Republican, the Prohibition, and the Populist. Great crowds were present on Thursday and the town was taxed to its utmost to supply the necessary eatables and drinkables.

GOOD TIMES—the consequence of a reformed tariff by the last Democratic Congress—is booming along the same industrial lines. The latest report is from Pittsburgh, where a hundred thousand miners have been granted an increase of wages with an additional increase to be in effect next January.

EVERY DEMOCRATIC PAPER IN MARYLAND is heartly in line supporting the Democratic State ticket. We regret that lack of space prevents our giving extracts from the editorial utterances of our brethren. The battle is now on. It is a square fight between Democracy and Republicanism.

A BETTER Democratic ticket—State and county—was never presented to the people by conventions of the party, than the present. The platform also is all any Democrat can desire. The opponents of Democracy have presented a rank Republican ticket and platform. If the Democrats of Kent county cannot harmoniously and heartily unite under these circumstances and poll every Democratic vote for their ticket, then it is hard to conceive how such desirable results can ever be secured.

Republican Nominees.

The Republican State convention met in Cambridge on Thursday and nominated the following ticket:

For Governor—Lloyd Lowndes, of Allegany County.
Comptroller—Robert P. Graham, of Wicomico County.
Attorney General—Harry M. Clabaugh, of Carroll county.

The nomination of Messrs. Lowndes and Clabaugh were made by acclamation. The opposition to Lowndes was very bitter, but Mr. Malster, his principal opponent, after a gallant fight, withdrew from the contest. The first test of strength of the day was over temporary organization. The Malster people played politics and supported Westcott, of Kent, a Lowndes man, forcing some other Eastern Shore counties to him. The Lowndes people had their forces so well in hand, however, that they elected John C. Rose by a good majority. The Malster leaders then began to play for time, and the long wrangle over a recess resulted in a triumph for the Lowndes men. This and the action of the committee on resolutions determining the contests before it showed the Malster men that they had no show, and it was then decided not to place Mr. Malster before the convention.

For Comptroller two candidates were put in nomination—L. E. P. Dennis, of Somerset, and Graham, of Wicomico. The latter was successful on the first ballot, the vote being Graham 96½, Dennis 19½. Kent's three votes were given to Dennis.

THE attempt of the Republican press to injure Mr. Hurst by charging him with being "a Gorman candidate" is so peurile and false that it is astounding that any Democrat should be influenced by it. Those who know anything at all about the matter know that Mr. Hurst was not in any sense Mr. Gorman's selection. If Senator Gorman is entitled to credit for any political act of his life he deserves it in this, that he did not attempt to force a "personal" candidate. He gave up his choice for what he was made to believe was the best interest of the party; and the apparent demand of the people for a new man—a non-factional candidate—was fully conceded in the nomination of Mr. Hurst.

THE LETTER of Hon. John E. Hurst, accepting the Democratic nomination for Governor, is given in full in this issue to the exclusion of other interesting matter. Its importance justifies this. Though lengthy it should be carefully read It is honest, straight forward, manly. Even the Baltimore Sun, in all its bitterness against the ticket, concedes the frankness and ability of this letter. The American sees nothing good in it, of course. The Herald looks at it fairly, and says: "Mr. Hurst has left nothing in doubt, and even his critics must admit that his avowals, admissions and declarations are candid and courageous."

COL. W. J. VANNORT says his ticket is nominated and will win. The Baltimore American says the same. Four years ago it was likewise their ticket, and the American was sure of its success, just as it is now predicting a Republican Governor. The Colonel and the American were left before to the tune of over thirty thousand! They will be left again in November by a big majority. Now, as then, precisely, it is Democracy against Republicanism, and the Democracy will win. All attempts of the American, and other enemies of the Democracy, to create side issues for the benefit of the Republicans will surely fail this time.

THE Republican ticket—announced in another column as having been nominated at Cambridge on Thursday—was expected here. It will be satisfactory to the Republicans generally as it is thoroughly partizan. Mr. Lowndes represents every principle of Republicanism objectionable to Democrats, and is, therefore, just the man the Democracy is most desirous of defeating. Kent will give a rousing majority against such a ticket.

GOING TO WORK!
