HONOR CLUB FORMED AT HIGH SCHOOL HERE

by Emory Hines
In order that you may understand one of our recent organizations, we give you a brief sketch of a very prominent club, the Honor Club of Chestertown High School.

Membership in the club is in itself an honor, and a reward for scholastic merit. To be a member, a student must attain the mark of "A" or "B" in all his studies. If his grades fall, he is automatically dropped from the club, but he may resume his place by raising his marks.

The chairman for this month is Elizabeth Baldwin. Mr. Stenger is the able faculty advisor, as he organized the club. Our by-laws are few, but necessary. They are:

- (1) Only persons having a grade of "B" or higher shall be admitted to the Honor Club.
- (2) All Honor Club members shall uphold the constitution.
- (3) An Honor Club member shall be present at faculty meetings whenever necessary.
- (4) Honor Club members shall attend at least 50 per cent. of the meetings unless absent from school.
- (5) All Honor Club members shall try to encourage others to raise the school standards.
- (6) All Honor Club members shall uphold the school standards.
- (7) Cheating and skipping school shall be discouraged and if members are caught, they shall be expelled from the Honor Club.
- (8) Honor Club members shall cooperate with the teachers.

At the present time, the organization has about fifty members, com-

Ninth Grade Girls Enjoy Tempting Menus

by Charlotte Russell
Many a ninth grade boy has grown hungry as he heard of the tasty luncheons enjoyed by the girls this past week. Such tempting menus are complete in all details of color, taste and composition.

The 9B menu consisted of macaroni and cheese, vegetable salad, biscuits, banana whip, cookies and cocoa. The 9B hostesses were Betty Lewis and Elizabeth Hagen (the waitresses, Mildred Thrift and Florence Yackel).

The 9C section had cheese souffle, asparagus salad, drop biscuit, pineapple upside-down cake, and tea. Kathryn Strong and Marie Miller acted as hostesses and the waitresses were Carolyn Lusby and Jeanette Sutton.

Estelle Beaver and Harriette Clark were the hostesses and Louise Groves and Eva George the waitresses at 9A's luncheon. The meal included macaroni and cheese and vegetable salad with cinnamon muffins, banana whip, cookies, and tea.

Each girl prepared one dish for her respective luncheon. There was not a single failure.

The luncheons terminated the year's cooking lessons.

ing from Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes. The Seniors have the greatest number of high rating students.

This Honor Club is the largest contributing factor toward cooperation between students and teachers, and we hope it will bring about our long hoped for student council.

MIDDLETOWN HIGH BEATS CHESTERTOWN

by Paul Poetzch
The Chestertown five lined up to a hard fighting Middletown zone defense on Wednesday, January 30, 1935. It seemed that the boys were not in their passing form that night.

The first half was a difficult one for the local five. The boys soon found out that Middletown was not a soft team.

Middletown scored twelve points in the first half, while Chestertown did not score any. In the second half they did better by scoring eleven points, and held Middletown to only thirteen.

The five were playing a hard game. The forwards were not in their best scoring form.

We must give credit to Branner, a Middletown forward, for scoring ten points for his side.

The lineup is as follows:

Chestertown	Points
Gordon, f	4
Kirby, f	3
Bibb, c	2
Mead, g	2
Benjamin, g	0

Middletown	Points
Branner, f	10
Richards, f	1
Sheets, c	7
Bing, g	4
Lyster, g	3

Substitutions: Chestertown: McGregor for Gordon, Owens for McGregor.

Grief mellow with the passing years. The monument may become a shrine of tender memories.

What tribute to the departed is more fitting, more adequate, than a memorial in the finest and most enduring of monumental materials.

KIBLER'S KORNER

No. 14. February 6, 1935 Vol. 7.

The latest thing to be patented is a bullet-proof shirt that will stop a revolver shot at five paces. The final test, however, will come when it is sent to the laundry.

Everyday now is time for the Seed Catalogue to arrive. Now is the time we like to help with the garden. Picking out the seed.

Ever notice? When people throw mud it becomes dust and blows back on them.

Some people will never admit that good times are here until they can make a living without working.

In olden days if anybody missed a stage coach he was content to wait two or three days for the next one. Now he squawks if he misses one section of a revolving door.

Kibler's Clean Coal give better results in all kinds of weather and does it without leaving behind that annoying troublesome clinker. A trial will convince you.

In Los Angeles during the recent depression, two worried Jewish business men met on the street. "Morris, how is business?" asked the first. "Abie, it's colossal!" was the reply, "but it's picking up."

Glipped from a lip stick advertisement. "No allure is so stirring as provocative lips." And Luke says "Mebbe so, but at my age give me the aroma of a thick, juicy steak garnished with a brown hair of fried onions."

Now that Ground Hog Day is past the next big event is Valentine Day.
