In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of our darling daughter, Grace Rood Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Davis, who died Aug. 9, 1921, one year ago.

What would I give to clasp her hand,
her dear face just to see,
Her loving smile, her welcome voice,
that meant so much to me.

When the evening shades are falling,
And I am all alone,
In my heart there comes a longing,
If my loved one could come home.
Oft and oft my thoughts do wander
To her grave not far away,
Where they gently lowered her body,
Just one year ago today.

In a casket snowy white
Lies our precious jewel so bright.
O! our darling so sweet and fair
With eyes so blue and golden hair.
Let us be brave throughout this day
And bear what burdens come our way.
Sadly missed by heart-broken
MOTHER.

Heaven retaineth now our treasure,
Earth alone the casket keeps;
And the sunbeams love to linger,
Where our darling daughter sleeps.
Dearly loved and sadly missed by her
FATHER AND MOTHER.

Ah, who left us one year ago today,
What would we give to clasp her hand,
Her loving face to see;
Her pleasant smile made life worth while,
Which meant so much to me.

In the graveyard safely sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies our sister we love so dearly
In her silent, lonely grave.
No one knows how much we miss her,
No one knows the tears we shed,
But in heaven we hope to meet her
Where no farewell words are said.
Sadly mised by SISTER.
