

ROCK HALL WOMENS' CLUB HAS MEETING

Rock Hall
The Women's Club had a meeting last week and were much interested in a demonstration of parliamentary law. The local officers: Mrs. Fannie W. Wood, president; Mrs. Violet Urie, vice president; Mrs. Mary W. Wood, secretary; Mrs. Kitty Akers, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Elbourne, director, will visit Quaker Neck, on the 26th of the month. This is the Spring Advisory Council meeting and will convene at 10:30 in the morning.

With St. Valentine's sufficiently recognized and now to be forgotten for a year, Washington will come in for his share of attention, and the stores are even putting on what looks suspiciously like Easter offerings. The Girls Club of the M. E. Church will hold an Everybody's Birthday Party in honor of George Washington next Tuesday evening in the church house. The invitations in rhyme and bags to hold the pennies were sprung as a surprise to many last Sunday. If any are omitted from the list it is unintentional.

Not only is the snow and ice almost entirely disappeared on land but the harbor is clear except in the creeks, and the drift ice in the bay has mostly passed south so the fishermen have had several days of fishing, with prices better from the fresh-fish-hungry city people.

There has been considerable discussion about the young people who have been married in the past year or two. To us it seems very probably that they have been living on a lower scale until they have become at least familiar with it and have decided that they must accept it for some time to come. That has a silver lining—they don't have to hang pots on hooks in an open fireplace or spin the yarn for clothing, and none have been seen so ragged that patches hide the original garment. Nor have sun bonnets returned to day schools much less churches.

We are hoping that Tolchester will be able to pull out of its financial troubles. The beach and steamer accommodations have been a part of our lives for possibly sixty years. The serious situation of the company is another argument for the bay bridge. It is puzzling that Governor Nice is not an enthusiastic supporter of the plan. He is planning a better road toward Philadelphia, why not a bridge to Baltimore. Philadelphians will cheerfully use all the facilities that are provided for them; why not give Baltimore a better chance to utilize the road she helps to build?

Wesley Chapel men had a very bad night last Friday for their supper yet a goodly sum was cleared and the fellowship of the evening made it a successful occasion. Sunday morning's rain permitted a hundred and forty-six to be present. The sermon by Rev. Walter Donoway was enjoyed. Young People's service at night was conducted by Elwood Burgess. The meeting was addressed by Rev. Donoway on the topic, "What the Bible Says About Temptation and Sin." Scripture reading was given by Miss Louise Coleman; prayer by Oscar Vansant; cornet solo by Jesse Downey; the songs were: "I Would Be True"; "I Need Jesus"; "God's Way"; and "Yield Not to Temptation." Prayer meeting will be held tonight at Jesse Downey's, 7:30 o'clock. At Wesley's Primary Department will present a "Washington Social" next Friday evening at the church hall. The little ones are happily preparing.

The Methodist Episcopal Church School numbered a hundred and twenty-seven present. The School Board will hold their monthly meeting Thursday night because choir practice will be Friday night. Epworth League held its regular meeting Monday night. The morning sermon by the pastor, Rev. Conrad Hamer, was taken from I Kings 17: 7, "The brook dried up, because there had been no rain in the land." The choir's offering was "Faithful and Fearless." At night the evening began with Epworth League with Mrs. Herman Jones as leader. After a scripture reading she most interestingly discussed the topic, "What the Bible Says About Temptation and Sin." The songs selected were inspiring. Next Sunday night the young men ushers will conduct the service, and are preparing a fine program. Rev. Hamer preached from John 1:29, "Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." There was an official board meeting last night for business as the Annual Conference is only a month away.
