FAIRLEE NOTES.

The weather has been fine for all kind of work this week and farmers, mechanics and all have taken advantage of it. Plowing for corn is well advanced and the indications point to the shipment of asparagus from this county on the 20th of this month.

There is always work for the faithful, competent, conscientious man, whatever may be the nature of his employment. A man wanted some mechanical work done, and he waited weeks to have it done by a certain man. There were plenty of others, but the man wanted him. He knew that the work would be well done and honestly charged for. There was great satisfaction in having a man who knew what was to be done, and did it without growling and complaining and constantly wanting something he didn't have. He did his work well. His reputation for honesty, promptness, carelessness and skill was sustained by his work everywhere, therefore he was in great demand. So it is in every other trade. Efficiency, integrity and fair dealing are the things that pay. They are the capital of labor.

There were a number of windy days last week. The public and Tolchester steamers were greatly inconvenienced by the staunch craft not being able to make their landing at the beach.

The death of Capt. James Hatcherson so suddenly, visiting friends near here, was a great loss. He had many redeemable traits and was a kind-hearted citizen. He was with his son, Bartus, near Tolchester.

Miss Fannie M. Ward has been substituting in our village school this week, our teacher, Miss Nicholson, having been quite ill.

Miss Winifred Gray, daughter of Rev. S. R. S. Gray, by the advice of her physician, Dr. Frank W. Smith, was taken to Baltimore last week for treatment, accompanied by the doctor for treatment. We are glad to learn that she is getting along very nicely.

Prof. Lawrence Smyth and family, of Chestertown, spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Carrie T. Smith and brother, Richard A., in our town.

Rev. Leonard White, our pastor, preached an able sermon last Sunday morning from the words, "Behold The Man."

Mr. Gary H. Leaverton, of Southern Maryland, is visiting friends near here, as is also Master Ned Morgan, Galena.

Capt. J. B. Lewis moved with his family to Betterton this week. The Capt. has resided in this town for a number of years.

Miss Stella Cleaver, of Delaware, is spending a while with Tolchester friends, Hon. Geo. E. and Mrs. Noland.

Mr. James Bell called on village friends last Tuesday having returned from Florida a week or so ago. He says the temperature was 98° when he left and the weather here was very cold when he returned and he contracted a severe cold.

A LETTER from Worton gives the following particulars of the funeral of the late P. Sutton whose death was reported in the News last week. He is survived by a widow and five sons and two daughters. His request, that his four oldest sons and daughters' husbands should be his pall bearers was fulfilled, as all other requests were possible. The interment was at Hill and Cemetery his pall bearers being James M. John H. George E., Grover C. Sutton, J. E. Stoffer and Frank B. Dalton. It seems so strange that all the children were with him at the time of his death. Grover had taken a month's leave from Westinghouse Pittsburgh shops and John W. was at Millington Conference otherwise these two in particular couldn't have been with him as they were on account of being so far from home John W. being stationed in West Virginia.

Look for Jefferson's Easter advertisement.

Mr. W. W. Kendall was among us last Sunday.

Wonder what's got Charley Smith? The spring fever that was in evidence prior to last week? If so, shake it off Charley, and come down among us.

Too many fishermen in our waters is spoiling the industry. Nets are so numerous that they interfere with one another, besides, boats passing to and fro are playing havoc with nets. One fellow, however, is undaunted. He has a very small net easily handled by himself and gets about as many fish as any crew of two or more men. Some of the men are laying for him, and if spotted he will likely locate at Jessups Cut or go to Harry Jones Looker and hunt for McGinty.

Arbor Day was interestingly observed here by the High School. Numerous persons also observed the spirit of the day by planting trees and shrubbery on their home property.

The shell of Prof. J. A. Greenwood's new dwelling is rapidly nearing completion. It is going to be a staunch and commodious house and will have more light and sunshine than is usually allotted dwellings. My! how "we uns" are looking forward with happy anticipations to the time when all is finished, and the professor and madame move into the new quarters. Some of the warm scenes take place.

A rural route inspector was following close on the heels of Carrier Clayton on Tuesday's delivery taking notes of the route, etc.

This fine reported in last week's News as having been collected by Magistrate Frank Wilkins was an error as Mr. Wilkins has not yet been sworn into office. It was imposed by the Queen Anne's justice.

The sale of the "Ayers" farm, near Rock Hall, will take place SATURDAY, APRIL 18.

The Ladies Improvement Society of Wesley Chapel will hold a supper at Miss Mamie Wickes' on Friday April 24th.

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

The quotation "In The Midst of Life we are in Death" is being most sorrowfully verified in this community. Not only has the well-beloved Capt. J. Hatcherson east of the mooring lines upon very short notice and launched out in the sea of eternity leaving an aching void in the hearts of wife and children, and sincere regret among a host of friends and relatives since the last budget went in, but Mrs. Thomas E. Sewell, a most estimable lady of this place, was very suddenly called from earth away on Thursday evening of last week.

Mrs. Sewell was a consistent Christian, a loving wife and fond mother, and true friend. She was never happier than when she was ministering with others in their sickness and sorrows, which endeared her to a large number of our people. She was long a member of the Methodist Church and delighted to labor with the ladies in the church work whenever the cares of home life would permit. She was about 62 years of age. Besides a husband, three daughters, Mrs. Elwood Kendall, Misses Minnie and Briele Sewell, and one son, Russell Sewell, survive her. The funeral which was very largely attended took place in the afternoon on Sunday afternoon.

Pastor J. T. Richardson officiating and Casey Bros. in charge of the funeral arrangements. The bearers were the four step-sons, Messrs. Joseph, Benjamin, Marion and Charles Sewell, and Thomas H. and Charles W. Ayers. The interment was at the cemetery. Mrs. Sewell is still in a precarious state of health, not having fully recovered from his recent severe illness.

A very large assembly greeted Rev. Mr. Richardson, our new pastor on Sunday morning, who, without any preliminary introductory apology as to his appointment to this charge or his plans or wishes for the future, he proceeded to deliver a forcible sermon on "Humility and True Hope," from the text "I Must Increase but I Must Decrease," John 3:10. The large audience was held to the closest attention and were very favorably impressed with both the sermon and the man. Mrs. Richardson has assumed charge of the Ladies' Bible Class and appears to be a most worthy successor to Mrs. Burr, the late teacher.

We were treated to the biggest kind of an April fool last week. Terrible wind, rain, snow and freezing. There was much alarm as to the safety of the fruit crop and early garden truck.

Mr. W. W. Kendall was among us last Sunday.
