The pulpit of the Chestertown M. E. Church was acceptably filled Sunday morning by Rev. J. M. Arters who gave a forceful talk on temperance. At night Rev. Leonard White, of Fairlee, gave a good sermon to a fair congregation.

Rev. E. L. Bunce, of Payson Street M. P. Church, Baltimore, preached two excellent sermons to fine congregations in Christ M. P. Church. The speaker had his subjects well in hand, possesses a silvery voice and delivered his discourses in a most pleasing manner.

Rev. J. R. Gaar, of St. John's Church, Baltimore, will fill the pulpit in Christ M. P. Church next Sunday morning and evening.

The proposed union of the Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Protestant Churches is occupying a great deal of attention throughout the country. Mr. Wm. B. Usilton, of Chestertown, one of the delegates at the Pittsburg M. P. Conference, in a private letter writes thus: "Today, Monday, has been the greatest day of the Conference. The visit of the M. E. Committee was a great event. It has been 30 years since our church was inaugurated and never has there been a step looking to union until today. The committee was cordially received and their speeches made a deep impression. They stated among other things that every objection raised in 1828 had been removed and that the churches were now identical in doctrine. The scene was one never to be forgotten when at the close of the addresses President Lewis handed Bishop Warren his gavel to preside while he replied: 'Then at six came the climax when the whole great audience burst out in mighty volume the hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds," etc. A reception followed and every one shook hands with the three messengers. I was delighted with each of the messengers, so much so that I can't tell which I liked best."

Daniel Baker, of Baltimore, had a resolution passed, seconded by Rev. George W. Haddaway, J. M. Gill, of Maryland and C. D. Sinkson, of New Jersey, that a deputation of three, including the president of the General Conference, be appointed to convey in person the greetings and acknowledgments of the General Conference of the Methodist Protestants to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, now in session in Baltimore, in recognition of the invitation for union of the churches which was extended.

The members of the special committee from the Methodist Episcopal Conference were so well pleased with the results of their mission that before leaving Rev. Dr. J. F. Goucher of the committee announced that upon their return to Baltimore the Methodist Episcopal Conference would act upon a proposition to send an overture requesting union to the General Conference of the United Brethren Church, which meets in Canton, Ohio, next May.

The Committee on Church Union with the Congregationalist and United Brethren Churches was appointed, consisting of one representative from each Conference delegation, with President T. H. Lewis, of Maryland, as chairman, representing the church at large. Rev. Dr. E. Little, of Chestertown, Md., was selected to represent the Maryland Conference on the committee. At 3 P. M. a delegation of 30 representing the United Brethren was received and earnest address of leading organs union with the Methodist Protestants were delivered by Bishop Thomas C. Carter, President Societies, of Oberlin University; Dr. Brane, of Reading, Pa., and Dr. Frank, of Dayton, Ohio, editor of the Religious Telescope. President Lewis, in a fitting and happy manner, replied to the addresses, all of which evoked great applause.

The News is indebted to Mr. Frank P. Cochran for a sample of his fine asparagus.

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.
