Mr. Bryan at Home.

The unpartisan and enthusiastic demonstration at Lincoln, Neb., over the announcement of the nomination of Hon. Wm. J. Bryan shows the high personal regard in which the democratic presidential nominee is held in his own home. When the announcement of his nomination was flashed over the wires, the thousands of people who had gathered in the streets of Lincoln gave an enthusiastic shout, which soon turned into one long, continuous cheer. It was joined in by members of all parties The news spread rapidly. It went like a wild prairie fire. Whistles and fish horns were blown, bells were rung, guns were fired, anvils were exploded and firecrackers were shot until the noise became deafening. The stores were decorated with the stars and stripes, dwellings were also covered and the whole town was soon singing Bryan's praises. Pictures of Bryan were on the street within ten minutes after his nomination. They were sold by the hundreds. The city seemed to be Bryan crazy. The city council, all republicans, passed a resolution authorizing Mayor Graham to send Mr. Bryan a message of congratulation upon his nomination. The Mayor also instructed the engineers at the various watering stations to use their whistles effectually in heralding the news abroad.

COL. L. VICTOR BAUGHMAN, of Frederick, who was proxy of Senator Gorman on the National committee at Chicago, and used his influence for the gold faction, comes home with his eyes open. He says: I have attended the last five democratic national conventions, but I never saw such a concourse of people gathered together at a national convention. The seating capacity of the building was 15,000, and fully 5,000 filled the aisles and galleries, and presented a spectacle seldom, if ever, witnessed in this country. "All preconcerted plans were swept away by the delegations, who seemed determined that the country should know that there was no ring or combination controlling the great convention of the people of this Union. The ovation given to Bryan on his speech indorsing the report of the majority on the platform was the most spontaneous and wonderful I have ever witnessed. The speech of Mr. Bryan, like the speech of Garfield when he nominated General Grant in the republican convention, made him the logical candidate. The Maryland delegation will, with perhaps one or two exceptions, give a generous support to the action of the majority of the convention. The Western and Southern people declare that their sections, irrespective of party, will sweep the country on the platform adopted at Chicago."

SENATOR HATTERSLY W. TALBOTT, chairman of the democratic State central committee, expresses his views as to the prospects of the Chicago nominee as follows:

"I think it is the best nomination that could have been made under the circumstances, the silver men having the control of the convention. I do not think there is any necessity for being unduly alarmed at the result of the convention. I believe Mr. Bryan to be a level-headed, practical and conservative man. I believe that he will win, and that his administration will give great satisfaction to the people. I think the country is to be congratulated that such a man as Mr. Bryan has been nominated, for he will inject into the campaign more personal magnetism, which so often leads to success, than any other of the gentlemen that were named. As the silver sentiment is so widespread, the selection of so distinguished an apostle of free silver as Mr. Bryan is to be commended. The silver sentiment in this State is widespread and growing, and I can see no reason, with such a candidate as Mr. Bryan, why Maryland may not regain her place in the democratic column."

A FRIGHTFUL railroad accident occurred at Omaha, Neb., last Saturday night, in which 28 persons were killed and 51 injured by a head-end collision. Two trains were going fifty miles an hour when they met on a curve three miles west of Logan. Engineer Montgomery jumped and escaped with a broken arm. The heavy freight passed partially over the pasenger train. All the people killed were in the front coach of the excursion train.

THE town of Belair, Harford county, had a mad dog scare Saturday. A valuable bird dog belonging to Dr. Benjamin Smith appeared in the centre of the town, exhibiting symptoms of hydrophobia, snapping at every dog he encountered. He bit three of them and soon a large crowd was in pursuit, composed of merchants, clergymen, public officers and others. The dog was followed through several streets and finally shot to death.

When visiting Baltimore don't forget to look up E. T. Drury & Co., 313 & 327 N. High St. near Gay St. They sell everything usually found in a first class Grocery and Feed Store, (save liquors) and their prices are extremely low. *

Dear Sir: My grateful appreciation of your Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic is the object of this writing.
