Election. — The stock-holders of the Baltimore and Delaware Bay R. R. Co., met in Chestertown last Saturday and re-elected the old officers. Superintendent Stacey is to be complimented on his skillful management of the road. He deserved to be re-elected.

Kicked and Bruised.—Deputy-Sheriff Owens met with quite a mishap Wednesday. While driving along the road in his dog-cart his horse stumbled and fell throwing Mr. Owens out. In the effort of both the horse and driver to extricate themselves Mr. Owens was kicked in the back and received bruises on his lip and heel. He was feeling quite stiff on Thursday but was able to attend to business.

Sporting Notes.

Zearfoss, after suffering with sore eyes, is farmed out to the Metropolitan team.

Tuesday afternoon at the Delaware State Hospital at Farnhurst, Dr. William H. Hancker prepared a plate and made a photograph of the forearm, wrist and hand of Hawk, the baseball pitcher. The photograph was made by the use of the X rays under an exposure of 14 minutes. It showed that two small bones of the wrist have been dislocated and the tendons badly strained. Where the bones are dislocated the bone is connected by a gristle.

We learned Saturday that John Wanamaker had given a contract for 1,000,000 wheels of the Monarch make. The company is to buy them from the manufacturer for $23, thus making $3,000,000 and John Wanamaker is to get them at $25 and to sell them for 27 and $30. This is a high grade wheel and is today sold for $100. Mr. C. W. Wroth rides a Monarch.

The C. C. C. are negotiating for the rental of Hynson's race track.

The college team expects to cross bats with the Cliftons next Tuesday on the campus.

The second team of Washington College and the Centreville team played a very close and interesting game of ball on the grounds of the former last Wednesday afternoon, and after a hard struggle was won by W. C. by the close score 11 to 10. At the beginning of the ninth inning the score was 9 to 8 in favor of W. C., but the Centreville boys went in and batted out two more runs making them one run ahead. In W.'s C. turn in the ninth she batted out two runs making the score stand 11 to 10 in favor of W. C. Both pitchers were hit hard and often, while Jones of W. C. was wild. Brice made a fine catch of a foul fly, while Wheatley did some heavy batting. Batteries, W. C., Jones and Vickers; Centreville, Davis and Morgan. Umpire, Mr. Davis of W. C.

The second team of Washington College will play a team from town next Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Ward, right fielder on the college team, has resigned. He states that the practice in the afternoon inteferes with his studies and he is compelled to send in his resignation. Either Goldsboro or Jones will succeed him.

Little Folks Perform.

The entertainment given in Stam's Hall Tuesday evening was one of real merit and solid enjoyment. It was given by the M. E. S. S. under the direct supervision of Miss Nannie Bordley Mrs. Delma Dyott and Miss Anna G. G. Lambert, to whom is due the credit for the successful rendition of the program. It would be unjust to single out any particular character, as every one was just as cute, graceful and charming as possible. The program opened with a piano solo by Miss Olivia Wilkins followed by a skillfully rendered tambourine drill by Misses Sue Ford, Claudia Thompson, Mabel Toulson, Mary Fleming, Barbara Anthony, Gussie Friedman, Mary Brown, Bertie Burchinal, May Jones, Hallie Toulson.

Then came the feature of the evening in Mother Goose's Cantata. Thirty or forty little folks took part in this quaint presentation and the costumes were exceedingly appropriate and enjoyable. Sam Jones and his pretty bride impersonated Tom Thumb and wife to perfection, while the little solists sang sweetly and without the least embarrassment. The chorus was full, round sweet and a more enjoyable entertainment has not been presented in Stam's Hall. The following interesting characters were among the caste in presenting the well-known nursery rhymes: Mother Goose, Hallie Toulson; Margery Daw, Nellie Jones; Little Boy Blue, Fred Hirons; Little Bo-Peep, Edith Fallowfield; Miss Muffett, Louise Brown; Jacky Horner, Howard Dyott; Tommy Tucker, Kemp Bordley; Jack and Jill, Raymond Moody, Daisy Barnes; Brown Betty, Nellie McWhorter; Polly Flinders, Lizzie Davis; Mother Hubbard, Mabel Toulson; Cinderella, Emma Roe; Humpty Dumpty, Wilkins Simpers; Milk Maid, Emma France; Man all Tattered and Torn, Paul Jones; King Cole, Tom Dyott; Queen of Hearts, May Jones; Song of Sixpence, represented by children dressed as black birds; Bachelor, Sam Jones; Bachelors Wife, Ethel Ringgold; Pussy Cat, Mary Miller; Old Woman, Lillian Matthews; Jack be Nimble, Chas. Comton; Puss in Boots, Preston Jones; Black Bird, George Compton; Tom the Piper's Son, and his pig, Merritt Brown; Dame Tot, Clara Sappington; Red Riding Hood, Eunice Elliott; Mary's Little Lamb and wolf, Charles Tucker; Old Woman in the Shoe, Rena Downey; Mistress Mary, Quite Contrary, Susie Dunbracco; Sky Sweeper, Edith Dunbracco; Dapple Gray, Chauncey Parks.

The telephone song by little Miss Edna Downey was very sweetly sung; 'Three Little Kittens' by Bertie Tucker, Edna Roland and Mary Miller was perfect and the little kittens looked just as cute and pretty as the real things; "The Toad Stools" by Robert Simpers, Carle Bordley and George Compton was well presented, the boys being dressed in chocolate colored suits, carrying umbrellas in shape of frog stools and hopping about the floor like toads. The entertainment closed with a "Topsy Turvy Chorus."

THE leasehold interest of the late J. A. Groves in the Home Paca farm is advertised to be sold in Centreville on the 26th inst., at 3 P. M.

Persons You Know

Capt. Andrew Woodall, of Georgetown, was in town Wednesday on business. This was his first visit here since 1888 and he was warmly greeted by all who knew him. He is possibly the largest real estate owner in Kent county, having over twenty farms in his own name, nearly all of which are in good soil. In visiting his estates he rides in a buggy with rubber tires and other late improvements, but says he loves his old buggy best. He is looking very well. The NEWS wishes him continued health and happiness.

Hon. I. Freeman Rasin, of Baltimore, was in Kent several days this week. He came over by Buck Neck on Tuesday and drove through Chestertown and down to the beautiful home of Mrs. M. A. Wilkins at "The Maples," where he remained until next day, then went to his estate up the county to look after farming interests. The noted city Democratic leader did not so much as speak to any of the politicians here that we have heard of!

Capt. Cundiff, of the steamer Sassafras, was in town Wednesday on business.

Mr. Harry McWhorter, of Baltimore, is visiting his sister in town, Mrs. Layman, and taking charge of her store while she visits friends in Delaware.

Mrs. Clara Fahnestock, of Lancaster, Pa., is visiting Mrs. W. P. Compton, also Mrs. J. J. Rothrock, of Landsdale, Pa. Mrs. R. is the wife of Rev. J. J. Rothrock, pastor of the German Reformed church.

Mrs. Hope H. Barroll and two chubby boys, Wethered and Morris, have been on a visit to Mr. J. Leeds Barroll, Chestnut Hill, Phila.

Mr. Wm. Jones, of Cecil, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. T. E. Hayes, on the ave.

Mr. Chas. S. York, Jr., left Chestertown Thursday for Princess Anne, where he will take charge of a branch office established there by his father. Mr. Alva York will have control of the home office.

Mr. Edw. Loud sheared an average of nine pounds of wool per sheep.

Mr. James Shuster, who has been the head clerk in Westcott & Dodd's dry goods store for the past six or eight years, has resigned the position and is now associated with his father in the manufacture and sale of ice cream, etc. Several young men are applicants for the vacancy made by Mr. Shuster.

Mr. J. W. Chapman, Jr., spent Sunday in Chestertown.

Miss Hope Greenwood, youngest daughter of Professor and Mrs. M. M. Greenwood, of Rock Hall, formerly of Fairlee, was married to Mr. Joseph Kendall, of Rock Hall, on last Wednesday morning at 10.30 o'clock, by the Rev. Thos. O. Crouse, of Chatsworth Church, Baltimore.

Mrs. Rockwell, of Paca Island, is the guest of friends in town.

W. A. Potts had a fine $1,000 organ to come over to Tolchester Saturday, which will be placed in his caroussel.

Capt. Geo. Bramble has sold the A. and M. Ella to Henry Taylor, of Broad Neck. Capt. Taylor will sail out of Fairlee creek.

Mr. Eden S. Massey, formerly of Millington, but now extensively interested in the dairy business at Colorado Springs Col., and Miss Mary Bryan, of that city, were married April 29th.

Mr. John W. Rasin, of Baltimore, was in Chestertown this week. He is quite feeble from sickness.

Mr. George L. Rouse formely of this county, but now of Baltimore, was married in that city recently to Miss Kathereen Bottomer, daughter of the late Judge W. G. Bottomer of West Va. On account of the recent death of the bride's father the wedding was very private. She is a lady of much amiability and sweetness of disposition and we congratulate our young friend very heartily. Mr. Rouse has a fine position with Cron's wholesale furniture house.

Miss Alice Rouse has been visiting her sister Mrs S. C. Jones at Lynch's lately.

Mr. James Jones, of Caroline Co. has been visiting Mr. Jones near Lynch's.

Mrs. J. C. Jones has returned from a delightful visit to relatives and friends in Baltimore.

Dr. S. B. Glasscock and wife having tired of the routine of a dull country practice and life have removed to Baltimore and intend to open a private hospital for the treatment of special cases.

Misses Ettie and Nellie Vansant, of Worton, have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. M. E. Lane, of Kennedyville.

Mr. W. T. Lane is engaged in Track driving near Sudlersville Queen Anne's.

Miss Sadie E. Crew, a popular young lady of Still Pond, is visiting friends in Baltimore.

KENNEDYVILLE BRIEFS.

Two months ago the Kennedyville W. C. T. U. took initiatory steps toward establishing a library. The "nn" worked faithfully, with the result that on Friday night of last week an organization was effected, to be known as the "Literary Club." Any person may become a member by subscribing to the rules; the following persons were elected officers: President, Mr. Wm. T. Hague; vice-president, Mr. H. L. Davies; sect., Mr. James E. Weer; librarian, Mrs. S. E. Sutton; treasurer, Mr. W. E. Sanders. It is thought that the library will be in full operation by the last of May and will comprise the following periodicals: Century, Harper's, Review of Reviews, Frank Leslie's, Ladies' Home Journal, Cosmopolitan, Munsey's, and Golden Days. The library will be at the store of Mrs. S. E. Sutton. It is the design of those connected with the organization to make it a benefit to the community at large, and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of the advantages presented. The next meeting of the club will be held at the office of Mr. Tilghman Shafer, on Saturday evening, May 23rd. The public cordially invited.

An entertaining program is being arranged for Friday evening, May 22, at the M. P. Church. There will be readings, music, and an address by Mrs. Mary Haslup, State President W. C. T. U. A large attendance is desired.

The "Kids" went to Locust Grove on Saturday and met with a defeat. Their pitcher got somewhat ruffled and literally gave the game away, letting the opponents make 13 runs in one inning. The batting on both sides was exceptionally good, very good. Ropha, the new pitcher for Locust Grove, did not come up to their expectations, he was batted out of the box in the 4th inning. The Kids expect to play at Crumpton today at 3 P. M. They have made a change in their club and we think it a decided improvement. Time will tell at any rate. "TIRO."

END OF A BUSY LIFE!

Another prominent citizen of our county is added to the dead roll this week. JOHN ASBURY GROVES, of Quaker Neck, died at his residence on Sunday night about 11 o'clock. He had been extremely ill for some weeks, and day after day the loved ones of his household were in dread expectancy of the fearful event they knew to be near at hand; yet no effort was relaxed for his comfort and the best medical skill was availed of for his relief. He has not been well for years, though his remarkable energy and ambition has kept him up, and until the despair of financial embarrassments finally pressed him down, he was active and hopeful, and even forgot his sorest physical infirmaties in the excitements of a laudable ambition to make a complete success of the business which had occupied the best years of his life. The floods of adversity, however, increased as the years went by and finally overwhelmed him, so that some months ago he sank into the gloom of a heart-broken despondency, and to him life was not then worth the living! He had worked so hard and so long—with trustful heart and a naturally hopeful spirit—in the expectation of a remunerative return for his toil, that when he saw the unmistakable reverse of it, and all that human industry and skill could do would avail him nothing, he simply gave up the earth life and went away to the rest beyond!

The deceased was a remarkable character. He was not only one of Kent's best citizens—in private and public life—but he was one of the most energetic men we have ever known, and his reputation extended far and wide as one of the great peach men of the Peninsula. He was a native of Delaware; his first appearance in Kent was in 1856 when he came as a tenant of Mr. Reybold, the great Delaware peach magnate, and conducted the Buck Neck farm for one year. He returned to Delaware and remained there until '65 when he was sought by the late Col. Edward Wilkins to take charge of the Chambers farm in Queen Anne's, the Col. with Mr. James Shuster, having leased that estate and planted 30,000 peach trees thereon. Here Mr. Groves remained five years, removing from thence to "The Oaks" one of Col. Wilkins' farms, now tenanted by Mr. W. T. Maslin nearly opposite "The Maples," belonging to Mrs. Mary A. Wilkins. Five years were successfully farmed at "The Oaks" when he went to the "York farm" near Bond Chapel, where he lived nineteen years and up to a year ago, when he moved to "Hill Top" near Pomona, where he died.

In 1877 Mr. Groves purchased the Stradford farm, then the Cruikshank farm, then Hill Top. Probably his worst financial venture was in the purchase of Poplar Neck, in '84, for which he paid the late R. H. Rouse $24,000. He had the utmost confidence in peaches then; his experience in Delaware with the Reybolds and in Kent with Col. Wilkins magnified this industry and he could not get too many trees in the ground for prospective yielding. On the York farm in '83 over $18,000 was cleared; in '78 the general crop was very small; he got 3,000 boxes on that many trees and cleared over $6,000 on them! Mr. S. Merritt Wilkins, fell heir to the York farm, and rented it to Mr. Groves, and the two realized $53,000 from the peach alone on this one estate from '83 to '93 when the farm was purchased by Mr. T. W. Eliason. Mr. Groves' lease of Paca's Island was a financial misfortune nearly equal to the purchase of Poplar Neck.

Mr. Groves was the largest peach grower in the county up to '85. At that time his holdings were as follows:

25,000	Trees	on Poplar Neck.
24,000	"	" the Paca farms.
7,500	"	" Cruikshank farms.
9,000	"	" Hill Top.
6,000	"	" Stradford.
12,500	"	" York farm.

a total of eighty-four thousand trees!

Mr. Groves was 62 years and 4 months old. His wife, who was a daughter of Mr. James Shuster, died in '94. He leaves eight children, namely: Mrs. F. D. Lamb, Mrs. J. Cordray Loud, James H., on Poplar Neck; Albert S., on Paca farm; William B., in Baltimore; and three single daughters, Emma, Belle and Sarah. One of his brothers, Prof. Jas. H. Groves, was sup't of public schools in Delaware for years, and now holds a high official position under President Cleveland. Other brothers are Benj. B., Richard, Robert and Gustavus, and two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Deputy and Mrs. Robert Langdon, live in Delaware.

From '89 to '95 Mr. Groves held the office of county commissioner, being twice elected by the Democrats to this position, though he long refused the most persistent efforts of his friends to this end. His taste was for peaches and the quiet of farm life, rather than for politics and public life, but finally he consented when he believed he could serve his party and his county in the office for which he was sought. Doubtless in this official position he made mistakes—otherwise he would not have been human—and he was the subject of the usual—possibly more than the usual criticism of political and personal enemies, but he bravely faced all, and we believe, with an honest purpose to do right and faithfully serve the people. He was a tireless worker, of sound judgment, firmness of purpose and perfect exemplary life. No better neighbor lived in Quaker Neck, and his big, loving heart made his home not merely a social Mecca but a sweet earthly Paradise as well.

There was nothing little about John Groves. His mind—his ambition—dwelt upon big things. His high estimate of other people—and he seemed to have a good opinion of almost every one—was the index to his own nobleness of character; and though he did not reach the summit of his ambition—who does?—he did not live in vain, and many hearts are sad to-day and many tears are falling in precious memory of the one so dear to the home circle and so prized by the community at large.

Now the busy life is over—the cares, the vexations and toils,—all are left behind in the flight of the soul. JOHN A. GROVES IS AT REST! May it be sweet, and the loved ones left behind be reunited in the Heavenly world.

Funeral services were held at the late residence of the deceased on Wednesday morning, conducted by Rev. T. B. Cooper, of Bond church, who delivered an impressive address. John N. Dodd, was the undertaker in charge and the following pall-bearers served: Dr. W. F. Hines, William B. Usilton, T. Waters Russell, John Brice, B. N. S. Wilkins, James H. Baker. The remains were interred in Chester Cemetery, a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends attending the funeral services.

MATCHLESS MAY MERCHANDISING

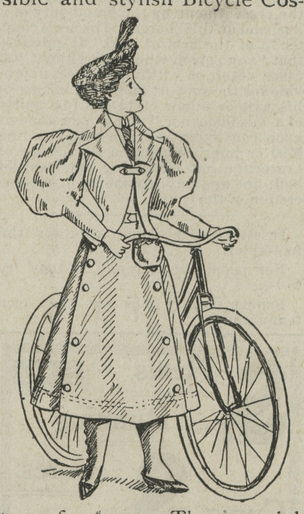

More convincing becomes the evidence that the reign of abnormally low prices is near its end. Self-preservation is forcing producers to take heroic steps to stem the tide. Fortunately few thus far have gone to the extreme of shutting down. Our efforts to distribute the great blocks of goods have done much to prevent this necessity. We are ready to do more. Vast opportunities are offering for us to take entire stocks on hand at such prices as can be quickly realized. They are here, and coming.

The benefits are for Our Public.

May, 1896, will break records as a time for money-saving.

STYLISH BICYCLE COSTUMES $5 50

A triumph of women's tailoring is here—a complete, sensible and stylish Bicycle Costume for $5.50. The material is cotton covert cloth; the color, gray, tan or brown, as you prefer. It is fearless of dust or dampness and can be washed whenever necessary. The costume includes—a jaunty cap

cutaway coat combination skirt
leggings
purse.

The skirt is divided, but has an overlapping front width that disguises all likeness to bloomers, though this flap can be opened to make the costume cooler. The buttons are as pretty as they are necessary. The cutaway coat has the jauntiest of ripple backs; turnover collar and reveres, and fastens with strap. The leggings are perfectly shaped and the entire costume is as graceful, modest and pretty as any woman could ask. $5.50.

DRESS GOODS

May, queen of the year, emphasizes the dress needs of the season. And matchless stocks are ready for your choosing! Think of it—no other store in the whole world offers equal selection. Visit London, Vienna, Paris, stop at New York as you start or end the trip, and you've seen with much worry, expense and loss of time, what you may comfortably enjoy at Wanamaker's.

So much for the stock in its entirety—twenty-one sections of the store devoted to it.

And to this busiest spot come all holders of large lots of worthy goods. Where prices are right we buy—no matter how big the offering.

Black Serge, 25c a yard that would be an extra value at 37½c. The color, the weaving, the weight—all right.

Black Crepon. We have sold thousands of yards of these grades at $1 and $1.25. And these are less because a trade incident made them so. Likely enough you'll see the very next lot of them at the old full fair price—

46-inch Crepon, 50c instead of $1.25.
42-inch Crepon, 37½c instead of $1.

And in colored dress stuffs—

Covert Cloth—for traveling dresses, bicycle suits, tailor-made suits. Here is a bunch of the choicest—all imported; all at less than their fair worth—

Whipcord Melange Coverts, $1.
Fine Twilled Coverts, $1.
Whipcord Two-toned Coverts, $1.25.
Close-twill soft-finish Coverts, $1.50.

Each in the favorite color mixtures.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Factories Wanted. — We are glad to note the fact that several of our enterprising citizens are making strenuous efforts to induce manufactories to come here. Superintendent Stacey spoke very encouragingly of the outlook for securing a silk factory. May he be successful.
