EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

CHESTERTOWN, MD., - JAN. 16, 1897.

In order to secure attention, subscribers wishing their addresses changed must give OLD as well as new address.

The meeting next Monday is specially for FARMERS. Wonder if they will attend it?

J. A. PEARCE, Esq., is the only candidate named for the Democratic nomination for Chief Judge of this circuit.

The Circuit Court Judges have decided that the Queen Anne's county clerk cannot select his own deputy.

SENATOR WELLINGTON has bought a new home in the fashionable section of Cumberland and will shortly occupy it.

THERE will be no politics in the meeting next Monday. It is to consider agriculture. Will you be there, farmer friend?

SENATOR JOHN SHERMAN, of Ohio, has been tendered the State portfolio by Mr. McKinley and has accepted. It is believed that Mark Hanna will succeed to the Senate.

JUDGE RUSSUM says he is not a candidate for United States Senator. He wants no office other than chief judge of this circuit, unless he could get a life position in Washington at a good salary.

THE Baltimore World says "Mayor Hooper, who is reputed to be worth $1,000,000, pays taxes on the sum of $3,500 only!" Thus the millionaires escape the burden of taxation.

THOS. C. PLATT had almost a unanimous vote for Senator from New York in the Republican caucus. He succeeds Hill. Mr. Choate only got seven votes. The so-called "better element" was not in it.

THE biggest row of the season occurred Tuesday in the Democratic city convention in Philadelphia. The "fisticuff feature" was most prominent, and the whole affair was disgraceful to all concerned. Ordinarily it is patronage that politicians wrangle over. Philadelphia Democrats are extraordinary—they fight for glory! Or, may be it's just to keep their hands in till the tides change.

THE Easton Star publishes our article of last week on the judgeship, and says: "No better choice could be made, and we heartily endorse all that the NEWS says of him. Mr. Pearce is too well known to need special mention of his capabilities and worth, and the people of this circuit would be satisfied with the administration of justice in his hands. With a ticket composed of such men as Mr. Pearce, the Democrats should have no fear of the result. As much can be said of Wm. R. Martin, Esq., who is the only Talbot man mentioned in the article."

THE Republicans appear to be perfectly sanguine of their ability to elect a successor to Senator Gorman. The only concern they have is as to which of their own aspirants shall have the plum. Ex-Congressman McComas, of the Sixth district, is the latest contestant, but the Baltimore dailies announce that "Wellington will not help him." Therefore, he is not in it. Governor Lowndes is Wellington's man for Senator.

IN regard to Democratic Queen Anne's, Ex-Senator Turpin says "there will be a contest for the judicial nomination between Messrs. P. B. Hopper and E. H. Brown, but it will be conducted in the best spirit possible, a good-natured rivalry; and though each will do his best, the winner will have the full support of the loser in the election which follows." The ex-Senator further said he hopes neither candidate will stain his canvas by the use of money to bribe voters. We heartily agree with him, and trust the fair name of our noble sister county will escape the humiliation of having bought a primary victory in so important a matter as a judicial contest.

THE Baltimore Sun Almanac for 1897 is at hand. It is, as usual, a complete compendium of desirable information for any one to have at hand during the year. It alone is worth a year's subscription to the Sun to any business man. This little Sun book differs from the great Northern newspaper annuals in its lack of unnecessary verbiage, or "dead wood"—stuff that is of no use, and only annoys and confuses the hunter after facts—and herein is the great superiority of the Sun book over all its contemporary publications.

THE Wicomico News reports some remarkable hog guessing. The biggest porker of the season was butchered in Salisbury last Saturday. There were 680 guesses at its weight at ten cents a guess, the nearest to take the whole sum. The winner was E. B. Hitch, who guessed 827½ pounds, the exact weight. Other close guesses were 827, 826½, 828½, 826.

THIRTY-EIGHT DOLLARS AND TEN CENTS per acre for a 222 acre farm would seem to indicate some value yet to land in Kent. This sale, reported in our local columns, was after a genuine contest by rival bidders—two of them being intelligent farmers of the county—and the deliberation with which the bids were made was specially interesting to the onlookers. Ten cent bids were frequent and nearly three hours were occupied in selling the several pieces of property. Another tract of 176 acres sold at $30 per acre. These farms are about ten miles from Chestertown and considered first-class in quality of soil and in improvements.

Ex-Comptroller Smith on the New Rock Hall Fish Law.

Rock Hall fishermen are sorely grieved over the effect of the new fish law concerning their rights in the waters of the bay. If, as has been intimated, that, the law was passed in the interest of the fishermen at Havre de Grace, then no more vicious and partizan legislation has ever been enacted in this State. The attempt to restrict the fishermen of Rock Hall to the flats or the waters within 800 yards of low watermark, means to give them the niggardly privilege of catching a few trash fish, while the valuable fish are in the deep waters in the middle of the bay and going up to the head of the bay for the sole benefit of the Havre de Grace fishermen. The poor privilege of catching eels and catfish was intended for the Rock Hall fisherman, who could not in a whole season make enough to pay the cost of his license, while his family would be in want. Another inexcusable blunder in the law is making the license expire in the middle of the fishing season, compelling the fishermen to pay for TWO LICENSES IN ONE SEASON or only fish half the season. What reason can be assigned for not having the license to expire with the fishing season? The fishermen are determined not to permit their rights to be legislated from them without a contest and to that end have employed Ex-Comptroller Smith, who has given them a written opinion, the substance of which is as follows:

"I have very carefully examined the provisions of the new fish law, known as Chapter 441 of the Acts of 1896 etc., and would say, whatever may have been the purpose of the Legislature—and I must admit it is not very clear—to require all residents of this State desiring to engage in the business of taking and catching fish in the waters of Chesapeake Bay to procure a license; and below Pool's Island to restrict their operations to the waters of the bay within 800 yards of low water mark, it is very manifest that the provisions of the Act of 1896 do not apply to persons catching fish with gill nets. And I am of the opinion that persons using gill nets in taking fish are not required to take out the license nor are they restricted to the 800 yard line, but may fish, without a license, in any part of the bay."

Holding Two Offices.

Some of the property owners of Carroll county are proposing to test the constitutionality of the present assessment law. They claim the act of the Legislature illegal in that it conflicts with the requirement that no one person shall hold two offices of profit and trust at one and the same time, and they cite that boards of county commissioners are serving as boards of control and review. We question the position of our Carroll county objectors. The Legislature clearly has the right to lay upon her officers additional duties—at least of a temporary character—and pay for the same. This has frequently been done. Extra duties have been assigned to clerks of courts, registers of wills and State officials times without number.

Democrats Should Read and Ponder.

In another column we give space to a sensible political article on the Democratic situation in Maryland from the Port Tobacco Times. Its author is not intending so much a defense of Senator Gorman as to show the absurdity of the continued flings at that gentleman and its suicidal effect on the Democracy. The article makes a suggestion so wise and concise in its closing paragraph that we here emphasize and heartily endorse every word of it by republishing as follows: "The only sensible and manly thing for Democrats to do in the present situation is to get together in every county and, without any factional contention, put up their very best and most available men for the Legislature—the men who can command the votes of all Democrats—regardless of preference for Senator. Then elect such a Legislature, if they can, and leave to them the choice of a Senator."

The Electoral Colleges.

The electors for President met in all the State capitals last Monday and cast their votes, and we have now the official result. McKinley receives 271 and Bryan 176 votes. Of the popular vote McKinley gets 7,102,580, and Bryan 6,509,319. Of the States McKinley gets 21 and Bryan 22, with two States divided, namely California 8 for McKinley and 1 for Bryan; Kentucky 12 for McKinley and 1 for Bryan.

A COPY of the Comptroller's Report is on our desk. It is from the press of the Dorchester Standard, and is very neatly printed. The report as a whole shows a gratifying exhibit of the State's finances.

THE latest from Cuba is to the effect that the insurgent leader, Gen. Maximo Gomez, stormed and captured the important city of Santa Clara on January 9, and is now moving on Havana with 18,000 men.

WM. R. MARTIN, Esq., is announced by the Easton Ledger as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Associate Judge of this circuit. The Ledger further states that Talbot will present the name of Col. James C. Mullikin, and "it is believed he will be one of the three nominees" by the Republicans. Cecil Republicans have decided to press the claims of L. M. Haines, Esq.

JAMES ALFRED PEARCE, Esq., of Kent county, is announced as a candidate for judge. Kent county, it is thought, will send a delegation to the judicial convention strongly advocating Mr. Pearce. They will have one of the most polished of gentlemen for their candidate—a pure, upright Christian gentleman, and one above reproach. No man in the circuit commands more universally the respect of the people who know him than does Mr. Pearce, and his popularity is not confined to Kent county, but extends into all the counties of the circuit.—Centreville Observer.

Hon. J. W. Crisfield Dead.

John W. Crisfield, the nestor of the Somerset bar, died in Princess Anne last Friday, aged 89 years. The deceased was for many years one of the leading citizens in the State, and ranked as one of the ablest lawyers. He was born in Chestertown, the son of Arthur and Elizabeth (Woodland) Crisfield. He was also a prominent Democrat and served several terms in Congress, and was a member of our State Constitutional Convention in 1851. He founded the town of Crisfield. Mr. Crisfield was married three times. His first wife was Miss Johnson, a sister of the late Wm. W. Johnson, of which union there was left no offspring. His second wife was Miss Page, their children being Mr. Arthur Crisfield, of the Congressional Library at Washington, and Chief Judge Henry Page, of the First Judicial Circuit and the Court of Appeals Bench. The third wife, his present widow, was Miss Mary Handy. Of this union five daughters and one son survive—Mrs. Sallie Dennis, of Beverly, below Pocomoke City; Misses Ellen, Mary, Louise and Carrie Crisfield, of Princess Anne, and John Woodland Crisfield, United States civil engineer, now in Pittsburg. Judge Henry took the name of his uncle, Henry Page, in 1844, at the request of his grandmother and by an act of legislature.

Kent Countians in the West.

Messrs. Jack and Watson Spear, of Masseys, are making a fortune delving among the hills of Colorado. They have established new camps, which, although young, are able to show much development with convincing results. They have staked off three claims, viz., the Mattie H., Chester, Baltimore Girl and Kent, on a porphyry dyke north of Hays' camp. Surface values along its entire length average $8. Adjoining claims are valued at $128 and $92 per ton. The Denver Republican says "as was the case in Cripple Creek, it is believed that the richest mines will eventually be developed within the porphyry belt."

It is claimed by many intelligent mining men familiar with the different districts of Colorado that Bare Hills is the most promising new gold camp in the state. There can be no contradiction of the fact that there is mineral there. There are thousands of tons of low grade ore already in sight; in fact, there are mountains of it. It has been demonstrated that it will yield to treatment at a good profit by some of the cheap processes already in practical operation in several places. But it will not bear transportation charges over rough mountain roads any great distance. There must be mills easily accessible and there are good locations for them there. They would not lack for material to grind for the next fifty years.

An "oyster curiosity" is left at the NEWS office by Mr. R. L. Hynson. It is a stick of oak wood, about three feet long and two inches in diameter, almost covered with young oysters. These oyster adherents to the wood are in size from a three cent piece to a full grown oyster. The stick was caught by Mr. Romie Crouch, on Piney Point last Wednesday. It only proves the prolific character of the "luscious bivalve" when given half a chance. Any rough substance that will catch the spat—or rather that to which the oyster spat will adhere—is a sufficient ground for oyster propagation. The scarcity of oysters is now the almost universal complaint. Swan Point, the greatest oyster grounds known, are said now to be utterly worthless, and other sections are depleted. What is the remedy? Those living along the river shores should go into the business of oyster bedding. This is the only solution to our mind.
