Elected Successor to Bishop Coleman—Rev. Frederick J. Kinsman professor of history in the General Theological Seminary, New York, was elected Bishop of the Diocese of Delaware of the Protestant Episcopal Church, to succeed the late Bishop Coleman. The convention was held in Wilmington. Only three votes were cast against Bishop Kinsman and his election was made unanimous. Rev. Robert S. Copeland, of Baltimore, received three votes on the only ballot taken by the clergy. Rev. Dr. Frederick Joseph Kinsman has been professor of ecclesiastical history of the General Theological Seminary since 1903. He was born in Warren, Ohio, in 1839, and was educated at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and at Keble College, Oxford, England. Since then he has been master of St. Paul's School, rector of St. Martin's Church, New Bedford, Mass., and professor of ecclesiastical history at Berkeley Divinity School, Middletown, Conn. Bishop Kinsman will receive $3700 a year, that being the salary fixed by the recent special convention.

Married—A marriage license was issued in Baltimore one day the present week to Erastus C. Gladding and Christina E. Abel, of the same city. The groom is a son of Capt. S. B. Gladding, of the powerboat Laetitia Curran, which runs between Centreville and Baltimore. The groom is also associated with his father in the freighting business.

A license was issued in Baltimore, Wednesday, for the marriage of Mr. Francis G. Casey, of Sudlersville, Queen Anne's county, and Miss Bertha V. Showaere, of Baltimore.

Mr. George Vickers Hollinsworth, of Church Hill, and Miss Edna A. Price, who was teaching school at Tighman's Station were quietly married on Wednesday. The wedding ceremony was a surprise to their many friends in the county, as no one anticipated it so soon. Mr. Hollinsworth is a prosperous farmer in the upper part of the county, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Price, of Kent Island, and is quite popular in the county. They took the Pennsylvania train Wednesday afternoon for a bridal tour, and after their return will reside at Mr. Hollinsworth's home, near Church Hill.

Mr. William Denny Baxter and Miss Charlotte May Thompson, both of Kent Island, were married on Wednesday. Mr. Baxter and his bride will make their future home in Stevens road, and will reside in the new home which Mr. Baxter has recently completed.

GOVERNOR MISSED WRECK

He Had Bought Ticket To Travel On Ill-Fated Car.

If two satchels belonging to Governor Crothers had not been left by him at Camden Station Friday night it is probable that Maryland would now be grieving for the loss of her Chief Executive. Governor Crothers came within an ace of being a passenger on the trolley car in which so many were killed and hurt.

The Governor came to Baltimore from Annapolis early Friday afternoon after a long journey with the Roads Commission and left his satchels at Camden Station. He went about on several errands and after visiting friends and taking dinner at the Rennet decided to take the 6.45 Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis car to Annapolis. This is a favorite car of the Governor and he has become a regular rider on it.

As was his custom, he went to the terminal on liberty street and had purchased his ticket to get on the car when he remembered his grips were at Camden Station.

Deciding that the grips were necessary the Governor abandoned the idea of going down on the electric road and walked to Camden Station, the 6.45 car passing him on the street bound for Annapolis.

While the Governor went to Annapolis on the steam road the trolley car proceeded to its fate.

The Governor was philosophical about the matter yesterday.

"I reckon I wasn't to go just yet," he said, smilingly, and then embarked on the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis car for Annapolis.

Constable Frank Lockerman and the other officers deserve special commendation for the sharp detective work in bringing to justice the alleged perpetrators of the Walsley crime. It has been unsafe for the citizens of that neighborhood while such desperate characters were at large. The colored people who assisted in the capture of these men are also worthy of praise. It is true they did their duty, yet there are many times when they lack the courage to do this.

Mrs. S. Joyce, Clarendon, N. H., writes: "About a year ago I bought two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy. It cured me of a severe case of kidney trouble of several years' standing. It is a grand, good medicine, and I heartily recommend it. For sale by all druggists."

WEDDING BELLS

Pretty Romance of a Kent County Girl in Colorado—Senator Harper's Wedding—Announcements.

The Grand Junction Daily Sentinel, of Colorado, has the following interesting item in reference to well-known Kent countians:

A marriage which has more than a shade of romance was consummated this afternoon between two young people of this city, temporarily residents, yet not without a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

It was the marriage of Mr. Alfred A. Royce, a young civil engineer and formerly a resident here, but who spent the past year until within the last two months in old Mexico, to Miss Mamie Roberta Cochran of Colorado Springs.

Miss Cochran is one of the belles of Colorado Springs and is regarded as a most beautiful young woman. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Cochran, old-time residents of the Springs.

Mr. Royce met Miss Cochran in the Springs and they immediately proceeded to fall in love with each other. On account of the age of the bride, her parents thought that she should not become engaged, and in order to give her time to think over the marriage, sent her to Grand Junction. This, however, only proved a good trying ground for the young lovers, as Mr. Royce was well known here, and Miss Cochran had not been here long until Mr. Royce followed.

The parents seeing that the happiness of the young people was involved, finally yielded to their importunities and consented to the marriage, which took place this afternoon.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a traveling suit of Copenhagen blue, and the groom wore the conventional black. The parlor of the Berg home was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion.

Recurring to another marriage incident in the family, it proves that there is a strain of wholesome romance in the beautiful Cochran girls. A few years ago Miss Louise Cochran, one of the most beautiful girls who ever existed here, was married in a most romantic fashion in this city. She was also visiting her aunt, Mrs. George Hazel. She, too, had been sent here to keep at a distance a handsome young suitor, a young Mr. Nevins, son of the principal owner of the Chesapeake (Pa.) Dispatch.

Mr. Nevins has been married to their daughter's marriage, as she also was young; but again love laughed at the locksmiths, and young Nevins followed his sweetheart to this city and they were married.

Soon after the marriage young Nevins died on a great ranch that he owned in Routt county. Since that time Mrs. Nevins has been married to Mr. Claypool Caldwell, one of the prominent young engineers on the Moffat road. Through the death of her husband the Mrs. Nevins that was inherited a large fortune.

The young sister, who is married this afternoon, will leave with her husband on the Midland, and then they will later go to the home of Mr. Royce at Exeter, N. H., where the Royce family reside, they being old settlers and a distinguished family of that section.

Miss Mabel Price Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Valentine Bryan, of Queenstown, was married to State Senator J. Frank Harper, of Queen Anne's county, Saturday morning at Old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church by Rev. J. Wilson Sutton, assistant rector.

The ceremony was attended by only the immediate members of the families. The bride was given away by her grandfather, Mr. William J. Price, of Centreville, while Mayor's Secretary, A. S. Goldsborough, was the best man. The bride wore a traveling suit of bronze rajah silk, with hat, gloves and shoes to match, and a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley. She also wore a large pearl brooch, a gift of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony Senator and Mrs. Harper left for a three weeks Northern trip. Upon their return they will make their home at Centreville.

Senator Harper is a holdover member of the Senate. He made a good record during the last session of the Legislature.
