Live Local Notes.

The Japanese Tea and Flower Show at the home of Mrs. H. H. Barroll was a grand success yesterday. It will be concluded today. All are welcome. The proceeds are for benefit of Chestertown Improvement Association.

Contract Awarded.—The County Commissioners Tuesday awarded the contract for a new bridge over the stream near West Creek school to J. T. Pippin for $715. The other bidders were J. A. Myers, 775; Marion Coleman, $800.

Telephone Changes.—Mr. J. H. Nichols, of Port Deposit, has been recalled to Chestertown as superintendent of the Telephone Company here, and Mr. Earle Lathrop has been charged to the telephone department with headquarters at Dover. All new contracts will be made at the rate of $24 for house phones and $36 for office phones.

Tomato Yields.—A fine crop of tomatoes averaging 10 tons to the acre, was raised on the farm of John I. Lockwood, near Chestertown, Md., by the use of the shippers from Gale's and Buck Neck averaged about 15 tons to the acre on six and ten acres. Broad Neck farmers also picked ten and twelve tons to the acre. Mr. Jacob Shirley says he had to leave at least five tons unpicked because of no market.

Appointed to Position.—Marion Dawson, a Cheswold farmer, has arisen to sudden fame for a Delaware farmer. Mr. Dawson, during the last year, has devoted much of his time to organizing granges of the Patrons of Husbandry, chiefly because he became attached to the order since joining the Rural Grange at Cheswold. He kept at it during the past year, until he had set up twenty-six granges of most desirable membership and in thrifty farming communities on the Delaware-Maryland peninsula. Mr. Dawson was surprised on returning to his home to take up his regular duties, to find a telegram from the National Master appointing him a Deputy National Master, assigning him to permanent work as an organizer throughout the United States, beginning in Wisconsin on Monday, and at a fine salary.

Announcements.—Mrs. Mollie F. Crew, of Betterton, has issued invitations to the wedding of her son, Leonard M. Crew, to Miss Emma M. Simpler, of Baltimore, to take place on Wednesday, Nov. 4, at the home of Mrs. Crew.

The engagement was announced Saturday of Miss Edna Dick, daughter of estate Auditor George H. Dick, and Robert D. Hoffecker, editor and publisher of the Smyrna Times. The date for the wedding is not given.

The marriage of Miss Anne H. Stam, daughter of Mr. A. H. Stam, of Chestertown, and Dr. R. S. Hooker, of Philadelphia, is announced to take place Nov. 14, 1908, in the country. Mr. and Mrs. William T. Lawton gave a beautifully arranged luncheon Wednesday afternoon at their home, 1645 Park Street, from 3 to 6 P. M., at the residence of their daughter, Miss Henrietta T. Lawton, to Mr. John Thomas Morris, formerly of Kent, Mr. Morris is the son of Mrs. Lydia Morris, of St. Inigoes, St. Mary's county, and belongs to a well-known family. He was graduated from the law school of the University of Maryland in 1901 and was later admitted to the bar. He is now a practicing attorney in Baltimore.

The Jamestown Morning Post, New York, says: "Mrs. William F. Endress and Mrs. Thomas C. Peterson entertained yesterday afternoon from 3 to 6 P. M., at the Endress residence, 500 Pine Street, in honor of Mrs. Peterson's sister, Miss Rebecca Van Buren Wright of Chestertown, Md. The reception was attended by a large number of ladies. The handsome residence further beautified for the occasion with sunflowers, autumn foliage, gladioli, asters and ferns, in great profusion and artistic arrangement. Among the guests were Mrs. Peterson, daughter of Samuel L. Wright, of Chestertown, Md., to whom the bride is to be married; Mrs. Endress, son of Colonel and Mrs. William F. Endress, was announced. A pleasant feature of the reception was music by Beat's Orchestra. A dainty luncheon was served in the serving room, which was trimmed in green and white.

Among the guests were Mrs. W. H. Lowry and daughter, of Buffalo, who were also members of the receiving party."

CHURCH NOTES.

Cupid Disrupting Schools.—Blaming the scarcity of school teachers upon the many marriages that have taken place among them in Delaware the last year, many school boards are vainly searching for instructors with which to continue their winter terms. Last week the Lewes Board decided to enlarge the school, divide certain grades and engage another teacher. But this week they found that they could not find a teacher in the county who was open to an engagement. Several were approached, but all declined with embarrassing smiles, hinting that they would not be at liberty to teach a month or so from now, and that it was needless to take the place only to stop when the marriage license was issued.
