SHOW ROOM UNDER VOSHELL HOUSE

SANDERS & STAYMAN CO., - Baltimore, Maryland

Represented by W. C. HURLOCK, Chestertown, Md.

This beautiful property belonging to Mrs. Annie T. Hayes, on Washington avenue, was sold on Tuesday to Mr. Philip G. Wilmer, of Chestertown, for $6,000. Mrs. Hayes sold this property in July, 1906, to Ex-Judge Charles H. Jefferson for $7,000, and in November, same year, she re-purchased the property for $7,800.

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

Palm Sunday was observed at St. John's R. C. church in the presence of a large audience. The theme of Father Heavey's discourse was 'The gift of God's only Son and the Son's gift of his own life that man might have eternal life.'

At the M. E. Church a large congregation enjoyed a fine service on the only source of peace from the words, 'Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee.'

Rev. Mr. Richardson has been elected superintendent of the Sunday School and from indications when he becomes familiar with the routine working of the school he will prove an efficient superintendent.

The envelope system for securing the pastors salary have been in use in the M. E. Church for six years but many object to using that mode preferring to deposit their payments in the plates as they are passed.

Miss Lydia U. Apsley has been placed in charge as financial secretary by the Board of Stewards and she is making a thorough canvass of envelope distribution.

Easter service will be held here tomorrow, Sunday, evening. A fine program has been prepared and as usual the case, will be joyously rendered.

A lively scene was presented on Saturday afternoon and night, throngs from far and near were constantly on the go in shopping and sight-seeing. Never was there a finer display of goods in our stores and sales were most successful.

Owing to the disabling of gasoline engines several crews of fishermen were unable to reach harbor on Saturday during the heavy wind. They took up on the bay shore between Huntingfield Point and Easton Island and then walked home.

So Mr. Brown caught the ground hog? Wonder if he is the fellow that knocks us out of our reckoning by his weather prognosticating every February? If so we are glad he is gone.

Death is still stalking about our community. One of his latest victims Mrs. John Henry Mercer who died on Sunday a. m.

Wednesday's rain coming right after so much Westerly and Northerly winds and cool weather was quite welcomed by gardeners and truckers in this section. The soil had become quite dry and garden truck was retarded in growth and sprouting.

Small bone bacon in our waters are in great abundance and are not worth the handling, consequently the fishermen simply turn them loose from the traps.

J. R. Jr., J. C. and N. M. Ryan are on the sick and disabled list this week.

Mr. Wm. T. Harrison is a delegate from the Odd Fellows Lodge here, to the 80th Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge which meets in Baltimore next Monday night.

Thirty real, live, squirming soft crabs from the Chesapeake bay—the first of the season—was received in Baltimore Wednesday morning by a commission merchant. The crabs came from the vicinity of the Rappahannock river, and are very small. Not so their price.

ORPHANS' COURT UPHHELD.

Opinion of the Court of Appeals in the Case of Augusta E. Slay vs. William W. Beck and Lewin W. Wickes, Administrators of R. D. Hynson.

The following opinion delivered by Judge Burke in the above entitled case is here published upon request of the Orphans' Court of Kent County whose actions in this case have been widely discussed:

'The question raised by this appeal is a narrow one and arises out of the following state of facts. Mr. Richard D. Hynson of Kent County died intestate in the year 1907, leaving surviving him a widow, Mrs. Emma A. Hynson, and five minor daughters. He also left a mother, Mrs. Caroline L. Hynson, and two sisters, Mrs. Rogers, a widow, and Mrs. Augusta E. Slay, the appellant in this case.

On the 24th of June, 1907, Mrs. Hynson, the widow, renounced her right to administer upon her deceased husband's estate, and requested the Orphans' Court of Kent County to grant letters of administration upon his estate to William W. Beck and Lewin W. Wickes, which was done.

Mrs. Rogers, which was done, Mrs. Rogers renounced her right to administer upon her brother's estate, and requested that letters of administration thereon be granted to her sister, Mrs. Slay; but no renunciation of her right to administer was filed by her mother, Mrs. Caroline L. Hynson.

On July 10th, 1907, Mrs. Slay filed a petition in the Orphans' Court of Kent County alleging that the grant of letters of administration to the appellees was illegal and asking that the grant of letters to them be revoked. The appellees answered this petition, and to their answer a replication was filed by the appellant.

The material and substantial averments of the petition, answer, and replication are stated in the opinion of this Court in the case of Slay vs. Beck, et al., reported in 68 Atlantic Reporter, 573. The administrators asked that certain issues of fact, raised by the pleadings, be transmitted to a Court of Law for trial, and the Court ordered that the seven issues, set out in the record of the above mentioned case of Slay vs. Beck, et al., be sent to the Circuit Court for Kent County for trial.

From that order the appeal in that case was taken. Upon that appeal this Court decided: first, that the widow of the deceased was first entitled to administer upon the estate of her deceased husband; secondly, upon her renunciation the right to administer devolved upon his widowed sister, Mrs. Rogers; thirdly, upon her renunciation Mrs. Slay was entitled to letters of administration. Except for the issues of fact raised by the appellants answer to Mrs. Slay's petition and her replication thereto it would have been the duty of the Orphans' Court to have revoked the letters of administration granted to the appellees, because, in the absence of such facts, they were not entitled to administer upon the deceased's estate.

But if it were, in fact, true that Mrs. Hynson's renunciation was validly exercised, that Mrs. Slay had renounced, or waived her right to administer upon her brother's estate; that Mrs. Rogers had renounced, and that the grant of letters to the appellees was done, as they averred in their answer, by the consent and approval of Mrs. Hynson, the mother, and with the knowledge and approval of Mrs. Slay, it cannot be doubted that they had a right to litigate with Mrs. Slay the question of the validity of their appointment.

The sole question before the Court in the former case related to the issues proper to be sent to the Court of Law for trial. The question of the legality of the appellees' appointment was not presented for our decision, and was not, in fact, determined, and the expressions used by the Court in respect to that question was not intended as an adjudication upon that subject, inasmuch as the Court directed the proper issues to be tried, and directed that the appellees should assume the burden of proof upon the trial.

For the reasons stated the order of the Orphans' Court of Kent County, dated March 4th, 1908, refusing to revoke the letters of administration granted to the appellees, and dismissing the petition of Mrs. Slay will be affirmed.

GOOD BYE, OLD FRIEND. At the joint meeting of the Republican and Democratic Editorial Associations in Baltimore last week, the Third Assistant Postmaster-General expounded the reasons for the Department's new ruling with reference to delinquent newspaper subscribers.

REPUBLICAN POLITICS.

Postmaster Harrison At Millington Heads A Losing Delegation Against Mr. Lewis Price.

Republican Primaries were held in Kent on Saturday, the liveliest contest being in Millington. Two delegations appeared at Chestertown Monday but the delegates in charge of Mr. Price were seated, while Postmaster Harrison and his followers grit their teeth and promised to get even.

Hon. J. H. Baker called the convention to order and L. Bates Russell was chosen chairman with John C. Davis, secretary.

Mr. David B. McMenamin was heartily endorsed as a delegate to the National convention, and in furtherance of his candidacy he was accorded the privilege of naming the delegates to the district convention. Mr. McMenamin named Capt. Daniel Hill, John D. Urie, J. B. Durchinal, Frank M. Miller and John C. Davis.

A mass delegation was selected for the State convention which meets in Baltimore April 30th, as follows:

Lewis P. Atwell, Lewis S. Price, Nehemiah H. Clark, James D. Moore, Charles England, Samuel J. Conly, Daniel Hill, R. R. Hill, John N. Bennett, George L. Bowers, R. Frank Rouse, John S. Owens, Alexander Mair, William H. Lambert, Frank M. Miller, J. Burton Burchinal, Cassius M. Clay, Charles S. Smith, Wilbur Eliason, David B. McMenamin, John D. Urie, John C. Davis, T. H. M. Bramble, James T. DeCourse, Caryl M. Reinhart, Azariah M. Kendall, James A. Casey, Capt. J. B. Willson, Melville R. Apsley, Alfred W. Willson, Dr. J. H. Mullen, William R. Hodges, James H. Baker, Bartus Trew, Thomas W. Trew, William T. Brown, Samuel J. Vickers, Walter T. Trew, Harrison Jenkins, Benjamin Bordley, George Thompson.

For delegates to the Congressional convention which meets at Ocean City August 6th, the following were named:

Wilbur Eliason, John C. Davis, David B. McMenamin, John D. Urie, Charles S. Smith, Samuel J. Conly, Robert R. Hill, Robert Wright, Walter S. Trew, T. H. M. Rramble, George L. Bowers.

ENDLESS CHAIN LETTER.

MESSRS. EDITORS: The "Endless Chain of Prayer" letter has again made its appearance. It comes periodically indeed, it is almost an annual.

I have seen this prayer many times in the past five or six years. It is worded different every time it comes, the mode of use changes with every new issue; sometimes the prayer is long, sometimes it is short. The person receiving it is asked to make so many copies, and to send one to each of so many persons.

It professes to be a charm against dire calamity, and it is asserted that the writer of the stated number of copies and the receiver will have great joy. The letter states that this prayer, with the conditions attached for the use of it, was sent out by Bishop Lawrence; this good bishop has declared more than once, in the public press, over his own signature, that it is a fraud and that he knows nothing about it. A year or two ago the late Bishop Seymour was made sponsor for it and he declared that he had no knowledge of it. It has also been laid at the doors of other Bishops and they have denied any knowledge of it. This letter and the prayer is the work of some crank. There is no virtue in its use in the way directed. God will indeed hear and answer prayer against calamity and all evil, if it be made in faith, reverence and the right spirit. He does not limit His answer to any set form, to be used under certain prescribed conditions, as for instance by letter through the postoffice. I trust no one will be led to believe that this is the way to avert harm. Pray by all means but not in this way.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE WINS.

Washington College defeated the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute here Saturday by 12 to 6. The home team showed marked improvement in its hitting, but its fielding at times was a little ragged.

The Baltimore boys were unable to hit Johns, who struck out 15 of them, but they braced up in the last inning and, aided by costly errors, managed to score four runs. The pitching of Johns and the batting of Crew and Cross, each making three hits, were the only features.

Score: Wash. College... 3 7 0 2 0 0 3-12r. 10h. 86. Balto. Poly... 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 4-6r. 5h. 11c. Baltimoreans and Cross; Dinning, Daltry, Plea and Callahan.
