IT PAYS TO BUY AT HOME!

We had a significant test of the advantages of "home purchases" in Furniture this week. We were in competition with the Largest Furniture Houses in Baltimore to furnish Washington College with a considerable bill of goods, and

WE BEAT THEM ALL IN PRICE AND QUALITY OF FURNITURE!

We can do it every time. All we ask is a fair trial.

NO COLOR LINE IN ENGLAND.

The Britisher is Utterly Without the Prejudice Americans Feel Toward the Negro.

In London the other day I saw a splendid type of a Georgia darkey seated in the stalls of a fashionable theatre, among the white-shirt-bosomed men of quality and the jewel-bedizened queens of society. He began to scrape an acquaintance with the man and woman next to him, and they, nothing loath, entered into conversation with him and evidently enjoyed it. Every now and then I see other American colored men lounging about the more stylish West End, sometimes drinking with reputable looking white men or walking with them, and once or twice I have seen darky ladies cutting a wide swath on Piccadilly with beautiful and well-dressed white women.

Some years ago, when I was over here before, I wrote of my experience in a quiet hotel in Liverpool, where a colored missionary, bound for Liberia, made it a practice to eat at the hotel table with the other visitors. The horror of a Kentucky colonel, who found himself at the table with a colored man, and the growth of that horror into intense anger, expressed in muffled profanity was serious enough, yet it was as nothing beside the disgust and contempt that the beautiful waitress of the house felt for the colonel—and plainly showed, as well.

She was one of those waitresses whose picture remains indelibly photographed upon the mind of every man of taste who ever visits England—a neat, white-capped, white-aproned, rosy-cheeked, shapely girl, buxom in every outline, quiet as an easy conscience, skilled and anxious to please by good service. She was engaged to marry that colored missionary, and she could not understand or endure the conduct of the colonel. "Not sit at the table with a colored man!" she exclaimed. "Why? America, I thought, was the land where all men are equal and color and class are not thought of. How can it be that in the land of equality and liberty a man can be hated and despised for the color he gets from God?"

There are tens of thousands of English women of all classes who look at this matter in the same way. Here is, indeed, the land of equality—for everybody except the English themselves—and here the Ambassador from Zululand and the Maharajah of Mysore move in the society of the best of those who are swallow-tailed and decollete at sundown every day.

This being the case, I offer the suggestion that here in England is a haven for the oppressed and unhappy Afro-Americans. Our white folks say—when the tariff and financial issues are in abeyance—that the greatest problem we Americans face is, "What shall we do with the negro?" The colored folks who are with us often talk of flight into Liberia, into Mexico and into Cuba when it shall be the newest of our States. But why has no one considered the idea of their exodus to England? Here is a soft, mile, equitable climate. Here is a democracy that shudders at the detestable prejudices, the unjust laws and the unholly practices that cause the colored man to groan under the Stars and Stripes. Here is a population containing a million more women than men—a million women who consider the black man as a brother, and in most cases, would not be averse to him as a husband. Here is a free country where the negro could vote, could live on perfect equality with his fellow men and could expand and develope up to his utmost ability. Perhaps if our whole eight millions of colored folks came here at once the effect might be to startle the British and arouse a new-born prejudice, but, fancying the migration to be gradual, I can offer England to the patient Afro-American as already quite up to the perfection that he askes of the United States—for it is a country containing a very few Irish, no Chinese and no need for a fifteenth amendment.

I could expand this suggestion to fill many columns, and yet it is possible to put it in a nutshell, Arguments for it may come later, but, first, what say the Afro-Americans—and, also, what say the English? JULIAN RALPH.

Logan Carlisle's Joke.

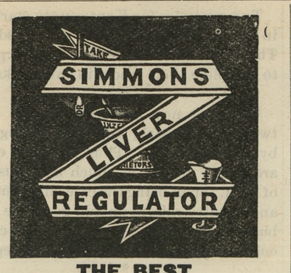

Mr. Logan Carlisle, chief of the Treasury Department, and son of Secretary Carlisle is famed among his intimate friends for his wit.

It was during this administration that Secretary Carlisle issued an order that no two members of a family should be employed in the Treasury Department at the same time. This caused several dismissals and forced resignations, and one young woman whose mother had been forced to leave, entered indignant protest with Logan.

She pleaded, threatened, and finally said: "Well, Mr. Chief Clerk, it's a poor rule that won't work both ways. Both your father and yourself being here the rule is violated, and I think it a shame that such favortism should be displayed."

Logan drummed on his desk with his pencil and wore a far-away look. Finally he said: "Well, I guess the old man will have to go."—Atlanta Journal.

"Pa, why does history repeat itself?" "Because there is no telephone girl around to make it ring off!"

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE

is SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR—don't forget to take it. The Liver gets sluggish during the Winter, just like all nature, and the system becomes choked up by the accumulated waste, which brings on Malaria, Fever and Ague and Rheumatism. You want to wake up your Liver now, but be sure you take SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR to do it. It also regulates the Liver—keeps it properly at work, when your system will be free from poison and the whole body invigorated.

You get THE BEST BLOOD when your system is in A1 condition, and that will only be when the Liver is kept active. Try a Liver Remedy once and note the difference. But take only SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR—it is SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR which makes the difference. Take it in powder or in liquid already prepared, or make a tea of the powder; but take SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR. You'll find the RED Z on every package. Look for it.
