MARKETING THE PEACH!

THE CROP EXPECTATION IS FAR FROM REALIZATION.

Something About the Chester River Company—Boats, Officers and Shipments—This Season's Schedule.

Nearly every person in Kent is either directly or indirectly interested in the peach crop. Something about one of the most important carriers of the fruit will therefore be in place. The Chester River Company has the best arrangement for marketing the peach crop along its lines ever before perfected. Two day boats and two night boats are employed, namely:

Emma A. Ford,	with capacity for		6,000	b'kts.
B. S. Ford,	"	"	5,500	"
Corsica,	"	"	8,000	"
Riverside,	"	"	11,000	"
Gratitude,	"	"	4,500	"

The Conoho, another large propeller, was included in the service, but has been withdrawn because of the shortened crop of fruit. The work of the line—to say nothing of passenger traffic—may be judged by one day's results. Take Monday last, when the steamers arrived in Baltimore in the following order:

Emma A. Ford	at 1.30	P. M.,	with 3,000	Pkges.
Gratitude	" 12	M.,	" 1,500	"
Corsica	" 1.00	A. M.,	" 3,500	"
B. S. Ford	" 1.30	"	" 4,500	"
Riverside	" 2.00	"	" 5,827	"
Total			18,327	"

The boats are promptly relieved of their freight at Piers 7 and 8, which are among tho most eligible in the city; indeed this is called the great peach headquarters, and another wharf, Pier 18, is used for general freights. The steamers leave the city on the return as follows, moving out from Piers 7 and 8 as soon as unloaded:

Emma A. Ford,	from Pier 18	2.45	P. M.
Gratitude,	" "	2.30	"
Corsica,	" "	7.00	A. M.
B. S. Ford,	" "	8.00	"
Riverside,	" "	9.00	"

The Riverside carried 54,554 packages of fruit from August 3 to August 18, which is not more than half the quantity expected. There were nearly as many peaches shipped last year in the same length of time from Rolphs—the greatest peach wharf on the river—as there have been this season. As indicating the shortage, Mr. Burton R. H. Evans, an intelligent observer, of Rolphs, says one of his father's orchards of 4,000 trees will not yield 6,000 boxes, when its promise was for double that quantity. The largest shipment from Rolph's in one day this season, so far, was 3,300 packages on the 10th. The steamer Riverside that night carried 7,318 packages. Mr. Evans says she ought to have had at least 9,000.

The present schedule of the Chester River line is about as follows: The "Emma A. Ford" is the day boat from Chestertown, carrying passengers and freight, leaving at 7 A. M., and making the usual stops. Her officers are—Captain, William J. Taylor; mate, John Anthony; clerk, Allan Harris; engineer, Wm. Henry; 2nd mate, Mr. Pritchard.

The "B. S. Ford" is used as a night boat, starting from Grey's Inn at 6 P. M.; thence to Centreville, Corsica river and Bogle's. Capt. J. A. Clark commands her; engineer, Wm. Bush; clerk, A. G. Harley.

The "Corsica" leaves Crumpton daily and stops for passengers where flagged and for fruit at R. S. Emory's, Wm. A. Hendricks', Cliffs, Westcott's and Spaniard's Point. Her officers are: Captain, Wm. H. Vandyke; mates, Geo. Lowe, Jack Story; engineer, Wm. Thursby; clerk, Frank Ford.

The "Riverside" is a fast propeller, chartered from the Chester and Philadelphia Packet Co.; she leaves Chestertown at 6 P. M., and stops at Rolphs, Riverside, Wilmer's, Newnam's and Quaker Neck. She is officered as follows: Capt., John H. Brown; mate, Wm. McFate; pilot, Capt. Wash. Woodall; engineer, Thos. Brooks; assistant, Henry Ward; storer, Capt. Wm. Storey; clerk, Thos. E. Woodford.

The "Gratitude" leaves Centreville daily at 7 A. M., and takes in landings on Corsica river, Jackson's creek and Rock Hall. Her officers are: Captain, Geo. Gibson; mate, Marion Webb; engineer, S. Roads; clerk, Robt. Fryer.

At the city headquarters Capt. George Warfield, the distinguished president of the company, may be found every day in his office "up to his ears" in general and detail work. He is ably seconded by Commodore P. S. McConnor, who keeps everything moving like clock work at all the wharves. Captain James E. Taylor is the genial and efficient chief clerk; office clerks, J. B. Thomas and Messrs. Beard and Godfrey; wharf clerks, W. J. Parvis, Harrison Lusby and Mr. Bevin.

The following are agents at the most important wharves on the route: Crumpton, Charles Tracey; Chestertown, J. R. Clements; assistant, Jas. Dunbracco; Emory's, Capt. R. S. Emory; Rolphs. John H. Evans; Riverside, William S. Scone; Booker's, George Seward; Quaker Neck, Captain R. G. Jones; Cliffs, Prof. C. T. Stratton; Bogle's, J. H. Ruth; Rock Hall, Herbert Strong; Queenstown, W. C. McConnor; Jackson creek, S. H. Ford; Kent Island,

The Sick.—Mr. John R. Rollison is very sick with a fever at the home of Mrs. J. Anthony. Mr. Rollison had only been up a few days from a former attack when he suffered a relapse and was compelled to go to bed. He is reported better.

Dr. J. H. Hessey, of Worton, was taken ill last Monday night and he was a day or two recovering, thus preventing his attending the Ocean City convention, which was a great disappointment to him.

Miss Louise Carroll is reported as being improved.

Miss Katie Smith, who has been sick for a week, is now able to be out.

Miss Lula Downey has suffered very much this week with rheumatism.

Mr. James W. Chapman, Jr., is confined to his house with fever.

Mrs. C. S. York has been very sick this week with fever.

Mr. George Rouse is in bed with a fever, but is much improved at this writing.

Mr George Beck, delegate from the fifth district, because of the illness with typhoid fever of his son, Horace, was unable to go to Ocean City to the congressional convention.

AUGUST CHURCH NOTES.

What the Warm Weather Finds the Churches Doing—Other Items.

Miss Minnie Benton, a graduate of the Deaconess' Home, of Washington, D. C., lead the Chestertown Epworth League services on Sunday evening. Miss Benton gave a very interesting talk on the evening's subject. She is a charming talker and carries her hearers with her by the good points she makes.

Rev. T. B. Cooper, the popular pastor of Bond Church, has been quite sick with inflamatory rheumatism for some weeks, but is now greatly improved. There was no preaching service at Bond last Sunday, but the able Sunday School superintendent, Jas. H. Baker, Esq., made the exercises of that department of special interest. Presiding Elder Smith preached on the previous Sunday.

The Annual Lawn Fete, given by Zion M. E. Church, on Mr. Cleaver's lawn, near Kennedyville, was quite a success. A grand supper was served and a good time enjoyed. Messrs. F. Harris, Hope Copper, Frank Robinson and Snowden Maslin entertained the crowd in a charming manner. They impersonated the darkey to perfection.

The Chestertown M. E. Sunday School will commence afternoon services September 2d.

The Senior Christian Endeavor meetings have been adjourned until the fall.

The M. E. Church, of Galena, is making great preparation for a tent meeting in Galena, to begin Sunday, August 23d. They have secured a large canvas tent with a seating capacity of about 500, and have engaged Evangelist Kreamer, of Baltimore, to assist. Already expectations are running high for a great meeting. The following merchants have agreed to close their stores during the evening services, viz:—W. A. Whitaker, C. E. Lane, Geo. W. Starr, Jeremiah Peacock, Geo. C. Walls, R. H. Hicks and Miss Parr. We think this a very commendable thing to do and have no doubt that the Christian public will reward, in a business way, those who manifest so much interest in the moral and spiritual welfare of the town and community.

There will be no preaching services at Christ M. P. Church to-morrow. The Sunday school will convene as usual at 2.30 P. M.

Rev. W. P. Compton left for the hills of Pennsylvania this week.

Dr. S. C. Roberts arrived home this week from his vacation and will hold services to-morrow.

Rev. K. M. Bull, pastor of Worton and Kennedyville Presbyterian churces has gone with his family to Pennsylvania for a two weeks vacation.

Contract Awarded. — The Kent County School Board on Tuesday last awarded the contract for the erection of the new school building at Deep Landing Five bids were received by the board and Messrs. Stavely and Bowers, the enterprising Lynch's firm, were the successful ones. Their bid was $398. They will commence work at once. The building is to be frame, 20x36 feet and 8 foot ceiling. The other bidders were Maslin & Raleigh, $430; F. E. Duyer, $430; Jeff. D. Ayres, $525; James M. Chilcutt, $525.

Teachers Appointed. — The school board appointed several teachers on Tuesday last. Miss Bertha Miller was appointed to school No. 1, district 3; Miss Henrietta C. Wallis, school No. 5, district 3; Miss Mary Wolcott, school No. 7, district 4.

Town Jottings.

Mr. Samuel Hicks, the Court street horse man, is having his pretty residence on College avenue beautified by a coat of paint. Mr. Wm. A. Sappington has charge of the work.

The town authorities are putting a new pavement down on High street between Mill and Kent streets.

A crowd of youngsters have a habit of giving a free exhibition of "acting on the bars" in front of the stores down town. The other evening they were giving their costomary exhibition when Louis, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Roland, of Philadelphia, who is on a visit to Mrs. Wm. T. Matthews, collided with the bar and was considerably shaken up and bruised by the sudden stoppage. He has now recovered and is ready for future "performances."

Chestertown is never behind. She now has a five cent barber shop.

The "Lyceum Specialty Show" left town Saturday night. They were here two weeks and were well patronized every night. They left on the schooner J. E. Watkins, Capt. Frank Satterfield, of Rock Hall, for Easton, Md., where they are giving performances, and the papers speak well of them.

The Messrs. Pippin have completed the new choir room at St. Paul's church. It is a handsome room and adds very greatly to the appearance of the Church.

The Messrs. Pippin are building a commodious stable for Mr. W. W. Hubbard.

The new M. P. Parsonage, corner of Queen Street and Maple Avenue, is raised and the excellent workmanship of the Messrs. Culp and beautiful design of the committee is becoming manifest.

Lorenza Dunn, the Court house janitor is doing some needed trimming to the trees in the Court house yard. The trees are in bad condition for lack of trimming, besides they are dangerous in time of blows and storms.

Justice J. W. Wright has moved his office headquarters to the room adjoining Vandegrifts barber shop.

The Cyclists Take Rock Hall.

A jolly party of cyclists, left Chestertown Wednesday afternoon. Their destination was Rock Hall and the promoters guaranteed a fine run, grand supper, charming girls and an enchanting dance and moonlight ride home. Everything was just as predicted. "Aunt Tempy" gave the boys a warm reception, as only she knows how, and "Uncle George" ably seconded her. The thriving village of Rock Hall was "taken in" and then the dining room was introduced to the party. It is useless to say that ample justice was done to the well laden table, for the boys have the reputation of having good appetites and they sustained it too.

Downey's Hall was obtained for a dance and Messrs. Wilson and George furnished the music. This was one of the most delightful features of the day's pleasures. Refreshments were served about ten o'clock.

The boys are loud in their praises of how the ladies treated them. It was commented freely that two of our C. C. C's. had what is termed "bad cases."

The run home by moonlight was magnificent.

Those in the party were H. Rickey, W. R. Aldridge, David B. Ford, James Shuster, Sereck Shallcross, Harry Hodgkins, C. C. Hopper, Mr. Schofield, Prof. J. S. W. Jones, John H. Aldridge, Allie Thomas, J. H. Sides, W. W. Chapman, R. S. Thomas, W. B. Usilton, Jr., Frank Howard, Harry Simpers, Arthur Bacchus and Chas. S. Smith.

Enjoyable Straw-ride.—A jolly party of young people left the Misses Nickerson's home, in Morgnec, on Saturday on a straw-ride. Their destination was the lawn fete on Cleaver's lawn. A grand time was had and a good supper enjoyed at Zion Church festival. Those in the party were Misses Graham, Maud Melvin, Gertie Copper, Nellie Casey, Sadie Nickerson, Caddie Nickerson, Maggie Nickerson, Gertie York, Howard Clendaniel, John and James Nickerson.

Stricken With Paralysis.—Charlotte Johnson, colored, was at work ironing last Saturday when she was stricken with paralysis. The extreme heat was the primary cause of her collapse though old age had much to do with it. She was 68 years of age. Charlotte was a good, faithful old servant, and several families will miss her and feel her loss. This old woman will be remembered for her faithful service and true devotion.

The sale of the personalty of Bernard J. McCauley was well attended and fair prices were realized. Horses brought from $35 to $40 and cows from $18 to $22.

Read the rare chance that John B. Hurtt & Co., offer in the fire underwriter's sale of white lead, paint, etc.
