Our Celebrated TRUCK PHOSPHATE for TOMATOES, POTATOES, PEAS, MELLONS and ALL KINDS OF VEGETABLES.

For CORN use our SPECIAL PHOSPHATE for that crop. Cheap in price, and those who use it say it will not burn nor fire the plant. Then there is

Our Oat Phosphate, called IMPERIAL, which has been extensively used with very great success. And

Our Fruit Grower for PEACH TREES needs no comment, having been extensively used by many of our largest fruit growers, both in Delaware and Maryland since the year 1883. The base of this goods is a Natural Bird Guano, secured by our senior while on a visit to the West Indies that year.

20 Years in business with a steady increase in trade this our FORTY-FIRST SEASON is a guarantee as to the true merits of all our brands.

SPECIAL FORMULAS:

FOR CORN AND OATS.

The Piedmont Guano has been in use many years, and it gives entire satisfaction, as hundreds of testimonials published show. It has been tested alongside of many other fertilizers, and for its price is the best goods on the market.

FOR POTATOES.

The Piedmont Potato Producer, (P. P. P.) is manufactured with special reference to the needs of the Potato crop in all stages of its growth and maturity, and we are confident that there are no goods offered that can excell these brands, and very few, if any, that can equal them in the production of Potatoes, not only in the quality, but also in the quantity of the yield. Farmers should be careful to use such goods that they are confident will pay them. These are the goods you need, and you should use them liberally both broadcast and in the rows, taking care to mix them carefully with the earth, so that it does not come in direct contact with the seed.

OUR TOMATO FERTILIZER.

The greatest caution has been exercised in making this formula, and the materials used are exactly what the Tomato plants need. This we know after having fully tested by the growers of this crop. We have spared no pains to make this brand especially adapted to Tomato culture. We have fine reports from its use alongside of other fertilizers. It produces extra fine crops that paid well for its use. We intend keeping it full up to its present high standard, and will see that all the materials used are of the very best in every respect. If you grow any Tomatoes give this brand a trial, and you will use no other.

FOR BERRY GROWING.

A fertilizer which can never be excelled is the Piedmont Pure Raw Bone Mixture, producing the fruit in its largest and most perfect and therefore, most profitable condition.

A Good Winter for Trappers.—Mr. Ruby Tolson, of Lynch's, is the champion sportsman in Kent. Mr. Marcus Ascher states that he has purchased from him the past winter the following hides : 14 coons, 400 muskrats, 12 minks, a lot of opossum and other hides. If any other one man can beat this we'd like to hear from him.

Mr. Ascher says this has been a remarkably good winter for trappers—furs being plentiful and higher than for three years.

Apropos of "coon hunting" we find the following good one in the Balto. Sun :

LIVELY COON HUNT.

What the Men and Dogs Found in the Hollow of a Tree.

Capt. Jno. Clarke, of the steamer B. S. Ford, of the Chester River Line, brings news of a lucky coon hunt as told by Mr. Wm. T. Maslin, of Quaker Neck Wharf, Kent county.

Mr. Maslin and some friends went out one night last week. The dogs soon ran a coon to a hollow tree on Frog Pond farm, near Quaker Neck. The men stopped up the hollow and cut down the tree. The men were intensely excited and the dogs seemed even more uneasy. When the tree was cut through and the time came for the coon to get out the men were astonished to find that there was not only one raccoon in the hollow, but that the tree was used as a kind of boarding-house, and was well crowded at that.

When the tree fell there was a scramble, for according to Mr. Maslin, there were six coons, one opossum, four fox squirrels, one bushel of honey, one flock of flying squirrels, one drove of speckled wood mice, one bushel of muck worms and one bushel of bees.

The coons, opossum, honey and bees were captured, and the squirrels got away, and the mice and worms they did not want. The men returned home rejoicing, and when the steamer approached the wharf on her next trip Mr. Maslin was there and told the captain of the hunt.

Sad Scene at an Auction.

"Who bids?"

The auctioneer held up a child's rocking horse, battered and stained. It had belonged to some little member of the man's family whose household property was being sold under the hammer.

He was utterly ruined. He had given up everything in the world to his creditors—house, furniture, horses, stock of goods and lands. He stood among the crowd watching the sale that was scattering his household goods and his heirlooms among a hundred strange hands.

On his arm leaned a woman, heavily veiled.

"Who bids?"

The auctioneer held the rocking horse high, that it might be seen. Childish hands had torn away the scanty mane ; the bridle was twisted and worn by tender little fingers. The crowd was still.

The woman under the heavy veil sobbed and stretched ont her hands.

"No, no, no !" she cried.

The man's face was white with emotion. The little form that once so merrily rode the old rocking horse had drifted away into the world years ago. This was the only relic left of his happy infancy.

The auctioneer, with a queer moisture in his eyes, handed the rocking horse to the man without a word. He seized it with eager hands, and he and the veiled woman hurried away.

The crowd murmured with sympathy.

The man and the woman went into an empty room and set the rocking horse down. He took out his knife, ripped open the front of the horse and took out a roll of bills. He counted them and said :

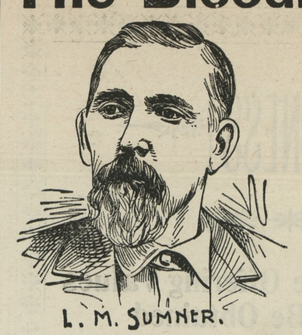

"It's a cold day when I fail without a rake off. Eight thousand five hundred dollars, but that auctioneer came very near busting up the game."

Dr. M. M. Fenner. Fredonia, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—In 1885 I had skin eruption entirely covering foot and leg to knee. so bad the discharge would fill my slipper to running over in a half day. No one knows how I suffered.

All doctors and patent medicines employed failed to benefit me and the eruption continued to spread. In this distressed condition I finally began the use of your Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic, and after using 6 bottles, together with as many boxes of your Salt Rheum Ointment, relief was established.

I kept on however, until I had used 10 bottles in all of the Blood Remedy, and I alternated with it occasionally a bottle of your Kidney and Backache Cure, until I had taken4 bottles of it, A perfect cure resulted."
