ROCK HALL NOTES.

From the text, "Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ," Parson Richardson preached a most excellent and timely sermon on Sunday morning before a large audience. The reverend gentleman forcibly demonstrated that putting on the Lord Jesus Christ did not stop with profession, but implied also the taking of His merit, His spirit and temper of mind. It was put on with humility, love, truth, obedience. For the present day disposition to put off so much of the Lord Jesus Christ no better sermon could have been preached. No service at the M. P. Church for the day, a goodly number of that membership were present and enjoyed Mr. Richardson's discourse.

HAND OF DEATH.

The Sad Reaper Has Called A Number To Their Last Resting Place. MRS. CHARLES ESTES. Mrs. Charles Estes, wife of Mr. Charles Estes, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. U. Lusby, Chestertown, on Thursday evening last. She had been sick for several months at her old home on Princess street and was removed to her daughter's several weeks ago so as to have her constant care, and no daughter could have given her mother more loving and faithful attention than did Mrs. Lusby. Everything was done for her comfort. She was about 61 years of age and leaves a husband, one daughter, Mrs. Annie Lusby, and three sons, James, Ollie and Fred Estes. The funeral will take place Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. The bearers will be W. A. Wheatley, Levin S. Fowler, Frank H. Howard, W. E. Russell, Chas. S. Smith, W. H. Robinson, C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

THE ONLY BIG SHOW COMING THIS YEAR CHESTERTOWN, MONDAY, AUGUST 31

FRANK A. ROBBINS NEW ALL FEATURE SHOWS A CIRCUS THAT IS A CIRCUS. The deceased was born in Kent county, Delaware, December 7th, 1849, his parents being John E. and Hesteria Hurluck. Early in life he adopted agriculture as his chosen avocation and was eminently successful, being possessed at the time of his death of a large and valuable estate. He was a charter member and director of the Queen Anne's National Bank of Centreville, and that institution owes much of its success to his able advice while serving on the board of directors. Always prominent in matters for the advancement of the community, he had by his public-spirited interest in the welfare of others left behind him a name greatly endeared himself to all who knew him. His death is a sad blow to the community.

THE DIVE OF DEATH

Mr. Elwood Robinson died on Wednesday evening last about 10 o'clock at his home near Sassafras. Mr. Robinson had only been sick for two or three days suffering from that dreaded disease typhoid fever in the most malignant form when it was learned he was dead, it was a severe shock to his many friends. Mr. Robinson was one of Kent's most successful and reliable farmers, a most genial gentleman, and a kind-hearted christian man. He leaves a devoted wife and five children, two sons Harry and Morgan, one little son and two little daughters. The funeral was private, not even his parents being present. Mr. Robinson was only in his 43rd year. His brother, Frederick Robinson, was with him until he died. He did not seem final of the disease and nursed his brother until the end.

FRENCH FLORAL PARADE

OUR readers will be pleased to learn that a well-known former resident of Chestertown, Mr. E. H. Eliason, is the general manager of The Fairfield Manufacturing Company, of Philadelphia, who are now advertising their separate preparations for farm animals in this paper. Mr. Eliason was induced to associate himself with this company because of the wonderful results he secured by using the Fairfield remedies, as great results have also been secured by Mr. McMenamin, Mrs. M. A. Wilkins, Mr. Cornelius C. Brown and Mrs. Wilbur Eliason. These goods are sold under a written guarantee by Davis & Satterfield, of Chestertown.
