A TRIBUTE TO MARYLAND

On The Two Hundred and Seventy-Fourth Anniversary of Her Settlement.

[Respectfully dedicated to the State and county superintendents, teachers and pupils of the public schools of Maryland.]

Hail Maryland! thou grand old State, Today thy birth we celebrate.

Dear Maryland! I love thy hills, Thy winding rivers, tiny rills.

When in the evening time of life I wish to look back on my life.

My heart with fondest rapture thrills, When I survey thy plains and hills.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

My heart with gladness ever beats, When I recall thy joys and sweets.

NET BRINGS MILLIONS.

How The Fish Are Caught In The Bay And Converted Into Oil And Fertilizer.

Much has been written about the wealth of the great Chesapeake and the richness of its natural supply of oysters, fish and game.

The menhaden fishing industry has reached proportions that bring the tolls from the deep up into millions of dollars and is exceeded in point of revenue by the oyster trade only.

Beginning with the great Wisconsin river on the western side of the bay and continue down the shore until you reach Pungoteague, Va., you will see factory after factory dotting the shoreline where the fish are converted into oil and fertilizer for the markets of the world.

The natural supply of these fish cannot but be of vital interest to the farmer, for fish "manure" as it is called, is one of the chief ingredients of his fertilizers.

Some idea as to the amount of money invested in this business may be had from the following statistics, which have been carefully prepared:

Twenty-six steamers, valued at $200,000. Value of yearly output, $1,200,000.

The steamers that are engaged in this traffic are built and seaworthy, ranging in size from 100 tons, the smallest, to 200 tons, the largest.

The menhaden season starts March 25 and lasts until October 15.

HERE'S A WAY TO SAVE DOCTOR BILLS.

Physicians Give Free Advice by Which Parents May Profit.

It was an association of gentlemen, professionally physicians and chemists, all of whom were born in the drug trade, so to speak, and who have been connected with it all their lives.

These fish have always been a terror to the menhaden fishermen, for he knows they are as destructive to their seine as a shark to a gillnet.

Dr. William J. Fletcher, of Omaha, Neb., is the father of one of these much-read-about families. Here is what he says:

As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have, in many years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every case.

Preparations are now made for the setting of the net, the boats starting from each other and going in a circle until they meet, thus surrounding the body of fish.
