Diagnosis of Love.

Love.—A nervous disorder affecting the entire system and sometimes even the clothes and food of the victim. Peculiar of both sexes of all ages, from childhood to second childhood. Always fatal age: seldom in youth.

Symptons.—Loss of appetite and interest in mundane affairs. Anxiety as to personal appearance. Longing for flowers and poetry. Demented belief in the absolute perfection of some being of the opposite sex. Vacant expression of the eyes and cerebral cavity. Patient speaks in monosyllables and takes an especial interest in the monosyllable. "Yes."

Treatment.—One dose of the monosyllable "No," and nursing, for males.

For females a new sealskin jacket, diamonds and a trip to Paris are sometimes effectious.

An application of "stern parents" may be of no use, but more often merely excites the malady.

Marriage is an absolute specific. But is not dangerous that it is never use dexcept in extreme cases.

The House Was Not Safe.

Workingmen not only have the sensitiveness of other people about their personal integrity, but sometimes may have a neat way of replying to an imputation upon it.

A carpenter, sent to make some repairs in a private house, entered the apartment of the lady of the house with his apprentice.

"Mary," the lady called to her servant, "see that my jewel case is locked at once!"

The carpenter understood. He removed his watch and chain from his vest with a significant air, and gave them to his apprentice.

"John," he said, "take these right back to the shop. It seems that the house isn't safe."

Too Matter-of-Fact. — She wasn't feeling very well, and had been making him go two or three times to the chemist's.

At last he got comfortably settled in front of the fire with a newspaper.

"George, dear."

"Well?"

"We have been very happy together, haven't we?"

"Yes."

"I have always been a true and loving wife to you, haven't I?"

"Un—huh."

"George."

"Well?"

"If I should—if I should not be spared to you, you will not marry again?"

"Not if I know it!" replied George, with such alacrity and emphasis that she rose from the sofa and went to her room.

A Remarkable Dog.—"I have a dog," said a minister, who had just heard a precious crow story, "who is very sagacious. One Sunday he followed me to church and sat among the people and watched my movements in the pulpit. That afternoon I heard a terrible howling in my back yard, and of course went to see what it meant. I found my dog was in a wood-shed, standing on his hind legs in a dry goods box. He held down a torn almanac with one paw and gesticulated with the other, while he swayed his head and howled to an audience of four other dogs even more sadly than I had done in the morning."

The narrator of the crow story threw up the sponge.

And no Wonder.—"I have seen some pretty remarkable whist hands," said the "commercial," as he began to deal. "When I was making my last trip to Manchester, I saw one man hold all thirteen trumps."

"That's not very unusual," remarked one of his hearers.

"Not at all; but the curious part of it was that he only took one trick."

"How's that?"

"Why, he trumped his partner's ace first time round, and his partner got up and threw him out of the window.

Marketed 850 Bushels of Onions.—George Fenn, of Charlotte, Michigan, marketed 850 bushels of onions in one day recently, using fourteen teams. His sales in one week brought $1,500. Had he kept his entire crop for spring market he would have received $13,000 for it, a yield of $50 per acre.

JONES—A man in Boston in his hurry to assist a fainting lady got a bottle of mucilage instead of camphor and bathed her face with it.

Smith—He did, eh. Well, she must have been a good deal stuck up with his doctoring.

"SAY, Jack, what is the capital of Switzerland?"

Jack (who has just returned from abroad)—"Why, the money they get from travelers, of course."

MRS. HUSHMORE — You'll have to settle up or leave.

Summer Boarder—Thanks, awfully, the last place I was at they made me do both.

WHEN a man has more money than he knows what to do with, he very soon learns what.

MASURY'S HOUSE PAINTS!

THE MOST ECONOMICAL AND DURABLE in the MARKET.

They are not an experiment but have been in use for more than twenty years in Chestertown and vicinity. In adopting the same, no error of judgment can be committed, as the goods are established facts, which is best proven by the attached testimonials from Frank H. Howard and W. J. Sappington.

CHESTERTOWN, MD., May, 13th, '95.
MR. PERCY T. MCFEELY.
Dear Sir:—In regard to Masury's Paints they are first-class in every respect and their Combination Lead is the best on the market. It will go further and cover up better than any Combination on the market. We have been using these goods for 20 years and they have given entire satisfaction, and I think we ought to know a GOOD LEAD in that time, being the largest users of Lead and Oil in the county, we know what we are talking about, and we have used some of their Ready Mixed Paints, and think they are the best in the market. You always get a full gallon when you buy their Paint.
Yours respectfully,
Signed, FRANK H. HOWARD.

CHESTERTOWN, MD., May 17, '95.
MR. PERCY T. MCFEELY.
Gentlemen:—I have used Masury's Goods for the past ten years, and I believe Masury Coloring Matter to be the best manufactured. I have used John W. Masury & Son's Pure Combination White Lead to my own satisfaction and to the satisfaction of the owners of the property on which I used it. It has stood on my work as good as Pure White Lead and Zinc. I haven't had one single job to crack, peel off, blister or chalk. I have done some jobs with Masury's Combination as far back as 1887 and a number all the way along to 1895. Respectfully yours,
Signed, W. J. SAPPINGTON.
