OCTOBER COURT.

Interesting Proceedings, Civil and Criminal.

The circuit court for Kent county convened on Monday morning, with His Honor Judge Joseph A. Wickes presiding. Judge Frederick Stump arrived on the noon train and took his place on the bench. The officers of the court are: Clerk, S. G. Fisher; deputy, F. H. Greenwood; bailiffs, Jervis Spencer and James A. Russell; Geo. C. Atkinson, bailiff to grand jury.

GRAND JURY.

Jas. F. M. Woodall, foreman.	George Beck,
Joseph Peterson,	James W. Ivens,
Thomas G. Wroth,	Charles C. Wood,
James L. Beck,	John H. Clendaniel,
Wm. T. Brown,	Azariah M. Kendall,
Wm. H. Bowers,	John A. Groves,
Geo. H. Watts,	J. Ford Caulk,
Samuel Comegys,	William Wagner,
Wm. G. Trew,	Milbourn A. Toulson,
James A. Casey,	George A. Jessop,
John Dickinson.	Charles H. Hurlock,
	George W. Davis.

The Judge called the attention of the grand jury to the importance of keeping absolutely secret the doings that transpire in their room. He also called their attention to the violation of the local option law, and stated that he had no personal knowledge himself, but had been informed that it had been very much better observed since last spring's term of court, when through a determined effort on the part of a number of law-abiding citizens of the county, several of the offenders were brought to this court and they were prosecuted and punished.

The dockets were called and cases marked for trial.

Frederick A. Williams, a native of Germany, filed his declaration to become a citizen of the United States.

TUESDAY.

State vs. Jervis Dunn for selling whiskey to James A. Russell. Trial before court. Verdict guilty; fine $200 or House of Correction for four months. Slay for State; Dunn had no counsel.

William Gladuck vs. Robert Wickes. This case was brought over from last fall's term. Gladuck sued Wickes for money borrowed by Wickes from Gladuck. Mr. Wickes claimed to have paid Gladuck. Jury trial. Pearce and Wickes for Wickes, and Barroll and Clarence W. Perkins for Gladuck. Continued to Wednesday.

The grand jury brought in presentments against Henry Calvin and Samuel Ellis for stealing turkeys from Wm. B. Ford. Two cases against James Roe for selling whiskey, and three against Frank Cranor for selling pear cider.

WEDNESDAY.

Gladuck vs. Wickes. Continued from yesterday. Verdict for Gladuck for $225 and costs.

Samuel Green, native of England and Karl Riehl, were naturalized as citizens of the United States.

The grand jury brought in the following presentments: Two against John Hammond for false swearing before register of voters; two against Sandy Hastings, for same offense; one against Jas. Roberts for selling whiskey, and one against Edward Armstrong, for the same offense.

The case was called and jury summoned in the case of Hope H. Barroll, as attorney, against the board of county commissioners for $5,000 damages for the drowning of Lee James, colored, in Price's mill pond. James was crossing the mil race on some boards, when he fell into the water and was drowned.

Court then adjourned.

THURSDAY.

Court convened with Judges Wickes and Stump on the bench. The case against the county occupied the attention of the court all day. This case was brought to an abrupt close late in the afternoon, after all the plaintiffs' evidence was heard, by the court's ruling. The court instructed the jury to render a verdict for the defendant, there being no evidence sufficient to justify any other verdict. The court ruled that the plaintiff had not shown the foot-path to have been a public highway kept up by the county.

The grand jury brought in indictments against J. E. Armstrong and James Roberts, for selling whiskey; T. S. Dodd, for neglect of duty in not arresting Jas. Johnson: Noah Tillison, for stealing a coat from Thos. Anderson.

FRIDAY.

Court met with Judges Wickes and Stump on the bench. The case of W. B. Kendall against Sheriff T. S. Dodd, was tried before the court; H. H. Barroll for plaintiff, R. D. Hynson and W. W. Beck for defendant. This was a case in which Kendall claimed his exemption from a sheriff's sale. The court held the case under consideration.

State vs. James Roberts, for selling liquor, was tried before a jury. Verdict guilty, and fined $100 and costs, or be confined in the House of Correction for two months. Slay for State, H. W. Catlin for defense.

The grand jury filed their final report, and were discharged with the thanks of the court.

Court Notes.

The damage suit of Blain vs. the board of county commissioners, has been compromised at the soliciation of Roswell R. Walker, the attorney of Mr. Blain, in consideration of $25, to cover the actual expenses of the plaintiff up to that stage of the prosecution. The case, it will be remembered, had been removed to Cecil county. Mr. Blain is a civil engineer of Easton, and while crossing Chester river in a ferry during repairs to Chester bridge, the boat was overloaded, and in returning to shore grounded. Mr. Blain mounted his horse to ride to the shore, but the animal became stuck in the mud and the rider was compelled to dismount in the shallow water, and sued the commissioners for damages.

Clarence W. Perkins, Esq., of the Baltimore bar, has been in attendance upon our court this week. He had a case and won it. His speech before the jury was very creditable and his wise counsel assisted substantially in winning the case.

The whiskey cases against Jas. Roe, Edw. Armstrong and Frank Cranor will be taken up to-day. Court will likely adjourn Monday or Tuesday.

H. W. Catlin, Esq., made his maiden speech before a jury yesterday in the case of State vs. James Roberts for selling whiskey. It was a manly effort and one that foretells a bright future for our young friend.

J. H. C. Legg, Esq., of the Centreville bar, was in town on Monday, having business before the court.

Temporary deputy, Willard Melvin, is assisting Clerk S. G. Fisher and Deputy Greenwood at the present term of court.

The last case disposed of in the Talbot court was that of Mrs. Annie E. Lee, of Talbot county, against the county commissioners of that county. Mrs. Lee claimed $3,000 damages sustained in driving over a bad bridge, through which her horse fell. Mrs. Lee was thrown from her carriage and her side was painfully injured. Her horse was crippled and the vehicle damaged. The trial was an interesting one, and the arguments made by the attorneys were spirited. A verdict for $1,000 was brought in. Counsel for the commissioners made a motion for a new trial.

The case of the Fait & Slagle Company, canned goods brokers, of Baltimore city, against Captain Joseph Downey, a packer of this county, for breach of contract to deliver canned goods, has been compromised, the Baltimore firm getting 25 cases of tomatoes and $10 in cash. Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., represented the plaintiff, and Hope H. Barroll Captain Downey.

Temperance Lecture.

Miss Alice Palmer, a returned missionary from South Africa, lectured on temperance to a fair audience in Christ Church Thursday evening. Miss Anna Stewart, the efficient State secretary of the "Y," introduced the fair speaker with a few encouraging remarks on the growth of the great cause. Miss Palmer is a native of Indiana, and is a very earnest speaker. She had just returned from Baltimore and was full of the enthusiasm which existed at the big convention, and described some of the prominent workers present and some of the scenes she witnessed. She touched upon the progress of temperance in Africa, and told of the good work being done there by the Governor in not allowing whiskey to enter the ports of that country. She hoped this treaty would continue, and predicted an early revolution on the dark continent.

The speaker just skimmed over her subject, being unable in the short hour to do herself or her subject justice. She spoke again last night, and went further beneath the surface. Miss Palmer will speak in Christ Church Sunday morning and in the M. E. Church at night.

Sport at Worton Manor Beach.—About two hundred people gathered at the track on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 10, for a wind-up. There were three closely contested races. Charles Jones was there, and catered to the wants of the crowd with his famous oyster scalds. We were also treated to an address from Messrs. Beck and Caulk on the duties of all Democrats, which was loudly applauded. Summary of trotting:

FIRST RACE.

Proctor, blk h, Crowden	1	1
Grover S., b h, Long	2	2
Guss, or No. 6, Geary	3

Time, 3.07, 3.17.

Guss' owner thought that he was distanced, but he was mistaken.

SECOND RACE.

Wild Irishman, b h, Parrott	2	1 1
Billie S., b h, Stevens	1	2 2

Time, 2.52½, 3.00, 2.54.

THIRD RACE.

Bob, br h, Morris	1	1
Frank, b c, John Brice	2	2

Time, 2.56, 2.54.

Scolarship Awarded. — Mr. Joseph W. Sutton, of Black's Station, was appointed to the vacant scholarship at Washington College by the Orphans' Court on Tuesday, having received the highest average.

Scarlet Fever. — Millington is now infested with the scarlet fever scourge and the public schools have been ordered to close, by advice of the health commissioner, Dr. W. Frank Hines. The cases now number thirteen. Miss Helen Power closed her school over a week ago. The churches have been interfered with also.

A Fine Fruit Exhibit.—Mr. Carson W. Harris, of "Sandy Hill," in Still Pond, sends us a basket of large Keifer pears. In the lot was a twig eight inches long which bore sixteen fine large pears! It was certainly a curiosity, and Mr. C. F. Stam has had it on exhibition in his store. Mr. Harris' crop of Keifer pears this year will exceed twelve thousand baskets, all of which were sold to Watson & Walker, of Dover, for shipment West.

Chestertown In It. — The largest, most successful and most enjoyable 100-mile run of cyclers that ever started south of Mason's and Dixon's line was that of the Century Cycling Club of Maryland on Sunday. There were three hundred starters and 246 finished within the specified time of 16 hours and each will get a silver medal. There were five ladies who finished within the time limit and a boy, aged 11. Mr. Sereck Shallcross, of Chestertown, was among the winners, making the run in 14 hrs. Mr. J. D. Lucas intended starting but did not reach Baltimore in time.

Officers Elected. — The stockholders of the Tolchester Company held the annual meeting at Tolchester last Saturday. The report of President Eliason was very satisfactory and Superintendent Noland commended for his excellent management. The old board was re-elected with Capt. W. C. Eliason as president.

A Junior Order of American Mechanics was organized at Rock Hall last week. The following officers were elected: Junior Past Councilor, Charles N. Satterfield; councilor, Frank Ayers; vice-councilor, Clarence Greenwood; treasurer, John J. Scoone; recording recretary, Joseph W. Kendall; assistant recording secretary, Romie N. Stevens; contractor, Charles Webb; warden, E. P. Kendall; inside sentinel, Kendall Urie; outside sentinal, Geo. T. Rollison; financial secretary, E. H. Apsley; trustees Charles N. Satterfield, Charles Webb, George Ashley.

A branch of the Mutual Protection Building and Loan Association, of Baltimore, was started at Rock Hall last Thursday. John W. Downey was elected president, with Robert S. Crew as secretary and treasurer; George E. Lambert, Chas. L. Miller are members of the board of directors.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

Rev. W. K. Galloway is assisting Rev. J. B. Merritt with his revival meeting at Union M. E. Church. Thirty accessions to the church have already resulted and nine persons professed conversion Wednesday night. The neighborhood is being awakened and prominent heads of families are being brought into the fold.

Dr. S. R. Murray addressed a class of probationers at Christ Church on last Thursday night.

Presiding Elder Alfred Smith preached in the M. E. Church, Chestertown, on Sunday evening.

Rev. Dr. John H. Willey, formerly of Chestertown, has been elected to the chair of Philosophy and Christian Evidence in Syracuse University. He and wife are making a tour in Europe and the East and will spend the winter in Germany.

Rev. Fred. E. McKinsey, who was stationed on Sassafras and Massey circuit in 1892, has been transferred from Exmore, Va., the appointment to which he was assigned last spring, to Little Creek, Del., about 4 miles from Dover, the capital of the State.

Honors to Our Boys.—On Saturday, Nov. 2nd, the proprietors of Oehm's Acme Hall will run an excursion th Baltimore, on the occasion of the football match between the Washington College football team and the Baltimore City College team. They have chartered the "B. S. Ford" and full particulars will be found in their ad. Kent and Queen Anne's people will be glad to hear that Wm. G. Dudley and Charles Rolph will be on the Steamer assisting Mr. Sherman Earl, Oehm & Co. 's Manager, to take good care of the ladies and children. Tickets should be secured early, as the management will not allow the boat to be crowded. Tickets are 50 cents, and they are for sale at a number of places in Chestertown and Centreville, they also may be had from Oehm's Acme Hall, or on the boat on the day of the excursion.

THE good order last Tuesday in Chestertown was remarkable. There was very little drunkenness.

DEATH'S SHAFTS.

They Strike at Shining Marks in this Community.

Mr. Clarence Dyott, a Christian gentleman and an appreciated business man, died at his home on Cross street, Chestertown, at 4.15 P. M. Monday, aged 36 years. The deceased was attacked in August, 1894, with consumption of the throat, and finally had to resign his position in Baltimore and remove to Chestertown, hoping the quietness of the place would possibly help him. Kind friends ministered unto him, but alas, the cold hand of death was laid upon him and he passed peacefully into the realms above.

Mr. Dyott was a son of William H. and Debby Dyott, and was born at his parents home on Corsica riven in Queen Anne's county. At the age of thirteen he stopped school and commenced what in after years proved to be a successful career as salesman and an expert in fine goods, in the store of Mr. Beck in Broad Neck. He then entered the store of Mr. Joseph Rasin, in Easton, afterward becoming a clerk in the store of Mr. James Rose, in Chestertown. He went to Richmond, Va., then went to Centreville with J. Hersey Hall, and twelve years ago he became a salesman in the large store of Bernei, in Baltimore, and was with Joel Gutman for eight years as buyer.

In the latter place his services were invaluable, and his salary was to have been raised to $5,000 a year. He married one of Chestertown's brightest and most popular young ladies, Miss Delma Bordley, who survives him with two boys. As a Christian his life was exemplary, and it was to his too ardent Bible studies that the cause of his death is attributed.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon. Dr. C. Herbert Richardson, of Fayette Street M. E. Church, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. W. P. Compton and Dr. S. R. Murray. The pall-bearers were Thos. S. Bordley, Walter S. Trew, C. W. Wroth, E. W. F. Simpers, M. A. Toulson, M. W. Thomas.

One of the saddest deaths in this community was that of Mr. W. E. S. Thomas, a young resident of Millington and a student of Washington College, who died on Saturday last, aged 19. The deceased was the son of John and Emma Thomas, of Millington. In April, 1893, he entered Washington College, and ranked with the first in class records, moral reputation and general popularity. Consumption made its appearance last June, and although every effort was made to check the disease he finally retired to his sister's home in Church Hill and died as stated. Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Rev. Mr. Batte and Rev. Mr. Ware, officiating. The public schools of Millington were closed during the services in memory of his high character. The pall-bearers were his classmates, viz., J. I. Coulbourn, E. Cruikshank, T. Howard Fowler, George C. Graham, Jr., W. E. B. Faithful and E. F. Webb. He is dead, but he ever lives in our memories.

The following resolutions were passed by the members of the Mount Vernon Literary Society of Washington College:

WHEREAS, the Mount Vernon Literary Society has received with sorrow the announcement of the death of its member, Wm. E. S. Thomas; and

WHEREAS, the society recognizes the loss to the college and itself;

Resolved, That we, the members of the society, do express our deep sense of loss, and our appreciation of his manly, Christian character; and

Resolved, That as a further mark of respect, the society now adjourn, and that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the society; and further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and published in the papers of Chestertown.

GEO. C. GRAHAM, JR., Pres't M. V. L. S.
ERNEST CRUIKSHANK, Rec. Sec'y, M. V. L. S.

The following were passed by members of his class:

WHEREAS, The class of '97, in special meeting assembled, has received the sad tidings of the death of its first president, Wm. E. S. Thomas, therefore be it

Resolved, That we express our sincere sorrow for the loss we have sustained; and be it

Resolved, That we recognize in his noble, manly character and unselfish spirit those qualities that endeared him to all his associates, and made him a leader among his fellows; and be it

Resolved, That we offer to his family, in their hour of affliction, the deep sympathy of friends who sorrow with them; and be it

Resolved, That we send a copy of these resolutions to his family and also have them published in the Chestertown papers.

J. I. COULBOURN, E. CRUIKSHANK,
T. H. FOWLER, GEO. C. GRAHAM, JR.,
SPENCER M. HURTT, E. F. WEBB.

Memorial services were held in the Washington College Chapel at 12 o'clock Wednesday, which opened with Scripture reading and prayer, followed by an address by Dr. Reid, on "His Moral Character." Music, followed by a selected choir of students. Address by Prof. Micou, "His Merits as a Student." Address by Geo. C. Graham, Jr., "Mr. Thomas as a Classmate." The exercises were impressive and beautiful.

Rev. James E. Bryan, pastor of the M. E. Church at Rising Sun, Md., died on Thursday evening at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, in Baltimore, where he was taken the preceding day. His death resulted from a complication of diseases. He had been ill about a year, and in consequence of illness was unable to attend the last session of the Wilmington Conference. During the present conference year his pulpit has been supplied by Presiding Elder Barrett, Mr. Bryan being too sick to preach. Mr. Bryan was born on Kent Island, Md., and was about 65 years old. He was stationed in Chestertown in 1862 and 1864.

Tobias B. Merritt, proprietor of a hotel in Wilmington, died suddenly on Sunday, October 20. He had been driving and was found dead in his carriage. He was well known on the Eastern Shore, having been a hotel proprietor in Easton for many years. Mr. Merritt had accumulated a considerable fortune. Besides the hotel and other property in Wilmington, he owned a fine farm in this county.

Personal Paragraphs.

The marriage of Miss Catharine A. Hines to Dr. Richard F. Gundry, of Catonsville, Baltimore county, Md., will take place at Immanuel Church, Chestertown, on Tuesday next, the 29th, at 11.30 o'clock A. M. No cards have been issued in the county.

For the first time in a great many years our esteemed friend, Miss M. A. E. Hepbron, failed to visit us promptly for the renewal of her subscription to the NEWS. Not for a long time has she been three days late, and this week her good, old familiar face was missing when her friend and companion, Mrs. Burris, came in alone and renewed the subscription. We were sorry to hear that Miss Hepbron had been quite sick. We hope she will soon recover, and many more years be added to the 84 which have already passed.

Miss Fannie Baker is visiting relatives in Queen Anne's.

Mr. Edw. B. Meginniss, well known in the first district, was married in St. Peter's Church, Baltimore, Wednesday morning, to Miss Jennie W. Mann, a popular young lady of that city. Congratulations, Ned.

The wedding of Mr. Robert C. Rollison, of Chestertown, to Miss Annie Jones, of Chester, Pa., is announced to take place at the latter place on Wednesday, November 6.

Mr. J. Lloyd McFeely removed his family to Baltimore Monday, where they will take up their residence.

Miss Ida Crew, of near Lankford, will spend the winter in Baltimore with her brother. Miss Ida has been the efficient leader of the Fairlee "Y," and under her guidance it became a flourishing and influential organization. We trust that some other leader will spring up. Kent is sorry to part with such a useful and creditable citizen.

Mrs. Wm. S. Walker, Jr., of St. Louis, is visiting relatives in town.

Mrs. J. A. Perkins, of Philadelphia, is visiting her mother, on Washington avenue.

Mr. Jeff. D. Bacchus has moved into his new home on High street.

Miss Mamie Young, of Baltimore, is the guest of Miss Baker on High street.

Mrs. Maggie Apsley has sold out her millinery business in Rock Hall to Mrs. L. B. Wilkins and Mrs. Florence M. Wilkins, both of Rock Hall.

Miss Grace Gundry, of Lutherville, is visiting Miss Hines, on Front street.

Mrs. E. F. Perkins is visiting her brother, Mayor Warwick, Philadelphia.

Mr. Walter W. Perkins, of Philadelphia, has been visiting his parents, on Queen street.

Mr. W. W. Hubbard and wife will accompany Gov. Watson and staff, of Delaware, to Atlanta next month.

Rev. Thos. O. Crouse and wife will celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their marriage at the Chatsworth church parsonage next Tuesday evening.

Rev. Aloysius Green and wife are the guests of Rev. W. P. Compton and wife at the M. E. parsonage.

Miss Palmer Carroll is visiting relatives in Baltimore.

Miss Fenny, a Washington artist, has opened a school at Mrs. Watts' hotel for the winter and has a creditable class.

Mrs. J. W. Easley, of Centreville, is on a visit to Chestertown friends.

Miss Bessie Stuart is the guest of Miss Diggs in Baltimore.

Mr. Wm. Hines, of Baltimore, spent several days in Kent this week visiting friends.

Mrs. John D. Carter, of the "Cliff's," arrived home Saturday much improved in health, after a two weeks' visit to friends at Townsend and Wilmington, Delaware.

Mrs. S. D. Blackway and children have returned from a pleasant visit to her brother's, in Baltimore county.

Mrs. Elwood Whaley, of Chestertown, is visiting Mrs. Willis Hackett in Still Pond.

ONE of Mr. Charles T. Westcott's fine black driving horses died of lockjaw on Monday, resulting from sticking a nail in its foot.
