Live Local Notes.

Big Corn.—Mr. Harry Holt at Masses has one of the biggest corn yields in Kent, his crop averaging about 90 bushels to the acre.

Mr. R. G. Nicholson, near Chestertown, harvested 74 bushels per acre of 40 acres.

Horse Sold.—"Prodigal Son," a bay horse formerly owned by Rev. W. L. Habbert, of Ridgeley, stepped a mile in 2.16 at Trenton last week. Mr. George Satterfield, of Townsend, sold him for $900 at Gentlemen's Driving Park last week. Mr. S. has an unknown quantity which is said to go a half mile in 1.04!

Accidents.—The game season opened last Monday. T. D. France and J. E. Ferguson killed 15 rabbits. While on their way to visit friends at Cecilton the king bolt of their carriage fell out and both men were thrown headlong into the road. Mr. Ferguson was dragged some distance but was not seriously hurt. Mr. Chas. Hill kindly helped the gentlemen and loaned them a carriage to continue their journey.

Changed Hands.—Mr. and Mrs. Keene, proprietors of the Postoffice House, have disposed of their tenancy, furniture, &c., to Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Beaumont, of New York. The transfer is to take place next Monday. The retiring managers have had a most successful term and the house to-day has an enviable reputation. Beaumont has been occupying the Burchinal house, near Mr. J. D. Urie's home, and is fully competent to serve the public.

Husks Layman's Corn.—Rev. G. R. McCready, the muscular pastor of fine physique and progressive methods, of Milton Methodist Protestant Church, bearing the official board, went to the home of John Conaway, a fellow member who had been analyzing and husked the entire crop of corn in his corn field. Concluding their task late at night the pastor and people brushing the dust from their clothing as best they could, under the farm pump, had a short religious service, including a talk on "Practical Christianity."

Bottom Dropped Out.—Agent Tunis and assistants at the Adams Express office had a lively time Thursday morning as they were preparing to meet the 8:30 northbound train. The last thing to be loaded on the wagon was a sugar barrel full of eels, and when it was raised the bottom came out. Instantly Lookerman Street was covered by about a million living, wriggling, slippery eels. It was quite a task to keep the eels, which resemble snakes so much, from escaping, let alone replacing them in the barrel. A large crowd gathered and it was quite a while before the job was completed.

Announcements.—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young, of Washington, D. C., announce the approaching marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Lillian Elizabeth Young, to Mr. J. Leo McKimber, of Washington, D. C. The wedding will take place Wednesday, November 11th, with nuptial mass at St. John's Catholic Church, Rock Hall.

The wedding of Miss Josephine Wickes, daughter of Hon. Joseph A. Wickes, of Chestertown, and Dr. Thomas H. Wilkins, of Portsmouth, Va. is announced to take place at Emmanuel Church next Thursday, November 5th, 1908. No cards in the county.

A Worthy Cause.—The notices sent to the tax-payers and citizens of Chestertown by the Volunteer Fire Company asking for a contribution to remodel the present fire house and equipment for the fire fighters is a worthy cause and we as citizens of the town will all agree as they may feel able as every penny collected will be spent in the improvement of their own public property as well as giving our town up-to-date fire service. Members of the Volunteer Fire Company will call upon you in the early part of next week and we hope they may meet with such success as will give them encouragement to go on with the good work. The books of the Treasurer will be open to the public and all the names of the subscribers made public.

Halloween Today.—Halloween, the witchcraft season of the year, will occur today, and to the superstitious maiden and youth, many a fate will be decided. Sweethearts will watch very intently how the chestnuts burn in the fire, and girls will look carefully in the glass while they eat the apple to see if any face will be appearing therein. In Maryland and Virginia, more particularly than in the other states of the Union, the day is devoted to sports and practical jokes. In the country towns the small boy will remove gates, will gleefully put the ticktacks on the windows, or will throw corn against the door and windows. Halloween is the eve of All Saints Day, and it takes its origin from the fact that it is the anniversary of the last day on which the Roman gods were allowed, by law, to be worshipped in Rome. On All Saints' Day the beginning of the Christian religion as the state religion of Rome is marked. Halloween has nothing churchly about it, and seems to be a relic of pagan times, or perhaps, of medieval superstitions. In Scotland and England and in some parts of America, it is regarded as the time of all others when supernatural influences prevail, and as a night set apart for a universal walking abroad of spirits, both of the visible and invisible world.

DOWNNEY—CHERRY.

Miss Bessie Cherry, of Norfolk, and Mr. Stanley R. Downey, of Baltimore, but formerly of Rock Hall, were married last Thursday afternoon at the parsonage of E. Pendleton Jones in Hampton, Va. Mr. Downey, who is connected with a clothing establishment in Baltimore, will make a six weeks' trip through North and South Carolina and Virginia, after which he will return to Baltimore with his bride. After a brief stay in the Monumental Hotel the couple will go to Hagerstown, Md., where they will make their home.

The Easton Ledger has been sold by Messrs. Price and Pardee to Mr. Beverly N. Sparks, associate city editor of the New York Herald and reporter for the Baltimore American and Pittsburg Times, for $5,500. Mr. Sparks will assume charge November 1st. Editor J. S. E. Pardee will engage extensively in the moving picture show business, and beginning next week will have his performances in Music Hall instead of the Market House.
