A Singular Case!

Mr. James Culley was found dead in his home at Rock Hall Thursday morning. Owing to the peculiar circumstances surrounding the demise Justice Beck summoned a jury and an inquest was held. It was learned that Mr. Culley and his wife had trouble Wednesday and the latter left the home, Mr. C. being found the following morning dead in bed. No marks of violence were to be seen and after a thorough examination the jury gave a verdict that the deceased came to his death from unknown causes. Mr. Culley was in Chestertown on Tuesday and complained of feeling funny about the head, having had the grip for several weeks. The deceased lived for many years in Quaker Neck, removing to Rock Hall about two years ago. He was about seventy years of age and leaves several children.

A PRACTICAL TEST.

Captain Emory Makes Some Explanations.

The title "professor" applied to Capt. Emory in the NEWS last week was one which he richly deserves, but in his modesty he prefers the plain captain, so therefore hereafter the public will call him Captain Emory. His discovery of a remedy for the San Jose scale has reached far and wide and unlike most men he publishes it abroad free of cost to every farmer. He is a philanthropist in this respect and has given to fruit growers a sure cure for this dangerous pest. Letters arrive every day to the captain concerning the results of his experiments which he answers in his satisfactory manner without a cent's profit. His prescription for spraying trees infested with San Jose scale is 2½ pounds whale oil soap dissolved in one gallon of water. This is Capt. Emory's discovery which he gives to the world FREE.

The following letter received by Capt. Emory from Prof. G. Harold Powell, entomologist at Delaware College Agricultural Experiment Station, will show the amazing result of an experiment in Dr. Black's orchard:

Newark, Del., April 7th, 1897.

Capt. R. S. Emory, Chestertown, Md.,

Dear Sir:—I went to Dr. Black's yesterday and found the pump had been shipped last week. I trust it has reached you by this time.

Will you kindly give me the result of your spraying this year. What proportion of scale are dead? What proportion of fruit buds are killed by the soap, and any other points you may think of.

In an orchard of 600 trees that I had sprayed there is less than 1 per cent of scale alive and no fruit buds were injured. In another orchard the scale are nearly all killed but the fruit buds seemed to be injured to a considerable extent in certain portions of the orchard, I would be very glad to receive a few fruit buds that have been injured if you can send them to me. Yours very truly,
G. HAROLD POWELL.

Prof. W. G. Johnson is a guest of Capt. Emory. He examined the trees about the NEWS office yesterday and pronounces the scale thereon to be known as "the obscure scale." He has promised to write something concerning this specie. Prof. Johnson states that after a visit to many orchards in the State he finds most of the diseased trees come from Parry & Sons Nursery in New Jersey. This firm in some manner get their goods into Maryland. There are no nurseries in this State affected with the scale as far as the professor has seen.

THE FIRST VICTORY.

The college boys crossed bats last Saturday with the Browns, a strong organization from South East Baltimore, and defeated them by the score of 5 to 3. It was the first game of the season and some ragged playing was done on both sides, each making five errors. The game, however, was interesting from the fact that it was the opening game and also because of the close score. Turner, a very able pitcher who is to join the New Jersey League, tossed the ball for the visitors and "pulled the boys' legs" more than once. Davis was in the box for the college boys and had excellent control of the ball, striking out fourteen men. Among the special features of the game was the stopping of a very hot grounder by Stidham, the catching of a sky scraper by Ward, which would have meant two runs for the visitors had it been missed, and a long fly knocked out in the left field by McDormon which let in the winning run. The game was called at 1.30 and stopped at 3.15 P. M., only 8 innings having been played in order that the visitors might make connections with the Tolchester boat. The batteries were Davis and Bader for the home team and Turner and Manner for the visitors.

Don't buy your clothing out of town. Visit A. Friedman's or Moody & Lusby's. They carry equally as fine a line as you will find any where and their prices are reasonable.

Dr. J. T. Twilley is erecting another residence on Twilley row. Mr. Wm. Ayres is doing the work.

Suit Against the County. — Miss Mary E. Massey, of Chestertown, through her attorney, Hope H. Barroll, Esq., on Tuesday docketed a suit for $500 against the commissioners of Kent county for taxes paid in error during the past five years. The claim is that certain property was erroneously taxed, and that upon this erroneous assessment she had continued to pay taxes for five years, and that the commissioners refused to correct the error except for one year.

Victims in Kent.—The "E. S. Dean Blind Pool Concern" caught a number of persons in Chestertown who lost several hundrd dollars by its failure last week. Many citizens in neighboring towns also lost heavily. The town of Seaford in Sussex county, Del., was probably hit hardest of any, the losses there aggregating $10,000. The company had two agents at Seaford, who traveled constantly over the State. Clayton and Smyrna in Kent, Del., had victims to the extent of $5,000 and throughout the entire State it is presumed that at least $50,000 has been swept away. One man in Clayton on an investment of $300 was notified that there were earnings to the amount of $1,300 "placed to his credit," he re-invested, and now all has been swept away. The losses in Georgetown are placed at $4,000. Citizens of Easton lost about $2,000, having invested in sums ranging from $25 to $500. These "companies" take money and speculate with it in stocks, alleging that their way of doing business is bound to make large sums for their investors. Of course they always collapse.

THE NEW RAILROAD REVIVED.

To Join the Kent Road at Lambson's Station—Galena People Interested.

There is considerable agitation in railroad circles over the rumor that a new railroad will soon be built from Child's station, on the Baltimore and Ohio, to Lambson's station, on the Baltimore and Delaware Bay Railroad, branch of the Central Railroad of New Jersey. The scheme is to supply coal to the glass factories of New Jersey and other large manufactories in Southern New Jersey. The Baltimore & Ohio is to be used to Child's station, the new road to Lambson's, thence over the Baltimore and Delaware Bay Railroad to Woodland Beach and across the bay in floats to Bay side, and thence by the New Jersey Southern and connecting lines to the factories. This will do away with the delay caused in getting through Philadelphia.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES.

To-morrow, Sunday, will be Easter Sunday, and in most churches the choirs will sing glad anthems and the ministers will preach appropriate sermons.

The choir of Immanuel Church, Dr. S. C. Roberts rector, will render the best selections of music yet attempted. The singers will be Mrs. Allan Harris, Misses Mary and Sallie Beck, W. W. Chapman and Thos. W. Perkins, Miss Hurtt, organist. The selections are as follows:

Anthem, "Christ is Risen" by Frank; "Christ Our Passover" by Chapple; "Te Deum Laudamus," Toop; "Gloria Patria," Shilling; "Jubilate Deo," Dank; hymn, "Alleluia, the Strife is O'er;" "Kyrie Eleison," Elevey; "Gloria Tibi," Caswell; hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today;" Offoratory Anthem, "As it Began to Dawn," by Vincent; Doxology.

The Children's Easter service will be held in place of the regular evening service at 7.30 P. M.

Special services will be held in the Catholic Church at Galena on Easter Sunday. There will be two masses, the first beginning at 7.30 A. M. and the second at 10.30 A. M. The late mass will be a high mass, and the music rendered at it will be exceptionally fine. Father Hughes will deliver a most instructive sermon on the lessons of the Resurrection.

At Sacred Heart Church, Chestertown, Father McSweeney will conduct Mass at 8.30 A. M. and the following music will be rendered:

Haec Dies; Praise Ye the Lord; Regina Caels; Veni Jesu; What could my Jesus do more; Carol, "Merrily the Easter Bells."

The choir will include Mrs. H. L. Boyd, Mrs. Rogers, Misses Tillie Rasin, Mollie Parks, Mary Rogers, Messrs. Jas. T. Dixon and James P. Parrott; Miss Josie Redue, organist.

At Christ Church, Rev. J. M. Gill will preach morning and night and some appropriate Easter music will be presented.

At the M. E. Church Prof. Pippin hopes to render "Old Easter Anthem" and Dr. Grise advertises special services.

Waived a Hearing.—Mr. Benj. H. Coburn, whose arrest at Rock Hall was mentioned in the NEWS last week, waived a hearing and his trial will come up in the April term of court. He is charged with selling intoxicants to young men on Sunday.

SIGHTS OF A DAY.

Did you ever see Chestertown out in sporting array? It is one of the sportiest towns on the Shore, as any one who will take the trouble to observe on any good afternoon will perceive. First we notice on this special day Dr. Harry G. Simpers and W. B. Usilton, Jr., mounted on wheels, starting for a spin to Still Pond, closely followed by Mr. W. W. Chapman, the fleet rider of the C. C. C., who is off for a twenty-mile spin. Then there comes Mr. John Eliason and lady, mounted on horseback, and as the noise of the horses' feet die away on the hard street, there follows His Honor Judge Joseph A. Wickes, driving a pair of bay horses to his side-bar carriage, and Mrs. Richard D. Hynson in a handsome surrey. Now comes a jolly party of lady cyclists, including Mrs. Thos. W. Eliason, Mrs. Wilbur Eliason, Mrs. Hiram M. Brown, Misses Maggie Plummer, Nelie Walker, Rebecca Wickes, Anna Brown and Ellen Fisher, all riding along gracefully and without fear. Here goes Mr. A. J. Hynson, holding the reins over his pretty little "Sailor Girl," while Dr. T. H. Cooper follows close with a pair of his well-bred colts. Then comes another party of cyclists, including Dr. C. P. Gilpin, Dr. W. F. Hines, Allan Harris, W. M. Slay, C. F. Stam, Dr. C. W. Whaland and others. Here goes Mr. Allie Thomas and friend gliding past on the Rambler tandem, accompanied by a bevy of charming young ladies, among whom we notice Misses Lottie Wickes, Irma Eliason, Anna Stam, Mary Fleming, Eunice Westcott, Gussie Friedman and Jennie Hines. Now we hear the clatter of more horses' feet and there ride by three of our young attorneys, Messrs. Beck, Wickes and Catlin, all mounted on chestnut chargers. Then there flits by Master Kennard Aldridge on his wheel, while his little sister sits calmly in front enjoying the sport. Mr. T. W. Eliason drives along in his easy carriage behind a pair of dark bays, Mr. J. K. Aldridge comes with his handsome pair of blacks, Col. Vannort holding the reins over "Lankford," Miss Blanche Constable driving her big bay horse, and Miss Shaw in her drag behind a beautiful bay mare.

But let us turn from the street to the pavement awhile. There we see many of the town's pretty ladies out for a walk, and incidentally doing a little shopping. Housewives or nurses are out with the little ones, who are decked in most tasty garments. There goes Master James Bacchus, a little chubby three-year-old tot, dressed in pants and blouse, and near him comes Norman Crouch and Frazier Russell, rivals in both height and weight. Then the pretty little babes in carriages come trooping by and present the "finest" in the land.

The racers attract our attention. They are Messrs. David B. Ford, Jas. Shuster, James Lucas, Stockton Startt, Raymond Simpers, Harry Hodgkin, Webb McIntyre and Pete Hatcherson, all going through town at a rapid gait. There goes Mr. W. W. Hubbard in his fine turnout, Mr. W. C. A. Thompson behind his fast goer, "Jack," Mr. T. G. Wroth in his road wagon, and H. H. Barroll, Esq., in his surrey. Mr. and Mrs. H. Rickey next attract our attention as they ride by on their bicycles, in company with Mrs. W. F. Russell, Mrs. Joseph Guest and others. Then comes the college coterie, Prof. Micou and wife, Prof Clarke, Miss Wicker, Prof. Jones and wife, Miss Emma McFeely and Dr. C. W. Reid, the latter always accompanied by his dog. Other ladies to be seen gracefully riding the wheel are these: Mrs. C. J. Reiche, Mrs. J. S. Vandegrift, Mrs. A Harris, Misses Fannie Stuart, Sue Reiche, Katie Smith, Ollie Hill, Rosa McIntyre, Lilly Greenwood, Lilly Crow, Cora Hynson, May Jones and others.

Thus the picture is always changing. There goes a crowd of sports to see the ball game, all confident that Davis will strike out ten men and that Burris will steal second. Here are the marble "fiends," playing from morning until night. There goes Sam Jones in his goat wagon, out for a ride, etc., etc.

Levy Court, April 13.— Full board present. The following accounts were passed: C. W. Nickerson, constable fees, $3.40; Westcott & Dodd, merchandise for almshouse, $125.12; George Butler, pension, $10; Wm. Btggers, road work, $14.87; C. W. England, same, $19.07; Wm. England, same, $12; Isaac Jones, same, $29.13; William Stauffer, same, $23.60; L. M. Shuck, same, $25.32; W. S. Walker, same, $17.48; George T. Cosden, same, $12.40; W. F. Jewell, same, $4.40; S. G. Kilbourn, Jr., for hauling shells, $7.70; J. W. Wright, J. P., fees, $10.30; J. G. Moore, taxes paid in error, $2.19; Dr. T. H. Cooper, vaccinating indigents, $21; Samuel J. Vickers, account salary, $80; Joseph Nowland, repairing road machine, $5.45. The board contracted with the Enterprise and KENT NEWS for county publishing for the fiscal year beginning July 1 at $500 each, the same as last year.

Frosty Night Tuesday.

A white frost covered the earth on Tuesday morning, but no serious damage to crops is reported here, notwithstanding the following Sun dispatch to the contrary: "Ice formed throughout Dorchester county last night and it is feared that great damage has been done the peach crop. The trees are now in nearly full blossom, a stage at which the young fruit is easily injured. Experienced growers say that at least one-half of the crop was dead before this visitation of cold, which is owing, probably, to the very dry summer and fall of last year, which left the trees in an enfeebled condition." The crop in Western Maryland, Delaware and in many Western States is reported very much hurt.

ROCK HALL TIDINGS.

Constable Davis has done his duty, and, as usual, somebody is angry. The arrest of certain parties was a necessity and our good thinking cittzens should stand firm in upholding the officers in their work.

Mr. Wm. Hillingham is erecting a front building to his house on road to steamboat. It is quite an improvement.

George Boyer, colored, was arrested for assaulting George Bentley Tuesday, carried before Squire Beck and fined $10.45.

Mrs. Cacey, mother of Sheriff Cacey, is quite sick at the home of Mr. Nicholas Ayres. Mrs. C. is over 80 years old and the present affliction is hard for her to bear.

Special Easter services will be held in the M. E. Church. The choir is rehearsing some new music and under Mr. Jos. Downey's leadership is making progress.

Capt. J. F. Stevens of the schooner A. B. Smith, was examining his breech loading gun in the main cabin of the Smith when accidentally the gun dropped from his hand, and falling to the cabin floor discharged, sending the whole load of No. 1 shot through the three inch plank of which the cabin trunk is built. The stock of the gun struck the captain and besides the bruising of his foot, no damage was done.

Mr. John W. Downey is erecting a large store room on his lot across from the Chesapeake House. Judefind and Ayres are doing the work. Is John building a postoffice?

It is reported here that Mr. Jos. Kendall has withdrawn from the fight for postmaster and will make a pull for the Legislature. Have you seen Boss Wellington, Joë?

Mr. George Lambert will make somebody hustle for this postoffice plum if we mistake not.

Mr. Benjamin Creamer, who keeps store near the wharf, was arrested this week and carried before Squire Beck but waived a hearing. He is charged with selling intoxicating liquors. Mr. Creamer says it was apple cider.

PRESTO.

MILLINGTON NEWS.

Our town commissioners are having the streets improved by curbing and preparing to put in gravel where there are no brick pavements. They are also trimming the shade trees.

Mr. Henry Tonkin and assistants held their Arbor Day exercises on Wednesday afternoon, at half-past 2 o'clock. The programme consisted of readings, recitations and singing; also the planting of trees. The parents and friends, who always encourage the teachers and pupils by their presence, enjoyed the exercises very much.

Our Epworth League is preparing an Easter service for Sunday evening.

Miss May Lees, a school teacher of Baltimore city, will spend the Easter holidays at home with her mother. Miss Mattie Hazell, accompanied by friends from Baltimore, will also be at home during Easter.

Mr. H. Tonkin, wife and son, will spend the Easter holidays with friends in Wilmington.

Mrs. Mary Mallalieu intends visiting friends in Philadelphia during Easter.

Mrs. Addie W. Pippin, of Church Hill, formerly of Millington, died on Monday, April 12, after an illness of a few months. She leaves a husband and two children, one a bright and beautiful boy of 3½ years, and an infant daughter nearly one year old. The funeral services were held at Dr. Pippin's home on Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, then drove to Millington to the Epiphany church, where a short service was held at 1 o'clock. Interment at the Millington cemetery, in the presence of many of her former friends and associates. As a girl, Addie was very lovable, of a sweet, bright disposition, everybody loved her; as a wife and mother, she was all that the words call for. She will be missed by us all.
