SIX NEGROES ASSAULT GIRL. Fourteen-Year-Old Negress Seized at Point of Pistol.

Gooley Martin, a 14-year-old colored girl of Poadtown, about five miles south of Crumpton, was feloniously assaulted by six colored men about 3:30 o'clock Saturday night near her house.

The girl was in company with another about two years younger, had started in the direction of their home after visiting a friend, and had proceeded only a short distance, when they were overtaken by a friend in a team, who offered to take them to their destination. After having ridden about half a mile six men, whom the girls said were James Adams, Buck Blackson, Dave Blackson, Thomas Blackson, Dave Elliot and George Harrison, all colored sprang from a thicket along the road which runs in front of the farm of Mr. Samuel Wells. One of them caught the horse's bridle and commanded halt. Under penalty of his own life the friend was compelled to release the two girls and drive from the place. The girls immediately began to scream for help, but the elder was caught and her cries stifled by a handkerchief being thrust into her mouth. The younger was not molested and fled to give the alarm.

After committing the assault the men fled. The girl finally managed to reach home and explained to her parents the manner in which she had been treated. They notified the authorities, and officers of both Kent and Queen Anne's counties are on the lookout for the men, and as they are well known an early capture is expected.

New Granges.—Marion Dawson, deputy organizer of granges, of the Patrons of Husbandry, organized a grange of the Patrons of Husbandry at Still Pond, on Saturday afternoon with 23 charter members, and installed the following officers: Master, L. W. Ford; Overseer, W. D. Pennington; Lecturer, Dr. J. H. Kelley; Seward, Walter B. Harris; Asst. Seward, Samuel G. Roseberry; Chaplain, F. A. Connelley; Treasurer, Samuel Mann; Secretary, John N. Bennett; Gate-keeper, Charles F. Norris; Pomona, L. B. Kelley; Flora, Mrs. L. B. Warner; Ceres, Mrs. Ella Ford; Lady Asst. Seward, Mrs. Ella Pennington.

Still Pond Grange starts with bright prospects, for its officers and members are of the best and most progressive citizens of the county.

He also organized one at Millington, Friday afternoon but too late to put the list of officers and will make an effort to have one at Fairlee, Chestertown and other points in the county, after which they will be formed into a County or Potomac Grange and all good citizens are asked to give their assistance.

Kennedysville Grange organized a few weeks ago and is taking new members and growing fast.

Thieving.—Chicken thieving is of nightly occurrence in this section. A farmer near town shot into a couple of thieves one night last week, heard a groan and saw blood on the ground the next morning but has not been able to find the wounded man. Mr. Jos. Watson was relieved of a dozen fowls a few nights ago and neighbors have also lost a few. A merchant in Chestertown says a colored man brought him 400 chickens one year but it was impossible to convict him of thieving.

The Board of Managers of the Chestertown Library gave a pleasant surprise to all who visited the cozy rooms Tuesday afternoon. Tea, wafers and sandwiches were served by dainty hands. This is a commendable institution and merits the assistance of all. It costs but 50 cents per year to become a member.

The box social held at the home of Mrs. A. P. Matthews on Cross street last Friday evening was a perfect success. Prof. L. J. Smyth was the "Crier" and turned over $25 dollars for the 23 boxes.

Among those present were a bevy of 21 charming girls from the College under the eye of Miss Idel Baker. More than $25 was realized for missionary purposes.

Mr. James G. Beck entertained a company of friends at a "sting" supper at his home on Maple avenue Monday evening. The menu was filled with good things which were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Myrtle Durbin, Helen Sutton, Blanche Groves, Unity Sutton, Mary Groves, Mrs. Myrtle Durbin, Helen Sutton, Blanche Groves, Unity Sutton, Mary Groves, Mrs. Myrtle Durbin, Helen Sutton, Blanche Groves, Unity Sutton, Mary Groves.

A delightful party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Moffett, Swan Creek, Thursday evening, Feb. 27. The guests arrived at about 7:30 o'clock. The usual pastimes for such occasions were joyously indulged in until about 10 o'clock when the weight of appropriate refreshments. Music was rendered by Mr. Albert Moffett. Among those present were:

- Mr. and Mrs. Roland Kurman, Wilson, Misses. Myrtle Durbin, Helen Sutton, Blanche Groves, Unity Sutton, Mary Groves, Mrs. Myrtle Durbin, Helen Sutton, Blanche Groves, Unity Sutton, Mary Groves, Mrs. Myrtle Durbin, Helen Sutton, Blanche Groves, Unity Sutton, Mary Groves.

All returned to their homes after midnight wishing the host and hostess many more such occasions.

The entertainment which was given by the Social Department of the Epworth League at Galena was quite a success. Refreshments were served after the performance over sixty six dollars was realized. The program rendered was as follows:

Keene, proprietor of the Voshell House, a bay gelding from Mr. Harry Bennett, of Broad Neck, and a brown gelding, by Marcus N. from Mr. Joseph Watson.
