GENTS' FURNISHERS AND SHOERS.

The Crawford Shoe

Favorite of Spring

These natty Oxfords will put the finishing touch on your Spring outfit. Most Oxfords slip at the heel. Crawford will not gap or slip. There is a reason why; they are made on special lasts. An additional feature is our "slip-proof" lining, which is used in all Crawford Oxfords. This style, made on our "Skidoo" last, is proving a winner.

Quality Quality Quality

In all our several departments the air is alive with it, and as a result every article of merchandise is fairly saturated with it.

Hats and Caps, Gents Furnishings, Shoes, Clothing Made to Measure

Fit guaranteed or no sale. If you are a lover of clothes of quality place your order with us, and we will surpass even your fondest expectations.

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

Rev. Mr. Richardson treated his large congregation to an inspiring sermon on Sunday morning on the subject of "Steadfastness," his text was Eph. 6:13. The reverend gentleman manifested a warmth of heart which has not been known here before, and his address was warmly appreciated by his hearers, and no doubt this was the reason why the testimonial service of the subject was so enthusiastically received on the subject of the "old time religion."

A little off on our surmising in last issue on Jessie K.'s improvements? It's Johnny that's going to become a benedict? Well, sure enough, we had forgotten about the fascinating influence that has kept Johnny on Kent Island so much of last summer and the present Spring.

Mrs. G. T. Sewell is on the sick list and undergoing treatment by Dr. Selby, and Mr. A. Casey, an adjoining neighbor, is ministering many kindnesses to the patient which is highly appreciated by the family.

Rev. J. W. R. Surwalt, of the Baltimore Conference, will be among relatives and friends here in a couple of weeks, enjoying a well-earned vacation. This is pleasing to many of our people who know and appreciate him as a boy, playing with other boys of our town during the summer vacations. He has not been here for about three years. He is now a Presiding Elder and we all want to see him and hear him in the Elder's garb.

Butcher and provision merchant, Casey, has made a complete transformation in his store room. For room convenience and appearance it is now 'K. and Abe' and with such taking in the "the" at a lively rate.

Mr. E. E. Leary is building for tonsorial artist, Snowden Maslin, a shaving parlor adjoining Kramer's amputum. Mr. Frank W. W. Leary, we hear, will occupy the place now used as a shaving parlor by Mr. Maslin when he vacates.

With clover in bloom, wheat heading out, the atmosphere fragrant with luscious blooms, strawberries and crabs in abundance, our people seem truly grateful to the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

Messrs. M. L. Maslin, G. W. Colyer, C. H. Smith and S. E. Colyer have just returned from their annual turtling cruise and report a successful catch.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Porter, of the City, have been entertained by their relatives and friends of this place, during the past week.

A number of our residents have been taking in the M. E. General Conference. They make glowing reports of the daily sessions. Some think there is too much wrangling over politics and political juggling, and not enough evangelistic work in soul-saving.

Mr. Thos. Krammer, who has been in poor health for a long time, was in a very precarious condition early in the week. He is reported a little improved at this writing.

Mr. B. H. Coburn had a rather unpleasant experience among bees on Tuesday. While handling them they made a savage attack on him. He came out conqueror, but at considerable pain.

M. Kramer has a large new stock of Spring goods on his shelves and is doing a fine business.

Our friend, Durdin, the druggist, has purchased the Kioabalfarm, so we understand. Everybody here wishes him the greatest success in his investment.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams

Redolent with the fragrance of the beautiful flowers and filled with the joyous spirit of the occasion, the old Salem M. E. Church more than 70 years old never looked so radiant with the bright beautiful flowers banked around the chancel, and the whole interior and exterior was transformed into a perfect fairyland for the celebration on Sunday of this grand old church. Prominent men and women who have associated with the growth of the church which traces its origin back to 1808, employed extravagant expressions of praise for the splendid occasion. W. H. Spry and the rest since 1868. Perhaps one of the most satisfactory tributes of the day was the beautiful singing and eloquent sermons from the learned pastors, as the divines who assisted our pastor, Rev. C. M. Cullum, were: Dr. T. O. Crouse and Rev. C. E. Strayer, of Washington, D. C. at the whole day services. The church has been improved by painting, new pulpit furniture, carpet, etc., and the day will long be remembered.

PRETTY WEDDINGS.

A pretty home wedding took place last Wednesday evening when Miss Miriam Louise Jessop, daughter of the late George A. Jessop, of Kent county, was married to Dr. Frank Brown Hines, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. Frank Hines, of Chestertown. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's sister, Miss Laura H. Jessop, 2107 St. Paul street, Baltimore.

To the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, played by Mr. Walter W. Derr, the bridal party entered the front parlor, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Peregrine Wroth, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Messiah and a cousin of the bride.

The bride was accompanied by Mr. George Beck, by whom she was given away. She was attired in a hand embroidered gown of the Renaissance pattern, and her veil was caught with a spray of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a presentation bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. Arthur Bradley, of Chestertown, was the best man and Miss Geraldine Wilmer, a niece of the bride, was flower girl. The ushers were Messrs. Richard Gundry, Jr., and Malcolm Wilmer.

The reception, at which only the immediate families were present, following the wedding. After a tour of the North Doctor and Mrs. Hines went to their future home in Chestertown on Water street.

MARKS—DEFOUD.

A pretty wedding took place at 4323 Baltimore avenue, Philadelphia, when Miss Anna Elizabeth DeFord, formerly of Chestertown, became the bride of Mr. Eugene Neville Marks, of the late Rev. Dr. Lafayette Marks. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock and was performed by the Rev. Dr. Miller, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The bride wore a handsome white lace robe trimmed with white satin and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Fannie Edwards, of Baltimore, a cousin of the bride. She wore a Princess gown of white organdy over white tulle and carried pink sweet peas. Cadet Edwin Hall Marks, from West Point, the groom's brother, was best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Florence Heisel.

Among those present from out of town were Mr. Henry DeFord and sister, of Chestertown; Miss Lida Edwards, of Pomona, Md.; Miss Laura Edgerton, of Middletown, Del.; Mr. Alfred Myer, of Minneapolis; Mr. E. Marks and wife, Mrs. Marks, Mr. Albert Marks, Mr. J. Frank Davis and wife, of Wilmington, and others.

MILLINGTON ITEMS.

Rev. C. W. Moore spent several days in Baltimore last week attending the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church now in session in that city.

Mrs. Rosa Walls and son visited relatives in Denton and Greensboro last week.

Miss Marion Lockerman spent last Saturday and Sunday in Townsend, Del.

Mrs. C. W. Moore, who has been suffering greatly from neuralgia, is much improved.

Miss Clara Benson spent last week in Baltimore.

Mrs. Campbell aged 90 years, mother of Mrs. George Harrington, fell one day last week and dislocated her hip.

Miss Clara Bryan sustained a painful injury recently by being bitten on the hand by a cat.

Mr. William T. Jones has a curiosity in the shape of a four-legged chicken which was hatched last week.

Miss Pearl Ahern is instructing a class of young people in vocal music. Miss Ahern is a competent teacher.

Members of M. E. Sunday School and Trinity M. E. School are both making preparations for Children's Day services, to be held in the near future.

Mrs. Sallie Poor died suddenly of heart failure late Wednesday evening at her home. Mrs. Poor had been ailing for some time and was not considered ill, so her death was a great shock to her husband and friends.

PINEY NECK WAVES.

Mrs. W. V. Harris, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Leon Ardis, in Wilmington, Del.

Lawrence and Alvin Ardis, after spending a couple of weeks visiting with their grand parents, returned home to Wilmington, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hyland, who have been the guests of their brother, Mr. William Hyland, left Monday for their home in Washington.

Mr. Mark Taylor of Baltimore spent over Sunday with Mr. Romie Crouch.

Mr. Frank Price of Baltimore is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Price.

Mr. William Benton and family, who have formerly been living in Swan Creek, moved into our village and has taken possession of his property, which he has lately bought from the heirs of the late Mr. Thomas Proch.

Mr. Benj. Proch, who has been residing in Baltimore, so we are glad to have him to spend a time with us again.

Mr. John Glenn is now building a barn in place of the one that was recently burned. He is planning to have a much larger one.

Mr. James Grant, met with an accident while out in the gasoline yard of Mr. Gilmer Brydler. He seemed to be moving around the engine and his foot was pretty well torn up. Dr. Schwatka is attending him.

Mrs. Ruth Goodman and daughter, of Baltimore are guests of her mother Mrs. S. Brydler.
