Many From Here See Football Game

After making every effort possible the Washington College Athletic Association was unable to get an excursion boat to take the many interested residents of Kent County to the annuar Washington College-St John's football game at Annapolis on Saturday last. This, however, did not daunt the spirits of the many football fans, as they went just the same. Some went by the Chester River line, some by the Rock Hall ferry, others drove around in their automobiles and last, but not least, twenty-one brave men, like Canute the Great, defied the wind and waves and made the trip in the "Tiperary," a house boat, which has been lying in the harbor for some time. But twelve, and only twelve, unlike the famous king, conquered the wind and waves and stood by the good ship, "Tiperary" on the return trip.

A Thief At Large In Maryland

A thief is now operating in several counties of Maryland that has one of the most unique crimnal careers in the annals of crime. This pilferer, so history informs us, first began operations in the state of Ohio about 1833.

Possessing more energy than conscience it widened its field of operation until it is now carying on its nefarious practice in every state in the Union.

Oue stricking feature of this criminal is that it possesses no means of locomotion. It depends entirely on those whome it would rob to carry or permit it to be brought to their premises.

Isn't it almost unbelieveable that a thief so handicaped and after 90 years of operation should still be permitted by the farmers to steal their property.

An investigation of this arch enemy of the farmers and stock raisers has shown it to be Mr. Hog Cholera Germ and it is realy most interesting how, in spite of its helplessness, it manages to get around over the country and continue its plundering.

One of its favorite methods of getting to hog pens is by hiding in a bone, rind or scrap of pork. This is thrown in the swill pail or garbage barrel and fed to hogs. After being eaten by the hogs, the rest is easy for once in the animal it begins to multiply and after the hog is sick it throws off the infection to the other swine in the herd.

Another sucessful mode employed for geting to free premises is to have a farmer purchase a hog which is already sick or which came from a place where hog cholera existed. After it once gets into a neighborhood it depends on the carelessness of the farmer to permit him to get to other farms.

nothing suits it better than to have thefarmer hide the fact that his hogs are sick. Another bit of thoughtlessness that works to its benefit is for a farmer to throw out the carcass of a hog for the buzzards or dogs to despose of.

He finds both of these will help him to get around to other farms. A continual search is being made for this crimnal and should you learn of any sick hogs promptly report the fact to your County Agent or the U. S. Specialist of Hog Cholera in your district.

World's Richest Man

Wall Street, the money mart of the world, has doffed its hat to Henry Ford and admits that he is now the richest man in the world.

The farmer boy of Dearborn, Mich., but now the world's greatest automobile builder, is credited with $180,000,000 cash on hand and an estimated income, which for 1922 will total $125,000,000 before taxes are deducted or $110,000,000 clear.

With earnings which average about $100 a car, Henry Ford's company could be capitalized at $2,000,000,000 and pay 5 per cent on the money.

Perhaps the most interesting thing about the Ford fortune, to the owners of his now famous car, is the importance of the replacement part sales. Wall Street says a profit of $15,000,000 is made from this source to keep the millions of cars now on the roads in running condition.

Ford's taxes in 1921 were $50,000,000. This year, with the excess profit tax abolished, he will pay only $16,000,000 of his $125,000,000 income.

Wall street shakes a sad head when such news is passed out for consumption and admits that the former Michigan farm boy has won his own game and is a Wall Street unto himself.

Wall Street itself pays Ford $7,200,000 annually in interest at 4 per cent. on his millions which flow through there on loans.

These figures were furnished Wall Street in a ticker statement this week.

Weak Back

Mrs. Mildred Pipkin, of R. F. D. 8, Columbia, Tenn., says: "My experience with Cardui has covered a number of years. Nineteen years ago . . . I got down with weak back. I was run-down and so weak and nervous I had to stay in bed. I read of and sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me; seemed to strengthen and build me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui. After that, . . . when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent right for Cardui, and it never failed to help me."

CARDUI

If you are weak and suffering from womanly ailments, Cardui may be just what you need. Take Cardui. It has helped thousands, and ought to help you.
